EISENHOWER SINKS, FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Former President Dwight D, Eisenhower battled for his life Saturday night with the help of drugs, oxygen and electrical stiumulation of his failing heart. Docotrs said his condition was critical but had stabilized.

The 77-year-old five-star general suffered four incidents of irregular heart activity since his seventh heart attack Friday. His physicians at Walter Reed Army Medical Center said this caused them "incresing concern" for his condition.

But at 10 p.m. Saturday, reported that since their last medical bulletin in midafternoon, Eisenhower's heart rhythm has been more stable."

"HE REMAINS alert and is resting comfortably," they said. But they cautioned against optimism over the former President's prospects for recovery from his fourth heart attack in less than four months.

"His underlying condititon remains critical," the doctors said.

The next medical bulletin, barring a sudden change in the situation, will be issued at 10 a.m. Sunday. Eisenhower was joined at his bedside in Walter Reed's presidential suite by his wife Mamie, his son John and his grandson David, who flew in from California where he had been staying with his fiancee. Julie Nixon. David was accompanied by his sisters. Barbara Anne and Susan forces to victory in Europe in World War II and who became known as "Ike," the American hero to millions around the world, was attended by a medical team that included retired Army Brig. Gen. Thomas Maltingly, who has been inlimately involved with Eisenhower's cardiac troubles since his first heart attack 13 years ago.

The man who led allied

The doctors were concerned particularly about the minor seizures, all involving irregular heart beats. The last occurred at 3:05 p.m. Saturday.

DURING the first two episodes, they said, Eisenhower lapsed briefly into unconsciousness but rallied immediately with the help of electrical stimulation. They said he remained alert, with no evidence of brain damage.

At 4 p.m., the doctors reported: "The general is fully lucid, is conversant and has shown no signs of menreceiving intravenous and small oral feedings.

They said further that Eisenhower was receiving oxygen continuously through a nose tube and that his heart activity was being monitored constantly by an electrocardiograph.

Asked whether a clergyman was present, they replied in writing - as they have in response to all in-quires: "Clergymen have been in intermittent attendance throughout the general's long illness."

The four incidents of

"ventricular fibrillation" or twitching of the heart muscle occurred during the 27 hours following Eisenhower's latest heart attack.

The head of the attending medical team is Col. Robert J. Hall, chief Walter Reed cardiologist. Others include Lt. Col. Julius Bedynek, assistant chief of cardiology; Col. Robert Moser, chief of the center's Department of Medicine, and Col. Ramond Blohm, assistant chief of

Q. Some 17 years ago while I was in the Air Force stationed in the Philippine Islands, I had a Capt. Borman as a senior pilot. I believe his first name was Frank. Could that pilot possibly be the Frank Borman who is now commander of the third manned Apollo crew? J.B.B., Carson

A. You probably did serve under astronaut Col. Frank Borman, said Milton Reim, public information officer for the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Texas. Borman served in various fighter squadrons in the Philippines from 1951 to 1956. He entered the Air Force in 1950, upon graduation from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, and took pilot's training at Williams Air Force Base in California. Before the Apollo assignment, Borman together with Navy Lt. Comdr. James Lovell spent a record 14 days in space aboard Gemini 7.

Q. Is there someone I can contact about the mistreatment of a child in my neighborhood? During the past several days, I've had to close my windows and turn up the radio to drown out the mother's screams and threats and the child's cries. I cannot listen to it any longer. Mrs. F.P.R. Bellflower.

A. The problem is being resolved. ACTION LINE contacted the Los Angeles County Community Protective Service, which gathers information on these referrals and makes evaluations. Janice Fast, who is substituting for director Marian Peterson, sent a social worker out to talk with you. Miss Fast has now informed us that the social worker evaluated the situation. The child is mentally retarded, and the mother has a difficult time handling her. A social worker and a public health nurse will work with the family to ameliorate the problem. Bettors Take Beating on 67

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (UPI) - They drew another round of winning tickets in the Italian state lottery Saturday, but number 67 did not come up. Government ministers signed in relief. Thousands of bettors took a beating.

But odds were the professional and amateur gamblers who have been syndicating by the thousands to het on number 67

Word is flashing through the countryside that number 67 has not come up for 125 weeks now. Odds are getting topheavy it must win soon.

Betting rates have grown so intense on 67 that the government stands each week to lose millions of dollars on the payoff. Finance Minister Mario Ferrari Aggradi grew so concerned he announced earlier this week he would reform the state lottery in an unspecified way.

The government, in the interim, tried psychological plays. It assured the public 125 weeks was no record and that the number 8 didn't appear in the Rome drawings for 202 weeks from 1937 to 1941.

Bolivian Claims CIA Link Prague Editors Ordered

Antonio Arguedas Mendietta, former Bolivian interior minister and chief of intelligence, returned Saturday to La Paz and said that for three years he had been forced to act as an agent of the United States Central Intelligence Agency.

Arguedas, who two months ago smuggled to Cuba a copy of the battle diary of Ernesto (Che) Guevara, was taken into custody as soon as his flight arrived from Lima, Peru, but he was permitted to talk to reporters.

The return of Arguedas to answer for passing the Guevara diary to Cuba ended almost a month of flight for the former minister. He disappeared from his office here July 19, apparently aware the government had discovered his act.

Arguedas fled initially to Chile and then visited London, New York and Lima before returning to Bolivia. At one point, he was offered asylum in Chile and in Cuba.

By his act, the former interior minister set off a political crisis in Bolivia that has culminated in the resignation of the cabinet of President Rene Barrientos Ortuno. The president has declared a partial state of siege after rioting. The trial of Arguedas is expected to heighten the political tension.

Describing how the CIA recruited him, Arguedas said: "First it was a matter of interviews, then interrogations, and finally sessions in which electronic instruments and truth drugs were used."

Once he convinced the CIA he was not a Communist, he was assigned intelligence duties, said Arguedas. He claimed he was paid $6,500 for his afternoon. Kirk ordered Salisbury, About one-third state agencies to reinforce the county and city enforcement departments, and placed a National Guard unit on alert.

City Manager Lynn Andrews, given special powers under an emergency ordinance adopted by the City Council, ordered all liquor outlets closed during the weekend and banned the sale of gasoline in containers. The ban on gasoline was intended to curtail the use of firebombs, authorities said.

Police and sheriff's deputies used tear gas several times to end the morning violence.

Eight stores were burned, seven damaged by rocks, bottles and bricks and four cleaned out by looters police said.

In other areas:

An 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew was clamped on Owensboro Ky., and surrounding Daviess County Saturday night in an effort to avoid repetition of civil disorders which broke out early Saturday morning.

Some 200 Kentucky National Guardsmen were ordered to stand by and state, county and city police were alerted.

In Cincinnati, two white men were charged with murder Saturday in the slaying of a negro woman, and a negro youth lay critically wounded from a police bullet in the wake of Cincinnati's second racial disorders this year.

Six arrests were recorded during Friday night, four negro youths on assault charges and the two white men in the murder case.

Members of the Avondale Community Council Saturday obtained a warrant for the arrest of the police officer who shot the Negro boy: The warrant charged patrolman Robert Jahnigan with shooting with intent to kill.

The National Guard was alerted following the sniping, rock and bottle throwing and some looting, and remained Saturday on

In Salisbury, Md., about 60 to 75 young negroes marched a quartermile along U.S. 50 Saturday to protest a suspended policeman being kept on the city payroll.

There were no incidents in the 30-minute march.

At Benton Harbor, Mich., the assistant manager of a service station, Donald Anderson, 32, was charged with shooting at a depart-ing car filled with Negro youths. One of them suffered five pellet wounds in the neck and head.

The mayor's commission on civil disorder of Kansas City, reporting Saturday on its investigation of April rioting, said it found evidence of white racism, and that a "large majority, consciously or unconsciously do believe in the concept of white superiority.'

The commission made 43 recommendations for harmonious relationship among people of the city.

closed down. Is there any way she can redeem them or get her money back? Mrs. B.B., Cypress.

A. The stamps are worthless, explained John Booker, corporate counsel for the California Division of Corporations, 1460 Mission St., San Francisco. The Thrifty Green Stamp Co. closed almost two years ago because of financial difficulties. According to California law, such a company must hold a $150,000 bond to assure redemption of its stamps. After the company folded, a claim period was announced for customers to redeem their stamps and claim their value. This claim period ended in March of 1967. Claims far exceed the bond value, and a proration of funds will be necessary. Booker said legal action is now pending against the bonding company to recover the bond. When the bond money is recovered, a bank will issue checks to

This Old House Party

Q. Can you explain how Art Linkletter can take long trips to Australia and Europe and still appear on his House Party each day? E.M.A., Long Beach.

A. The House Party show is tapped two weeks to one month in advance, said Lee Ray, Linkletter's secretary. "Sometimes, we tape two and three shows a day," she explained. "We also have other little advance taping tricks up our sleeves which allow Linkletter to take a month or two off at a time for his tours," she added. Linkletter has been hosting the daily House Party for more than 20 years.

SOUND OFF!

I am angered by the Long Beach Board of Education's flippant attitude toward the released-time church education program. I am tired of the pressure the school board exerts on this community. Now, after 24 years, they decide to cut the program from 60 to 40 minutes, They will also penalize the children who do attend the religious classes by allowing teachers to introduce new material while they are away. Our children are now so spiritually ignorant that it is a disgrace in our country which was founded by God fearing people. Mrs. M. R., Long Beach.

Sweden May Expel 2 GI Deserters

STOCKHOLM (UPI) -Sweden may expel two American servicemen who found asylum here and then attended a Communist youth festival, political sources said Saturday.

They said the case of Allan Shapiro, 19, of Marshall, Minn., and William C. Jones, 20, of St. Louis, Mo., may affect the treatment accorded scores of GIs who have fled to Sweden to escape or protest duty in

Shapiro and Jones flew to Bulgaria two weeks ago to attend an international Communist youth festival and returned on a Polish airliner Friday night. Airport police refused them permanent reentry visas and gave them papers allowing them to stay in Sweden only through Wednesday.

By then the Aliens Commission, which handles the GIs, is expected to rule whether the pair might resume their asylum.

"I don't know where to go if I will be expelled," Jones told UPI at Stockholm's Arlanda International Airport.

Jones is chairman of a group calling itself the Deserters American Committee (ADC).

Would they join the GIs in asylum in France? "We cannot tell yet. We hope the Aliens (Commission) decision will be in our favor and that we can stay in Sweden," Shapiro said.

Sweden has granted asylum to the GIs despite diplomatic frowns from the U.S. government. But Swedish authorities had warned Jones and Shapiro they would not get reentry garia. They went anyway, at the Communist festival's

"The struggle of the Vietnamese people is more important to us than our stay here," Jones and Shapiro said in a joint

Last month Sweden expelled two GIs, William D. Woodkey, 26, of Monica, Calif., and Yugoslav-born U.S. citizen Josip Ivanov, for violating asylum rules by taking part in political activity.

Grapes Floating in Boston Harbor

BOSTON (AP) - Some 400 persons - including politicians, priests, and nuns - threw grapes into Boston Harbor at the site of the Boston Tea Party Saturday in protest against California grape growers' alleged refusal to grant union recognition to striking grape pickers.

Some of the marchers carried signs reading: "Don't Buy California Grapes," and "Squeeze Grapes Not Work-

Cesar Chavez, national chairman of the United Farmworkers Organizing Committee (AFL-CIO), said the demonstration was part of what is going to be the "biggest boycott in the history of the labor movement."

Among the marchers were City Councilman Gerry O'Leary and Thomas Boylston Adams of Lincoln, a candidate for Congress.

The protest march came in the wake of Mayor Kevin H. White's directive to all city agencies to stop buying California table grapes because of the farmworkers strike. The union has been seeking recognition since 1965.

Eisenhower Alert, Rests Comfortably

PRESIDENT Johnson was kept informed of developments at his Texas ranch. An aide said he believed Johnson had sent a message to the Eisenhower family.

In a mid-morning bulletin, Eisenhower's doctors reported that in the 17 hours after his seventh heart attack at 1:25 p.m. Friday, the general was afflicted twice by rapid irregular heat action. He lost consciousness both times but was quickly revived with the help of electrical stimulation.

"Drug therapy to control the heart irritability has been continued," Army doctors reported at 3 p.m.

He is "alert and has no evidence of brain damage," they reported.

But, the doctors added, "the occurrence of these episodes of irregular heart action is of increasing concern of his physicians.

Eksenhoer's battle for his life took place on the fourth floor suite of a 30-year-old brick wing of the hospital complex reserved for distinguished U.S. officials.

The ex-president's doctors also reported that Eisenhower "is receiving continuous medication directed at maintaining normal heart rhythm" and "has received oxygen continuously."

the Department of Med- HIS SUITE, the bulletin noted, "Is fully equipped to handle all medical confingencies."

The announcement said that members of Eisenhower's immediate family are staying at the hospital and that Mrs. Eisenhower "visits at the bedside frequently in response to the general's

The initial announcement Friday said that Elsenhower had suffered his second serious attack in 11 days and his fourth since April 29 when he was stricken while on a golfing vacation in California.

A fifth attack occurred at the hospital on June 15 and a sixth on Aug. 6 a few hours after he had taped a televised speech to the Republican National Convention.

Eisenhower's history of heart trouble began on Sept. 24, 1955, when he sustained a massive attack while taking a vacation from the White House in Denver. While still president, he also suffered an ileitis attack which required intestinal sugery and then was hit by a mild stroke.

His second and third heart attacks came on Nov. 8 and 11, 1965, while he was in Augusta, Ga.

In addition, Eisenhower has undergone a gallbladder operation and has been hospitalized osteoarthritis and a urinary

DDOX BIG HIT...IN 'MADDOX COUNTRY

New York Times Service

ATLANTA - Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia, invoking God and talking enthusiastically of mira-cles, announced Saturday he would seek the Demoderatic presidential nomination to represent the "conservative element of American society.'

A high school band played the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," Sweating photographers manuevered for good angles of the hald, beaming governor. About 200 supporters waved printed placards proclaiming: "This Is Maddox Country."

"We have waited and waited and waited." Maddox said during a 23-minute speech that was televised nationally. "Many of us have prayed, But the void (in the Democratic Party) has remained unfilled."

The governor, who has scored the party's major candidates as "socialists," said in offering himself to the nation that he would campaign for the nominawith all possible vigor and determination."

He asserted later that "at least 150 million Ameri-

Nevertheless, the Mnddox effort was dismissed by some with open laughter or downright embarrassment, as little more than the sort of one-man crusade for which the governor had long displayed a consider-

Informed sources estimated that Maddox could count on no more than half the 43-vote delegation from Georgia, if that. They also noted that some Democrats who might support him were threatened by serious challenges.

For example, several of the Alabama delegates who back the third-party movement of George C. Wallace might vote for the governor, but their projected disloyalty to the national party might cost them their Observers here and elsewhere in the South estimated that Maddox now holds only about 50 or 60 votes at the most. Today's announcement, a party offi-cial observed, "didn't start too much of a stampede."

The governor is regarded in many circles as an ineffective administrator with little real influence in the state's bureaucracy or in its legislature, and his decision to run was often met with incredulity.

"I'm ecstatic," said a member of the state house of representatives who asked to remain anonymous. Then, after a lengthy pause, the lawmaker added: "I'm also moving to South

The Atlanta constitution, in an editorial published earlier this week entitled "Maddox for President," remarked that at least Maddox was better known than Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, the Republican vice presidential nominee.

"Gov. Lester Maddox's decision to give himself to the nation has its cheering aspects," the newspaper declared wryly. "George will have to manage without him if he wins the presiden-

Behind the surprise and derision there was talk of some sort of secret arrangement with Wallace. The Georgia governor could hope to embarrass the Democrats with a demonstration of conservative strength.

Maddox has repeatedly demonstrated his love for the limelight, and some attributed his announcement as a grab for more television time at the convention.

Maddox Is No Threat, Foes Agree

Associated Press

Both Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy said Saturday that Gov. Lester Maddox would not be a serious threat to their chances for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But Sen. George S. Mc-Govern, a late entry into /what is now a four-way race, said the Georgia governor's candidacy "will tend to push our party in quite a different direction."

Former Albama Gov. George Wallace Saturday pronounced the chances of Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox getting the Democratic presidential nomination as virtually nil.

Reagan Proposes Teen 'Drug Abuse Councils'

Gov. Ronald Reagan pro-posed Saturday that "drug abuse councils" be formed in California junior and senior high schools "to head off the wholesale poisoning of our youth."

In a statement issued by his office, the governor said his plan would utilize community resources "to cope with our growing narcotics problem."

Reagan proposed the councils be established by parent-teacher groups with the aid of county medical societies and law enforcement agencies which already have endorsed the

Agnew Defends His Teaspoon-Sized Part Culprit in Record on Rights F-11-A Crashes

By AL EISELE

SAN DIEGO - Republican vice-presidential nominee Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, attempting to answer persistent doubts about his civil rights record, strongly defended it Saturday as "one of th contstanding records in the country."

However, he admitted that he is going to have to prove his claim in the coming campaign before the country's Negro community will support him.

Both Agnew and the GOP presidential nominee, Richard Nixon, spent the last full day of their nineday work and relaxation retreat concentrating on possible solutions to the problems of the nation's major urban centers, where they expect the November election will be won or lost.

WASHINGTON - A broken weld in a six-inch bit of metal - no longer than a teaspoon - almost certainly caused the loss of the last four F-111-A fighter-bombers.

This is now the consensus among Air Force officials and military commanders concerning the controversial "swing-wing" fighter interceptor. Development of the F-111 over the last five years, plus the 90 planes delivered so far to the Air Force or undergoing trials, have cost the United States approximately $8 billion. The fly-away cost per plane is approximately $6 million.

Since the beginning of the F-111 program in 1962-63 eight planes — including one U.S. Navy version — have crashed. The last four crashes — three in Thailand on March 28 and 30 and April 22 plus one near Las Vegas on May 8 — led to the temporary grounding of all F-11i-As.

After exhaustive examination of all the pieces recovered from the Las Vegas crash plus interrogation of crews who ejected safely from the second crash in Thailand and from the Las Vegas disaster, civilian and military leaders of the Air Force are confident they have detected in one tiny bit of metal the cause of the crashes.

As a result, since June 13, all F-111-As - including the remaining five of the eight originally sent to Thailand - have resumed flying. Air Force authorities now say they are confident the plane will prove its worth as the world's most advanced fighter-bomber.

The faulty part is known as the "rod end assembly for the horizontal tail hydraulic servo-actuator." It is manufactured by the Bendix Corporation.

Nixon, speaking at a luncheon meeting of the group, predicted a "land-slide victory" for Republicans in California this year and urged the party leaders to support the entire GOP

The group met for about four hours in the morning and afternoon during Nixon's last full day at the Mission Bay resort where he has planned his national campaign strategy for the last nine days since winning the Republican nomination in Miami Beach,

James Halley, state Republican chairman from San Mateo, said the group represented all segments of the party leadership and included the national committeeman and committeewoman, U.S. senatorial candidate Dr. Max Rafferty, and state Legislative leaders, as well as Lt. Gov. Robert Finch, a Nixon campaign leader.

Halley predicted that Nixon will carry California in November, and that his presence at the head of the GOP national ticket will help elect Rafferty and also give the GOP control of the state's congressional delegation and the two houses of the state legislature,

Demo Platform Hassle Looms Over Viet Issue

By BAXTER OMOHUNDRO From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON - A committee the size of a symphony orchestra Monday will begin trying to create a harmonious platform for the Democratic National Convention.

But the process will be as cacaphonous as an early Spike Jones rendition, especially on the divisive Vietnam issue.

Meeting in the ballroom of the Statler Hilton Hotel here and then moving to Chicago's International Amphitheatre, the 110-person platform committee will hear opposing Vietnam platform views that prohbably presage a bitter fluor fight at the convention next.

SUIT

Coat and Slacks in the Store.

Within the committee, the battle will boil down to whether it will submit a broad plank that merely advocates peace in Vietnam or one with specifics that would be embarassing to President Johnson.

* * * * ALTHOUGH the committee chairman is hawkish Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the House Democratic Whip, some 40 of its members are dovish backers of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the late Sen, Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. George Mc-Govern.

Boggs, named as chairman by the executive committee of the Democratic Central Committee, is expected to press for a highly generalized Vietnam plank that would be acceptable to

Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

The 40 surely will try for a plank that, in the words McCarthy last week, "recognizes the failures of past policy." Such a plank would spell out an end to the bombing of the North, formation of a new Siagon government to include the National Liberation Front and a gradual phase-out of U.S. military commitment.

These basic points were included in platform suggestions agreed upon last week by the Coalition for an Open Convention, a group of McCarthy and Kennedy supporters organized two weeks ago, and a statement issued to delegates by the Americans for Democratic Action.

THE END of the bombing point was missing from a Vietnam plank summary issued Thursday by McCarthy, and its absence suggests a suspicion that the president would order a bombing halt before the convention to help defuse the issue.

The coalition position was to have been presented to the committee by Mc-Govern, but his new status as a full-fledged candidate probably will result in a substitution - likely either Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa or Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh of Humphrey's stand probably will be spelled out by Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, a co-chairman of the vice president's campaign organization. McCarthy's spokesman had not been decided by Saturday, but aides doubted that he would do it himself.

STAFF members for Boggs and the national committees last week were hopeful that the issue could be thrashed out by the platform before the unit's proposals are brought to the floor on Aug. 29 --- the same day presidential nominations are scheduled.

President Humphrey said Saturday he and the late Robert F. Kennedy agreed on a vital element of the Vielnam war issue: that a coalition government should not be imposed on South Vietnam.

In another statement, he set out a "draftee's bill of rights" in which he proposed drafting 19-year-olds first, except for those going to college, who would be permitted at least two years in school before being inducted.

Humphrey told the Liberal Party executive committee "Robert Kennedy and I came to hold remarkably similar views on Vietnam.'

HE QUOTED from Kennedy's remarks in his televised debate with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy before the California primary.

"I would be opposed . . to forcing a coalition Javits Behind government on the government of Saigon, a coalition with the Communists even before we begin the negotiations," Kennedy

Kennedy went on to say that any role of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) in the Saigon government should be determined by thes negotiators "and particularly by the people of South Vietnam."

Humphrey said Saturday: "Now that is what I believe."

McCarthy, one of Humphrey's opponents for the Democratic presidential nomination, has advocated a coalition government as a means of settling the war.

Humphrey attacked Richard M. Nixon's proposal for a volunteer army as a way to abolish the draft. He said the Republican nominee had been "highly ir-responsible" in holding out such a possibility without making clear the extremely high financial cost."

HE SAID that such an army could add $8.3 billion to $16.7 billion a year to the nation's defense budg-

"There is no confirmation of any satellite activity as a result of this launch," he said.

Air Force investigators were trying to find the exact cause of the difficulties.

The 2,750-pound upper stage was to eject the small satellites designed to measure the size and shape of earth as well as provide targets for radar experiments and test atmospheric drag in near space.

BONN - The West German government was reliably reported Saturday to see an opening for talks with the East German Communist regime, beginning on economic issues at the ministerial level.

The Bunn economics minister, Karl Schiller, said Friday he was prepared to meet his East German counterpart, Foreign Economics Miniser Horst Solle, in East Berlin or any other German city.

Schiler reportedly received a letter from Solle a few days ago proposing talks.

Saturday chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger opened a session with some of his closest advisers at Stuttgart to analyze the latest series of proposals made by the East Berlin Communist chieftain, Walter Ulbricht, for improving relations between the two Germanies.

It is understood the chancellor and his associates view Ulbricht's Aug. 9 speech in which his proposals were made as "somewhat more conciliatory" than previous East German statement on inter-German relations.

A Berlin source reported Saturday that Soviet officials had put out feelers to West Germans this week suggesting a softer approach to the Berlin question by Moscow. This may also have moved the Bonn government to its positive assessment.

The source said the Soviet had hinted that a new agreement providing passes for West Berliners to visit East Berlin at Christmas might be negotiated again after a two-

HOME OF HOODLUM BLASTED BY BOMB

TUCSON (UPI) - The third bombing in less than a month at the homes of reputed underworld figures was under investigation Saturday.

Two blasts, 30 seconds apart, Friday night damaged the home of Peter Notaro, a bodyguard for reputed New York Mafia kingpin Joe Bonanno.

The bombings occurred less than a month after similar blasts at Bonanno's home here and at the Grace Ranch south of here, which is owned by Pete Licavoli, who has been linked with Mafia activities in Detroit.

Police said explosive devices, believed to be dynamite, were dropped over the back fence of the Notaro home. Patio screens were ripped out and three windows were broken.

Notaro, who moved into the house Wednesday, was

LBJ Signs Health Manpower, Reservist Job Rights Bills

President Johnson announced Saturday the signing of additional legislation must serve us tomorrow." aimed at training more doctors and medical personnel, contains new authorizacreating a National Eye Institute and protecting the job rights of reservists.

The President, staying at his ranch home 65 miles west of here, also signed a bill overhauling the 52-year old Federal Grain Standards and Inspection Act. LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)---Diplomatic sources said Saturday that President Johnson has sent a message to Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of Nigeria's federal government, expressing concern over problems of getting relief to the millions affected by the Nigerian civil war.

But Nigerian and American sources here denied the reports and in Washington administration spokesmen would neither confirm nor deny them.

The message was said to have urged the Nigerian head of state to be more open to compromise in the peace negotiations with the secessionist Biafran regime. The talks are taking place at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

TIME AND TIDE — Is acquatic layout. I still can't Richard Nixon right in conclusion that the country is fed up on divisiveness and conflict? Is it a fact that there's a sharply diminished appetite for violence on TV and in drama and literature? The questions come to mind because of indignation and complaint being voiced about the GOP convention. The cry is that it was "dull" and that ob viously means devoid of shattering conflicts. Some people seem downright angry at the Republicans for not throwing knives. Obviously they want that which passes for violence in political action. I've noticed that some journalists, who are great pluggers for downgrading violence, have been in the forefront of the criticism of the convention. TV operators at Miami Beach obviously sensed that their shows were lacking in political violence, and tried to stir it up when they could. They wanted to get gunfire and grenadethrowing back on the tube.

Nixon reportedly feels the country is in a mood for a little more tranquility and peaceful, non-hombastic settlement of differences. Sen. Robert Kennedy in remarks on his last fateful evening, said something along the same line.

But what can you conclude, when people who say they agree a moment later yell for blood?

Cycle Jaunt

FIRST REPORT

EDITOR'S NOTE: On June 17, two school teachers - Bob Handloser and Al Higa - left the International City bound for a hemispheric jaunt that would take them from Long Beach to the Straits of Magellan at the tip of Chile. Last week, the first report from the two arrived, postmarked Panama. Here is their report of what they've seen, where they've been and how their two motorcycles are standing up to the strain. The pictures accompanying the story were taken by Handloser.

COLON, Panama, C.Z. - This is to let you know that the Pan American Cycle Expedition is progressing very well and we're slowly but surely moving toward our objective.

By July 21, we had logged over 5,600 miles and gone through Mexico and every country in Central Ameriaa. We are now headed into South America.

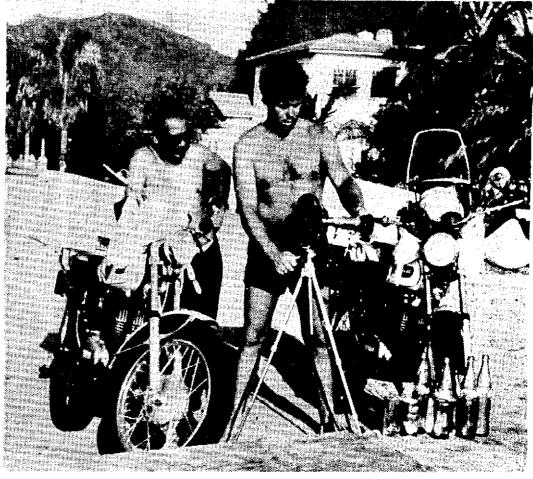

In our travels to date we have been in temperatures which have ranged from 45 to 115 degrees. We've been at sea level and the highest point of the Pan Am Highway — over 11,000 feet. We've cycled across plains, through jungles, over high mountains and traversed lush valleys and sparse deserts. We have viewed the ruins of ancient civilizations and seen the modern edifices of Latin America's cities together with their counterparts, the mud hovels and slums of the poor.

The countries have been spectacular in their natural beauty, with scenery that has been breathtaking. Each day we've seen panoramic views that would be breathtaking were it not for the fact they occur again and again.

Even more impressive are the people. Every place we've gone, we've been met with warmth and friendship. Even with Bob's limited Spanish, we've managed to get along very well because the people have been so eager to be of service. They listened patiently as Bob tried to communicate and their faces would brighten when they finally understood him. They always went out of their

TELEGRAM SENT TO WIRTZ

Fight to Save L.B. 'Career' Program

Staff Writer

A group of central area figures has wired and sent letters to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz in an effort to help the local antipoverty agency salvage a $100,000 adult job-training project here - the only one of its kind operated under the local poverty program.

The project - known as Project Action and Career Training, or PACT - faces partial dissolution soon unless the agency can get the Labor Department to reverse the decision of one of its West Coast officials, John F. Otero, acting regional director of the Burean of Work Training Pro-at the Admissions Office on Otero last week ordered the Liberal Arts Campus, a $1,115,000 "new careers" 4901 E. Carson St., or the training program in the Business and Technology county closed out, and the Campus, 1305 E. Pacific Long Beach project was to Coast Highway.

be part of the larger package.

The anti-poverty agency here — the Economic Opportunities Commission has been running PACT as an outgrowth of the old Neighborhood Adult Participation Project in Long Beach and was anticinating the new grant to keep the project alive and operating under streamlined provisions.

Without the funds, though, it must close out a large part of the PACT operation at the end of this month - and find other jobs for perhaps 20 PACT trainces.

PACT has two functions: under new careers, the part that's threatened, it trains impoverished adults for careers in the social services; and under community development, it tries to involve the poor in community work.

Unlike the new careers component, which is fi- Susie Ellis and John Daynanced by the Labor Department, the community development function is financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity and is not immediately threat-

The telegram to Secretary Wirtz "deplores" Otero's "arbitrary decision" and calls for immediate discussions of a new and independent new careers program in Long Beach.

It was signed by Harvey Williams, president of the Community Improvement League; Ernest Clark, acting director of the league. Richard Harris, a former director of PACT, James Cummings, director of the central area neighborhood service center; Art Reynolds, an official of the league; Dale Clinton, a recreation assistant with the city; Carolyn Whaley, a service center worker, and

Copies of the wire were sent to Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif.; and Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Long

James Wilson, acting director of PACT, who also signed the telegram, reiterated a statement made Friday by local poverty officials in announcing the Labor Department cutback. He said Long Beach had met the Labor Department's project requirements, but was being penalized for mistakes made by the Los Angeles poverty agency, which failed to meet the department's deadline for submission of plans. The Los Angeles poverty agency was to have been the main contractor of the new careers program in the county, with the Long Beach agency being one of several subcontractors.

PACT's current troubles are the latest in a series of crises for the ill-starred project. Early this year, it faced a similar trial when its funds ran out and the Labor Department failed to renew its manpower grant. Then, as now, the project's aides were threatened with loss of jobs.

Somehow, month-tomonth extensions were gained and the project stayed alive, although it began to suffer from the strains of uncertainty and loss of morale.

With the promise of permanent funding, the project was pulled out of the doldrums recently and given a sense of redirected purpose. The latest Labor Department decision, however, has struck it a hard blow, and its future is once again in question.

Picking Out Pitfalls in Tax Initiative

PROPERLY, the state's new Advisory Commission on Tax Reform began its hearings with attention focused on the so-called Watson Amendment, which will appear on the Nov. 5 ballot as Proposition 9.

This is the initiative measure backed by County Assessor Philip E. Watson to "relieve" property owners. It would phase out during a five-year period property tax support for such people-related services as education and social welfare. It also promises a onecent maximum tax rate for all other purposes except bond retirement.

THE MISLABELED relief could actually force a 100 per cent increase in the present state income and sales tax rates, plus a 200 pcr cent increase in the cigarette tax. Or it could lead to taxes on forms of wealth other than property securities, bank accounts, and the like.

Testimony on such increases came from W. R. Currie, chief financial economist for the budget-division of the State Department of Finance. The state would have to impose tax increases of $4.5 billion by 1973-74 to pick up the burden left by halving the property

"THE SHIFTS implied in this equally great."

The new commission, headed by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, was not created by Gov. Regan for the purpose of heading off the Watson Amendment. That assignment, however, falls in its lap naturally; for the commission will find its job of total tax reform extremely difficult if it is hampered by a radical curtailment of a traditional local tax source.

AS THINGS now stand, the future role of property taxes is unpredictable, as is the extent of new demands on the state for financing of local public services. Until Nov. 5, therefore, the Flournoy Commission can make only · limited progress.

But in that interim period it can perform a highly useful service. It son Amendment.

Peeping Tom On Strand Blacked Out

NEWPORT BEACH city councilmen showed compassion for harassed mortals in rejecting a long-pending proposal for a TV surveillance system.

The installation would have enabled police, monitoring 15 television cameras, to watch every action of thousands of persons at public beaches, streets and commercial areas. The human targets might not know that they were being closely observed.

Advocates of the government financed system contend that it would not invade privacy, since it would be aimed only at public places. Perhaps so. We suspect, ment, and it is to be hoped that the same, especially in a beach

Public Can Spot Phonies

AT THIS STAGE, the Republican National Convention looks like a strong contender for whatever prize is awarded to the television political show with the least drama and suspense.

But the season is early. Although expert at cut and dried triteness, the GOP will be strongly challenged by the American Independent Party.

GEORGE C. WALLACE will dominate the convention, of course, as the originator and proprietor of the AIP, the presidential nominee and the keynoter in spirit if not in person. And despite a relatively short career on the national scene, Wallace has recited his limited range of themes so often and so raucously that new variations seem inconceivable.

Regardless of his exact language, Wallace's utterances add up to repression in domestic policies and jingoism abroad.

As a practical matter, the beach city that pioneers this technique can hardly be expected to gain as a tourist and vacation center. Vacationers like to relax, of course, and some of them would rather do so, where police make their presence known when they want to look

The electronic peeping project is described as an advance in crime control. So also is electronic eavesdropping, whose lawful use has been substantially expanded by Congress. As is well known, "bugging" equipment is now so sophisticated that no one can protecthimself against it. Keyhole TV may well make the same strides forward if similarly encouraged by the federal government.

Newport Beach councilmen did not care to lend their encouragethough, that life would not be quite their sound example will be followed by officials of other cities.

> Some observers have argued that this kind of show is not worth airing - that the television networks should refuse to cover the AIP convention at length, even if Wallace requests it.

We disagree. It is just possible that TV would perform a service for national sanity by exposing the Wallace carnival to the same kind of massive coverage accorded the conventions of the national par-

FOR WALLACE'S scenario is not the kind trat traditionally wears well in American politics. Varieties of know-nothingism catch on with sizable minorities of the voters, then run their course and subside until the next gifted demagogue pushes his way onto the stage.

Complete and relentless coverage by television, continuing over a period of days, may be just what is needed to hasten this process.

Help! Save Our Lifeguards

From Our L.A. Bureau

The gallant Long Beach lifeguard service is the latest target of supergovernment advocates in Los Angeles

A county take-over of all lifeguard, fire and police services heretofore has been a smoggy dream of county politicians in downtown Los Angeles.

BUT THIS SUMMER, the county ordered a survey "on the possibility of unifying the lifeguard services after consulting with the cities involved ...

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, who championed the county take-over plan, forecast lifeguard consolidation vould save taxpayers $250,000.

Others dispute whether any saving would materialize from a costly Malibu-to-Long Beach lifeguard service.

But Hahn theorizes that the $1.1million-a-year budget of the county lifeguard service would need only a slight additional appropriation to broaden its territory. His apparent estimate; $50,000,

In spite of the unified front, the fu-ture is uncertain. There also was opposition originally to the county's plan for a consolidated health service. But in recent years, the county has gobbled up all health service units except in Long Beach.

Other smoggy siftings:

DISBANDED AGENCY? - The county's Economy and Efficiency Committee has contended it couldn't function at open meetings. That was before Long Beach Assemblyman James A. Hayes successfully passed legislation last month to outlaw the county's secret meetings. The committee soon must comply with the Hayes Open Meeeting Law or go out of business.

COUNTY VICTORY - Assemblyman Joe A. Gonsalves, D-La Mirada, is being credited with a new county recreational breakthrough. His Assembly Bill 1331, passed at the recent legislative session, enables joint powers agreement between governmental agencies in Los Angeles County for recreational development of regional park sites. It will speed development of La Mirada County Regional Park.

Delegates Put Loyalty Quiz to Gene

ALTHOUGH SHE stepped on Pierre Salinger's toe in her walkaway from Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Ruth Smith diverted him with a "Congratulations on your resolution."

Luckily, Pierre was equal to the pain and reciprocity. "Congratulations on your question," he answered. Salinger's resolution, just passed by the California delegation to the Democratic National Convention, urged the convention to banish floor demonstrations for its presidential and vice presidential candidates.

Delegate Ruth Smith's question of McCarthy, at the delegation's recent Sacramento caucus, came from her concern over his refusal to declare now whether he will support the Democratic presidential nominee if he isn't

"Do you really believe," she asked, "that on the basis of a specific issue (Vietnam) which may or may not be worded in the Democratic platform to our entire satisfaction that we would be justified in handing over the country to Richard Nixon?"

McCarthy said he didn't see how he could commit himself in advance in view of the "issues I've raised." But he added that the selection of Nixon as the GOP nomince "is really going to make my choice a lot easier. On that note, Mrs. Smith, who lives in Lakewood, exited the Capitol's hearing room without incident other than the minor wound to Salinger.

LATER she explained she thought McCarthy gave a silly answer and pointed out a McCarthy speech in which he contends the best hope for Democrats "is to work within the party." You can't hold the party together, said Mrs. Smith, if you don't work for the nominee.

She favors Vice President Humphrey, she added, but also likes Sen. George McGovern of South Dakola and "I'm not flat-footed for anybody Delegate Kit Cullen, wife of Assemblyman Mike Cullen of Long Beach, also faulted McCarthy's "flippancy" in dealing with serious questions, but says she has not made up her mind whom to support at the convention. She said she feels the Democratic Party has a great deal to be prou dof in recent years and, "Mr. Johnson is still our President and is not to be made light of."

Lakewood Mayor Mark Hannaford, the third convention delegate from the Lakewood-Long Beach area appears to be leaning toward Humphrey also. Without announcinng an actual commitment, Hannaford has expressed contempt for the authoritarian stance of many McCarthy backers in contradiction to their protestations of liberality.

TWO OTHER local area Sacramento visitors got into the weekend act up there - Mrs. Virginia Water, Democratic nominee for Assembly in the East Long Beach-Signal Hill 39th District, and Mrs. Mary Riche, president of the Cerritos Democratic Club.

They were delegates to the Democratic State Central Committee meeting held last week at the same time as the party's state convention and the caucus of Jesse Unruh's national convention delegation.

Mrs. Waters and Mrs. Riche walked into a caucus called for all the committee's black members. San Francisco Assemblyman Willie Brown, at the rostrum, explained politely to the two white ladies sitting in the back of the room that it was a "black caucus."

Mrs. Waters, blue-eyed and towheaded blonde, answered, "I'm black." The whole caucus turned heads to see who said it. It started the caucus with a big but friendly laugh.

Mrs. Riche couldn't match Mrs. Waters' claim. She offered merely, "I'm Irish." They left quietly.

INDEPENDENT, PRESS-TELEGRAM

NEW YORK - The last few years, and particularly the last few months, have produced a great deal of critithe democratic process. You can hardly glance at a paper these days without seeing some charge that our representative system is unrepresentative, and our ideals a mockery.

The great decisions of the war and of the election, we are told, have gone against the will of the majority of the people. The military draft has been unfair and undemocratic. The presidential nominating conventions mock the principle of one-man one-vote, and are a silly bore besides.

Thus "the system" is blamed for most of our contemporary troubles. It has broken down, according to the popular pressimism of the day.

The poor nations have no peaceful remedies so we have war. THE POOR PEOPLE at home have no legal relief, so we have lawless-Hypocrisy leads to cynicism, and the young rebel against our society or drop nut of it. And for solace and consolation, the parties offer us Hum-

THE IMPULSE for freedom is very much alive in the world today. Part of the tumult of the age is precisely that men no longer regard slavery and poverty as inevitable but intolerable. The Czechoslovaks, the American blacks, the Israelis, the Vietnamese, south and north, are all fighting against the spirit of domination, which has cursed and wounded the human family from the beginning of time.

No doubt it was more comfortable for the rich and powerful nations, and for the rich and powerful people when the poor and the young were obedient and quiet, and the law and order of the dominant countries and classes prevailed. But they don't prevail now, and it is all very awkward, but this doesn't make it "the worst of times."

L. A. C. SAYS

Campaign Promises and Their Results

For almost three months we are to be subjected to many campaign promises. We will be told the jobless are to be given jobs and farmers will be told how they are to be protected against surplus crops and the lower prices. It will be a repetition of all past campaigns. Coming at a time when the people are worried about rising prices and a possible greater rate of unemployment, it is worthwhile to review some of the results of past campaign promises and changes in our econo-

Labor Department charts of unemployment show 1929 as a year much as we are experiencing at present. Un-employment was at its lowest percentage in many years, 3.2 per cent of the labor force - incidentally, almost the same figure we find today, but then inflation and stock market speculation brought about the crash. It was during a Republican regime. It was followed by farms and homes being lost by foreclosure, banks closed and in general we were in a serious depression.

President Roosevelt was elected on the New Deal slogan. With his election we started the NRA-WPA and a long list of alphabetical agencies to overcome unemployment and our financial crisis. Result was that for the next six years we had the greatest unemployment ever known in the nation. It ranged from 24 per cent unemployed in 1933 to 19 per cent in 1938. Then we started producing supplies for the allies in their war with Hitler. It fell to 17 per cent in 1939. Then we were attacked at Pearl Harbor and went into full war production. During that war period we had full employment with less than 2 per cent unemployed. This was largely caused by people changing jobs and being counted during the interval.

THE LESSON that should have been learned was that the vast New Deal spending did not provide jobs during those six years before we became involved in war. The unemployment index never fell below 14 per cent, which it did for one of those years. The average was 19 per cent. It was overcome only by war. But we were well started on the programs which have brought a national debt of over $350 billion. Our interest charge on that is more today than were any of our peacetime total budgets for most of those New Deal years.

Now we are to be given campaign speeches telling of how we are to provide more jobs, clear the cities of slums, aid the farmers to an even greater extent and have a balanced budget. It will be a year when promises will be made to help every segment of our society. But it will also call for increased spending if the present philosophy of the Democratic party is to be followed. It is therefore important that the voters keep in mind as the campaign progresses that similar promises, carried out in the past, have not accomplished these pur-

The only hope the Republicans have to win the election is to promise a re-turn to balanced budgets. Exorbitant promises which cannot be filled only cause greater dissatisfaction. The people must recognize the fact that they must help themselves by hard work rather than looking to government for more handouts. We may be facing economic problems similar to those that brought about the 1929 crash and its resultant 10 years of depression. It is hoped it could not be as severe. But the same spiraling inflation and disregard of warning signals were prevalent in 1929 as exist today.

The candidates who face up to these facts and offer programs to stop the inflation and overspending by government have a chance because it is believed the great majority of the voters are more concerned than government seems to be. It is on this basis they may vote for a change in a government that has brought us to this position.

CHARLES BULLFINCH: ARCHI-TECT AND CITIZEN. By Charles A. Place. Da Capo Press, $17.50.

First published in 1925 and now reprinted, Charles Place's biography is a fascinating account of the life, artistic and public, of the greatest American architect of the last half of the 18th century, and the early 19th century, an artist who in large measure is to be credited with the beautiful elegance of the Puritan architecture of the New England which gave him birth.

Not only did his lovely town houses on Boston's Beacon Hill set that city's architectural standards, an influence still to be seen in New England, but he was also architect of the national capitol from 1817 to 1831. His was the honor of completing the first U.S. capitol to a stubborn Congress's satisfaction. The book contains 126 illustrations of Bulfinch's plans and buildings, and portraits of him and his colleagues by Copley and Mather Brown.

Assessor the Limit

EDITOR:

For six years we have heard the wail of Watson's siren song luring us with a pledge of purity, equality, integrity and efficiency. Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson has been the self-proclaimed protector of the homeowner.

He claimed his innovation of computerized sales data would guarantee assessment equality at a 25 per cent ratio. The results? The selling price doesn't set the value of the property sold, but dictates values of homes three blocks or three miles distant, all of this accomplished very efficiently at a desk in the regional office. The upshot is an actual range of ratios from 1 per cent or less to 75 per cent

Watson takes credit for the establishment of the Tax Appeals Board system, yet now states it is a failure. He says he alone has the constitutional authority to establish assessed values in Los Angeles County and has even accused a board chairman of making politically motivated decisions. He admits to having created a

He avoids telling us that the resulting tax bills, even after the fiveyear welfare and school tax shift. would be 1 per cent of his opinion of value, (right or wrong) plus the costs of bonds and long-term leases, which could amount to another 1 per cent. This would by no means cut your tax bill in half. Any limitation that does not also control and limit the assessor is meaningless.

No Intellectual Direction

It almost seems a shame. I have watched seven months of Unruh dissipation of the taxpayers' time and money, punctured by loud noises with little if any intellectual direction.

If Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh would just stop talking long enough to listen, he just might gain enough wisdom to help the people he supposed to represent to some small degree.

I think that time has come and I believe Unruh should learn to obey the laws of California as they were written as any other resident of California. Disobeying the laws of our state has caused too much trouble already.

Exception to Court Secrecy

A preliminary hearing for three men accused of murder was held in secret recently, with the public and the press excluded.

This newspaper received a number of calls from people who said they didn't know "this kind of thing could happen in these United States.

However, Municipal Court Commissioner Loyd L. Lavender, who made the ruling, actually had no choice in the matter under existing law.

SECTION 868 of the California Penal Code spells out categorically that whenever a defendant requests a closed preliminary hearing, the magistrate "must" exclude everyone except those specifically exempt by the section. These include the magistrate, his clerk, his bailiff, the court reporter who takes down the official verbatim account of the proceedings, the defendant, defense counsel, the prosecution attorneys, and the chief investigating Section 868 was enacted way back in 1872, so it is nothing new. Since 1965, when the section was amended, the investigating officer has been allowed to remain in the courtroom during the proceedings. Prior to that time he was allowed to be present only when he testified.

The California Supreme Court, ruling on an appeal, not only upheld the clude the public, even if inadvertent by the magistrate, violated the defendant's rights. (People vs. Elliott, decided in 1960.)

THIS WAS the controversial case in which the Supreme Court ruled that cities did not have jurisdiction in matters pertaining to sex acts because the state had preempted the field.

In that case a young woman was accused of being a prostitute and, at the preliminary hearing, requested that the hearing be closed to the public. The magistrate issued the order but a newspaper reporter managed to pose as one of the court attaches and sat through the hearing.

After the woman had been convicted, the case was appealed to the Supreme Court on the grounds that the renorter had been present at the preliminary hearing. The court ruled that her rights had been violated and ordered the conviction reversed.

Since the preliminary hearing is held only to determine if there is enough evidence to hold the defendant for trial, the accused had a right section but ruled that failure to ex- NOT to be forced to defend himself at that stage of the proceedings.

The preliminary hearing is something of a "loaded" proceeding in that the prosecution at that time presents Its prima facie case against the defendant. In the case of an innocent person, this is the first time he is aware of the evidence against him.

CONSEQUENTLY the reasoning is that it would be unfair, at this stage, to allow the public to watch and hear the proceedings and form opinions of the defendant's character if there is not enough evidence to hold him to answer and he is subsequently freed.

However, there is no such provision at the trial stage of the proceedings.

The California Supreme Court has ruled the defendant does not have the right to a secret trial under our law, except in certain cases, such as those involving juveniles.

Another landmark case involved a woman accused of murder who had requested and was granted a Superior Court trial with the press excluded. The woman, in her petition, contended that her defense against the charge was that she had shot the victim because he was forcing her to commit an unnatural sex act and that she would be unable to testify to these facts if the public and press were allowed in the courtroom.

THE JUDGE granted the defense motion to exclude the press and the trial was held with the public and press kept out. The Supreme Court subsequently held that, since the trial was over nothing could be done, But it also ruled that the press should have been allowed to hear and observe the proceedings.

So, the public's right to know is not abridged by a closed preliminary hearing as long as the trial is public, which it will be in the case of the three men

Playing for Time in Vietnam

New York Times Service

ISTANBUL - Back in 1955, when he was a hardier perennial on the presidential bush, Harold Stassen analyzed United States Vietnam policy in terms of the following parable.

Once upon a time a courtier was condemned to death by his emperor and begged one single last favor: "Before I die I would like to be able to teach the emperor's favorite black horse to speak." Intrigued, the emperor granted a stay.

When he returned to prison his cellmates asked how the courtier had managed to save himself from execution. The courtier replied: "Anything can happen in a year. I might die a pleasant, peaceful death. The emperor himself might die. Or, who know, I might even teach the horse to speak." With an admirable percipience

Stassen suggested more than 13 years ago that the United States, even then, could not afford to give up while there was even one chance in 50 of success.

THE HORSE has now been taking speech lessons over 13 years. During that time the courtier has not yet been executed and several unexpected developments have occurred. There has been a fundamental shift in the Southeast Asian political situation which makes it less likely now than in 1955 that all the countries of that area would fall like dominous if Vietnam

Only Party Loyalty Binds Gov. Reagan To Nixon

WASHINGTON - Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has publicly announced that he will campaign for Richard Nixon. But close friends of Reagan say he won't. Maybe he'll make a few speeches in California; but unless his present mood changes, that'll be all. Inside reason is that relations between Reagan and Nixon, two Californians representing the conservative wing of the GOP, were not cordial in Miami Beach. At times they tended toward the vitriolic.

IN THE FIRST PLACE, Reagan was convinced that Nixon was behind the movement which rounded up around 700,000 signatures demanding that he be recalled. Reagan figured that Nixon had inspired this as a means of embarrassing him just prior to the Miami Beach convention.

had a chance to get the nomination. He was vastly encouraged at first by Southern delegates, and took himself quite seriously.

Second, Reagan really thought he

One of those in whom he confided was Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, to whom he offered the position of Vice President on the Reagan ticket. Rhodes, a skilled politician who plays his cards close to his chest, would not commit himself. He did promise Reagan that he would hold his Ohio delegation intact for two ballots, and indicated that if after that Reagan was a serious candidate he, Rhodes, would plump for Reagan on the third ballot.

NIXON WAS WORRIED over the fact that Reagan picked up the story printed in this column that Nixon advisors had recommended Sen, Ed Brooke, the Massachusetts Negro, to be Vice President. Reagan forces copied the column and made sure it was delivered to every Southern delegation.

The whole Reagan movement frightened Nixon. The two men left Miami Beach publicly cooperative but privately not friends.

Two events contributed to the shift. Sukarno's overthrow in Indonesia may be regarded as a great strategic triumph for the opponents of communist China, headed by the United States. Sukarno was trying to work out an alliance with Peking that would squeeze all Southeast Asia in a nutcracker between Indonesia and

NOW THE LOWER piece of the nutcracker has disappeared. This insures the safety of Australia, the neutralization of Indonesia itself, the Singanore, Ma and the Philippines and even the possibility of some kind of backup for Thailand, whatever happens in Viet-

The second major change while the horse studied oratory was a hardening of the Sino-Soviet split. As a consequence there is now an evident lack of conflict between Washington's and Moscow's interests in Southeast Asia which are today almost as nearly parallel as in India.

The result has been not only to alter the balance of forces and strategic implications of Southeast Asia but to change the kind of backing received by North Vietnam as its quarrel with the United States intensified. While Russia ships arms to Hanoi, it exerts a relatively calming diplomatic influence there. China responds by anger and occasional interference with the weapons traffic.

PARTLY BECAUSE of this new background Washington and Hanoi are now engaged in talks about peace talks in Paris where, Averell Harriman, who tranquilized Iran in 1951, seeks to tranquilize Vietnam. There is not the slightest indication yet that either side is ready to grant the concessions demanded by the other to achieve a real settlement; but there is also no indication that either side wants to break discussions off. Indeed, the protracted peace talks in the end are likely to prove less protracted than the protracted war, endorsed by China's strategists.

Thus the seeming fantasy of a talking horse policy in Vietnam may in the end show pragmatic wisdom. The framework surrounding the actual Indochinese battlefield has in many ways altered. As the doomed courtier said: "Anything can happen." Some things did.

Students Build Plane

By HERB SHANNON Aerospace Editor

More than 30 of the 265 enrollees in the 17th annual Aerospace Education Program at California State College at Long Beach are cramming dirt under the fingernails as well as aviation technology under the

The half-hundred elementary and secondary schoolteachers who have opted for the supreme test of their newly learned skills are building an airplane from the landing gear up.

A higly interested party to the do-it-yourself project is Jay Ackerman, Long Beach City College aircraft mechanics instructor who is conducting the class as a special consultant as well as lecturing on flight principles and other basics. Ackerman will test-fly the student-built plane from the campus football field on the last day of the monthlong program.

Now just past the midway mark in reconstruction, the J-3 Piper Cub fuselage is taking on the ap-pearance of a full-fledged flying machine. The teacher students daily swarm around it, applying finishing touches to the fabric, stringing control lines through its framework and readying for the final paint

Previously, the stripped frame was inspected and repaired where necessary under the supervision of CSLB industrial arts majors and designated Federal Aviation Administration inspectors.

The wings and engine meanwhile are getting the same careful attention and will be assembled with the fuselage béfore the Aug. 30 deadline.

Ackerman located the basic frame for the plane in a Long Beach residential garage and acquired the engine from another source.

These items, plus replacement parts and materials run the cost of the project to a out twice that of Aerospace Education building programs in previous years, he pointed out.

"Cub frames must be getting scarce, because the price keeps going up every year," said the instructor, who finances the project. Ackerman will sell the completed craft when its educational purpose has been served, in order to recover his investment of anproximately $2,000.

PR-CIR--2-01-2"

By our standards, these people lack most of the things we would classify as essential for daily life. Yet they seem to enjoy life, living it to the fullest. This has been true in each of the countries we have visited. To recap a little, our departure from Long Beach was delayed more than we had planned; we had some difficulty in obtaining visas and visited several consulates in Los Angeles before we were able to obtain all of the documents needed.

Less than two hours out of Long Beach, Bob developed trouble with a piston. It turned out that he had burned a hole in it and it had to be replaced. We spent about an hour by the side of the road, making the repair, then headed off down the road, confident our troubles were over.

THEY WEREN'T. About 10 miles from Ei Centro, Bob had more trouble. Another piston went out and this one called for a repair job in blistering afternoon heat.

The next day, we took the bikes to the Yamaha dealer in Yuma where they underwent seven hours of extensive work, tune-ups and other detail. It has proven to be time well spent; we haven't had a bit of trouble with either bike since then.

On Thursday — June 20 we attempted to cross into Mexico at Nogales but the Mexican Consulate in Los Angeles had apparently ruts, potholes, exposed issued the wrong papers to us and we were held up until we could obtain the correct ones there.

First stop in Mexico was at Hermosillo. The accommodations were fabulous - showers, wall-towall carpeting, recreational facilities which included a basketball court and a large swimming pool. We couldn't have improved on them and are indebted to the city's recreation director who allowed us to use the facilities at the city's recreation center and was good enough to let us sleep on the lawn that bordered the pool.

At Guaymas, we spent two days on the beach, sharing the accommodations with a number of other Americans who were traveling through Mexico. Mazatlan and San Blas were both overnight stops for us before heading for Guadalajara, going via a jungle boat which took us and our Yamahas through some lush growth that at times was so dense as to lend the illusion we were traveling through a tunnel.

AFTER an overnight stop at Tepic, we arrived in Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city. A millionto-one incident occurred when Bob met a young man outside the U.S. Consulate with whom he had grown up in Burbank, Now the director of the Mexican-American Institute in Guadalajara, Jack Street insisted that we spend some

We left Mexico City, heading for Mexico's East Coast and the Yucatan Peninsula. We spent only an hour in historic Vera Cruzin order to spend more time examining the ancient ruins and lush jungles, the bugs and butterflies of the Yucatan where the Mayans created magnificent structures ages ago. One has to wonder how a civilization capable of such achieve-ments failed to survive. The bugs and butterflies on the peninsula were constantly striking us as we drove our bikes along the roadways. After three weeks in Mexico, we headed for British Honduras, arriving in Belice after a trip on one of the worst roads we'd ever seen. Where the Mexican roads had ranged from good to very good, the Honduran roads ranged from had to very bad. We covered 150 miles in eight hours, a trip that should required but four hours on a halfway decent road. This road had been buildozed through the jungle and then, apparently, forgotten. It was filled with stones and loose sand and gravel — all of the nightmares for motorbike riders.

WE HAD planned to catch a ferry from Belice to Puerto Barios in Guatemala. Unfortunately, we arrived at the landing on Tuesday and were informed that the ferry had made its once weekly trip on Monday. After failing to book passage on a fishing hoat, we did manage to negotiate with a truck driver to haul us to a frontier village where we could take a plane to Guatemala City.

However he failed to show up so we had to drive on another dreadful road, reaching the town of Flores, which had an airport of sorts. We watched, surprised, as a DC-3 lumbered down a gravel runway and inched into the air. We booked passage for Guatemala City on the next one. It took 10 men to load our bikes aboard and then we were off.

From above, the same jungle we had just flown over looked even more imposing. In Guatemala City, we located a "pension"-a sort of boarding house --where we stayed for two nights at seven quetzels (about $1)per night. The price included three meals a day.

Guatemala City has been the scene of much political and terrorist activity for several years, Nevertheless, it was still surprising to us to see soldiers with tommyguns on street corners. The people of the city seem to about their business as though the soldiers did not exist.

WE MOVED on to El Salvador, where we made another chance encounter. In San Salvador, we spotted the Yamaha Distributor sign and made a bee-line for it. There were a number of Hondas parked in front of it - including one with a Long Beach Honda license plate holder. We pounded on the door but without response. Just as we were about to leave. several people left the adjacent garage and we met Carlos Roa, the motorcycle racing champion of El Salvador. He raced Yamahas and used both the garage and his backyard to build and repair his bikes. We joined him at his house for conversation, later did the town with him and were taken to a local futbol (soccer) game on the following

On the next day, we had breakfast in El Salvador, lunch in Honduras and supper in Nicaragua — putting us in three different nations in one day.

The following day found boasts some of the most breathtaking scenery in all of Central American-and some of the worst roads as well. It turned out to be hazardous to try to view the marvelous views of the land while dodging potholes and ruts and stones along the way. It took us three days to cover 400 miles of Costa Rican highway.

Panama presented a sharp contrast to Costa Rica. For one thing, the roads were much better. Instead of the high Costa Rica Mountains, Panama presented gently rolling hills. It took us less time to travel the 240 miles from the border to Colon than to traverse 70 miles of Costa

IN COLON, we spent a weekend with Ted-and Sharon Lese. Her parents live in Lakewood and had seen the first story on our trip in the Independent, Press-Telegram, communicating the information to their daughter. They also asked us to drop in on them.

Ted was one of the first persons to take a cycle into Baja California, making the trip back in 1962 before most people were even willing to consider such a venture. (Our trip is comparable to a drive on the Long Beach Freeway when compared to his.)

We're booked for freighter passage to Colombia since the Pan Am Highway link to that nation has not yet been completed. We've completed half of the trip and have only one general assumption: If the second half of this tour from Long Beach to the Straits of Magellan is half as intriguing and exciting as the first half, we'll have more engrossing stories to tell when we return to Long

Ghostly 5 Stars Accompany New Jersey Into Viet Action

Five stars will be gliding over the Pacific Sept. 5 when the mighty battleship New Jersey puts to sea.

There will be a ghostly five stars--

They're the famed five stars of Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey, and they adorn the door of his private combat bridge ahord the Big J.

As the giant 16-inch guns of the New Jersey roar into action off Vietnam, the sealed cabin will be exactly the same as it was some 24 years ago when Halsey made his daring strikes against the Japa-

The Day the City Almost Scuttled Queen Mary Deal

Staff Writer

What almost happened a year ago today in a London iaw office could have changed a lot of Long Beach history.

That was the day the city almost scuttled the purchase of the Queen Mary.

And because it didn't, today, Aug. 18, is some sort of anniversary - the day the city purchased the famous Cunard luxury liner.

For awhile though, the purchase was sticky wicket and at one time the city's representatives actually told Cunard Steamship Co. the deal was off.

Long Beach had been successful bidder July 26. 1967, for the ship, but had not paid so much as a farthing toward the bid price of $3,450,000 while awaiting the drafting of a purchase agreement. In its bid, however, Long Beach included an option to sell a last cruise. Cunard winced, but agreed to the option.

Cunard agreed to a 300passenger last cruise.

the purchase. Faced with a pull-out, Cunard reversed its decision and consented to the last voyage with 1,200 passengers.

Recalling those tense moments a year later, City Altorney Leonard Putnam, and Special Assistant to the City Manager Harry Fulton both agreed that the decision could have gone either

"We had instructions from the city to be firm about the last cruise option," Fulton said. "We felt Cunard was reneging and we were determined to exercise the option."

What the city really objected to, Fulton said, was the idea of the greatest passenger ship affoat being brought 14,000 miles on a last voyage with only a

IT WAS also going to cost the city $580,000 to transport the Queen Mary from England to Long Beach and the last cruise would defray that cost.

It took more than eight days to hammer out the purchase agreement and the Long Beach delegation, including Vice-Mayor Robert F. Crow, Harbor Commissioner Harry E. (Bud) Ridings, Clark Haggeness, Long Beach special counsel, Leo J. Vander Lans, a Long Beach maritime lawyer and Hal Martin, a city budget research specialist, finally got used to late lunches and high teas.

TORRANCE NORWALK

By RAFAEL BERMUDEZ

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Pope Paul VI will have a security guard of 9,000 policemen and 3,000 army troops when he comes here next week for the 39th International Eucharistic Congress.

Many of them will remain close on the pontiff's heels from the moment he steps from his chartered plane next Thursday morning until he departs late Saturday.

Others will line every route through which he passes, cordon off the entire city block where his quarters are located, and even check special credentials distributed to peasants who will meet him during his trip into the countryside.

POLICE AND army officials have worked for almost two years setting up security arrangements for the Pope, some of them traveling to the United States and Europe for special training. But the officials are convinced that the Pope's greatest security lies in the people themselves.

"The Pope's welfare will be safeguarded primarily by Bogota's two million inhabitants whose love and admiration for the pontiff are widely recognized," said Maj. Gen. Guillermo Pinzon Caicedo, commandant of the army.

Nevertheless, neither the army nor the police are taklng any chances in light of the social storm, some of it involving the Catholic Church, that engulf's Latin America.

Police cordons will be necessary at his public appearances as much for the people's safety as for the Pope's, officials said. The cordons will help prevent forward surges and possible stampedes and tramplings in crowds expected to exceed 100,000.

The Pope will face his largest audiences when he goes to the rural area of San Jose on Friday, and when he celebrates mass at the St. Cecilia parish in one of the city's poorer sections on Saturday. A special plaza with a capacity of 70,000 has been cleared near the parish church for the mass.

Peasants who will approach the Pope to meet him Friday have been selected by their village mayors and priests and received special credentials.

POLICE HAVE a fleet of 150 patrol cars equipped with two-way radios that will precede and follow the Pope's motorcades and cover the areas in which he travels. An ambulance also will follow the 70-year-old pontiff's party.

The Pope will make his quarters in the residence of Bogota's papal nuncio, and police will keep the block sealed off throughout the duration of his stay.

In conjunction with security preparations, police also are directing a massive clean-up operation in Bogota to assure the Pope a pleasant view of the city. By the time he arrives, streets through which he will pass will be bedecked with flowers and cleaned of all litter.

Soviet Press Asks Better Methods of Birth Control

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS MOSCOW (AP) — "Can you get me some birth control pills?" the Russian husband asked a Westerner.

But informed sources say Khrushchev, now 74 and out of power almost four years, is busy with a new hobby. The man who made the world tremble is now raising tomatoes on pebbles and water.

It is called hydropony and has its roots in Krushchev's character. He was a natural politician, a shepherd who learned to hold his own with the world's captains and kings and commissars. He also had a green thumb.

Farming was ever Khrushchev thing. During his visit to Iowa he stood in a field and told millionaire farmer Roswell Garst how to raise better com. At home, as premier, his own farm program proved almost a disaster and when he tried to sell hydrophonic farming to President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the Egyptian leader replied, "What for? We only feed tomatoes to the cows."

"KHRUSHCHEV did convince Bulgarians to try it. The Bulgarians are now reported prospering in faster-grown, cheaper tomatoes. Down on his suburban dacha, the prophet of hydropony is busy now trying to prove to his countrymen he was right after

He has broken up the land around his government-owned villa into square pebbled lots and waters them with a pipe sys-tem he built himself. Friends of his family say his tomatoes grow.

There's more to it than tomato growing. The hobby has brought Khrushchev out of the years of sulk that followed his fall from supreme power. Besides the tomato hobby, there is his photography. He goes forth armed with several cameras and some of his shots are nearly professional.

Khrushchev sends his film abroad for developing. On rare occasions, Krushchev and his wife Nina Petrovna ride into Moscow, where he has a five-room apartment, attend art and industrial shows and the theater. Usually he chats backstage with the actors and directors.

The paper said this study "should be speeded up as quickly as possible" and efforts should be made "to stimulate the creation here of highly effective contracentive means.

It said a lack of improvement in threse means so far was due to unreliable and 'inflated data about the efficiency of existing mechanical and especially chemical contraceptive

Citizens who complained of a lack of excitement at the Republican national convention welcomed signs this week that there will be more kicking, biting and scratching when the Democrats meet in Chicago Aug. 26.

Meanhile Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee, sought to heal party wounds inflicted in behind-the scenes manuevering at Miami Beach. Of particular concern were pained feelings among some Negro leaders and Republican liberals unhappy with the nomination of Maryland's Gov. Spiro T. Agnew for vice president.

On the Democratic side, Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia told delegates of his state he had decided to seek the nomination because he thought the convention should have a chance to "vote for a conservative candidate." The development could threaten previous more or less solid Southern support for Hubert H. Humphrey.

THE NATION

Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota took one of his more direct slaps at the Johnson-Humphrey administration by naming Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas as a man he would like to see become Secretary of State. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, has been a bitter critic of administration policy in Vietnam.

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakuta, 11th hour entry into the race for the Democratic nomination, said he would find it hard to say no if offered a chance to run for vice president. McGovern, whose views on Vietnam are similar to McCarthy's, continued however to seek delegate support for the top spot.

Front runner Humphrey paid little attention to either of his party rivals, concentrating instead on Nixon.

Backers of George C. Wallace, former governor of Alabama, running as a third party candidate, said he had so far qualified to have his name on the ballot in 38 states,

A FOUR-ENGINE DC-7 knifed out of the pre-dawn fog over Biafra this week, circled a narrow dirt road along which natives were holding gas lamps to light the way, and dipped down in a precarious, but precise landing.

After the plane bumped to a halt along the rutted road, its wingtips just feet away from trees on either side, out stepped Count Carl Gustav von Rosen, a veteran Swedish aviator who has been flying hazardous relief missions since 1935.

He had just defied Nigerian radar-controlled anti-aircraft fire to fly 11 tons of food and medicine into the secessionist colony, where relief officials say 3,000 Biafrans are dying daily from starvation.

"It was awful," said Rosen. "When I watched the terrible situation in person, I did really feel that something had to be done."

So Rosen is going back, with more supplies, and he hopes other relief flights will follow his secret route. Rosen's plane carried cargo contributed by the German branch of Caritas, Roman Catholic relief organization.

Troops of the federal government of Nigeria, from which Biafra seceded May 30, 1967, have pushed Biafran soldiers back in a bloody war to unite the country, sending refugees fleeing before the armies. More than 600,000 refugees now are crammed into camps and relief officials say at least 200 tons of food is needed daily to avert "massive human tragedy."

In Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, peace talks aimed at ending the Nigerian civil war failed to make progress.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Clark M. Clifford, updating the U.S. stance in Vietnam, said a halt in bombing of the North must await some assurance from Hanoi that it would refrain from using such a full to step up assaults on U.S. forces.

Clifford said there is still no guarantee that reduced combat operations by North Vietnam troops lately will not be followed by a big-scale offensive.

In Paris, Ambassador Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief negotiator at the peace talks, declared that three months of meetings with the U.S. delegation "have achieved no result whatsoever."

U.S. Marine forces, smashing into Communist troops in the Demilitarized Zone separating the two Vietnams, triggered the bloodiest fighting in two months. More than 200 Communist troops were killed in the initial surge by the Marines

By J. Anthony Lukas New York Times Service

CHICAGO - Early in April, a typed notice was posted on a bulletin board in the Old Town Ale House, on Chicago's north side, it asked for female volunteers to march in a "Bare Breasts for Peace Brigade" to the Democratic national convention later this month.

ceived as a frivolous put-on by Worthley N. L. Burbank Jr., a 35-year-old Chicago writer and opponent of the Vietnam war. But in the next few weeks Burbank received calls from more than 30 women offering to shed their brassieres in the name of peace and to recruit others for the cause. Suddenly there was talk of loving women for a march on the International Amphitheater, where the convention will begin on Aug.

Since then the organizers have had second thoughts. largely because of concern about police reaction to such mass nudity. But Burbank said this week that plans were being devised for more dispersed "spontathroughout the city.

The saga of the brigade suggests how multifarious are the dissenters planning protest activity during the convention: bare-breasted maidens and professors in seersucker suits, slum mothers drawing aid to dependent children and suburban housewives who tics after their children left home, tow-headed college students with McCarthy pins on their lapels and gaunt-faced revolutionaries with Viet Cong flags on their T-shirts.

"I've never seen anything like it," said one veteran of the peace movement. "The spectacle of the Democrats nominating Hubert Humphrey while so many other guys are being nominated for death in Vietnam or for quiet oblivion in the ghettos is grotesque. So, a lot of other people are going to be here to do some nominating of their own.

It would be rash to predict how many dissenters will assemble. One hears estimates ranging from a probably conservative 50,000 to a seemingly inflated "over a million."

According to the schedule of rallies, demonstrations, marches and other protest activities already announced, there will be scarcely a moment when the dissidents in the streets are not vieing for attention with the delegates on the convention floor.

All the dissidents who have announced their plans insist they are committed to nonviolence and will make no effort to disrupt the convention itself,

Those who have watched the Chicago police in action, - particularly in the clash with peace demonstrators April 27 - fear clashes during the convention are

Drilling Slump Persists

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (4P)-Early estimates of the number of oil and gas wells to be drilled in the United States this year were too optimistic.

Another decline, the fourth year in a row and the ninth in 12 years, had been anticipated but current trends indicate a sharper slump than had been forecast.

There is some indication total completions for the year will drop below the 30,000 mark for the first time since 1946.

Two industry publications maintain close checks on drilling operations and both agree that a normal spurt in activity for the last half of 1968 cannot push the year-end total within reach of the 1967 level.

At the start of the year, the Oil & Gas Journal forecast 31,571 well completions for 1968. The publication's mid-year revision has lowered this total to 29,917.

WORLD OIL made a January estimate of 32,248 new wells for the year but now has cut the figure to 30,803.

The industry drilled So 33,818 wells in 1967, compared to an estimate of 9,-170 early in the year.

Wildcat completion last year totaled 8,878, com-pared to 37,771 in 1966 and a record 58,259 in 1956.

The Journal also has lowered its estimate of 1968 wildcat or exploratory well completions to 8,396, compared to 10,311 in 1966 and an all-time high of 13,034 in

Despite making a downward revision for the yearend completions total, the World Oil mid-year report said sparks needed to re-verse the drilling decline may finally have appeared.

They include government moves to restrict outside-U.S. spending, recent major discoveries and industry's urgent need to boost gas and oil reserves, and a recent round of crude price increases," the report

IT ALSO said the recent history-making offshore federal lease sales off Louisiana, California and Texas should help, as should a complaint, unheard for years in the Rocky Mountains, that drilling rigs are in short supply.

Two of the industry's top spokesmen have said a tremendous increase in exploratory drilling and capital outlay will be needed to meet domestic oil and gas requirements the next 12

Frank N. Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said consumers the fact exploratory drilling has dropped 40 per cent within a decade and that proved reserves of domestic crude oil have declined in four of the past eight years. He said long range estimates of demand for petroleum indicate a need to discover 74 billion barrels of new reserves by 1950.

HAROLD M. McCLURE JR. of Alam, Mich., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said the exploratory drilling rate should be doubled.

McClure's association estimates that rotary drilling rig activity in 1967 was 57 per cent below 1956, wildcat completions 45 per cent lower, total completions 41 per cent lower, and that the total footage drilled was 30 per cent lower. During the same period, the association reports, crude oil prices increased 4 per cent but oil field machinery prices increased 18 per cent, oil well casing prices increased 29 per cent, and hourly wages for the drilling industry increased 41 per cent.

REPRIMAND OF SON ENDS IN TRAGEDY

KING CITY (UPI) - A eprimand for speeding from the mother of a 17year-old Gilroy youth had tragic consequences Friday when the boy was struck and killed by another car on Highway 101 near Greenfield.

Highway Patrol officers said George Louis Chavez was driving north with his mother when she slapped him for going too fast.

The boy parked the car on the side of the road and got out, apparently intending to hitchhike back to King City. As he crossed the highway Chavez was hit by another car.

Crackdown Asked on Oil Price Rise

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., urged the White House Saturday to take steps to halt what he called recent inflationary price increases in petroleum prod-

Commuter Logjam in N.Y. Looms

NEW YORK (A) -- Long Island Railroad repairmen refused Saturday to work overtime to clear a backlog of disabled trains, and the outlook for thousands of commuters Monday was for more disruption of service.

A spokesman for the carricr, the nation's busiest commuter line, said that "so far" carmen have refused overtime despite a federal court order which mandated a union declaration that there was no "policy" against extra work.

U.S. District Court Judge Orrin G. Judd on Friday ordered an end to an alleged ślowdown by car repairmen declaring, "The union members have determined to keep the number of completed cars as low as they can without being brought up on disciplinary charges."

Lodge 886, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, representing 900 members, has denied any slowdown, charging that obsolete equipment requires more work by an undersized

Federal regulations require that cars be inspected every 30 days.

"I am hopeful the President will now bring his great prestige to hear on the petroleum price situation," said Proxmire, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, in a statement issued by his office here.

THE OIL industry is taking advantage of the con-sumer, and it is contributing significantly to the inflationary forces operating in the economy by raising the price of No. 2 fuel (home heating oil) and gasoline with little evident justification," he said.

Proxmire said he had written to Dr. Arthur M. Okum, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, to ask about the effect of the price increases.

Okum informed him that the 1-cent-a-gallon gasoline price increase in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic states would cost consumers about $200 million and that the increase in the price of No. 2 fuel will cost consumers in the Northeast alone $50 million, Proxmire said, adding:

"The potential impact of spreading the increase in gasoline prices throughout the nation could be even greater than the impact of the threatened general increase in steel prices would have been."

THE MOBIL Oil Corp., in a statement in defense of the oil industry, said Mobil's selective increases in the prices of gasoline and No. 2 fuel oil were justified in the face of increasing costs and other competitive conditions."

Saying the average price of gasoline, excluding tax, increased only 2 per cent nationwide between 1957 and the end of 1967, while federal and state taxes on gasoline increased 20 per cent, Mobil said Proxmire's charges "obscure and ignore the fact that gasoline has been and continues to be a bargain.

Mobil said the increase cost would be about $7 for a car owner who drives 9,000 to 10,000 miles a

INCHES COUNT IN GIRLS' RACING

LONDON (AP)- Girls with big bosoms could have as much as a four-inch advantage over their less endowed rivals in the sprints at the Olympic

So suggested the editor of Britain's Tailor and Cutter magazine, recognized authority on this side of the Atlantic about what men and women should

And at least three of Britain's girl athletes

"It stands to reason that in a close finish girls who are well blessed have a much better chance than those who are not," said 19-year-old Lillian Lillian - statistics 36-34-37 - is Britain's big hope in the Olympic 400-meter race in Mexico City in October.

Della James, a 19-year-old British Olympic sprint hope with a figure of 32-25-33, said: "I have actually lost a race because of this lack of bosom. It came to a photo finish and the other girl had a bigger bust than me. So she won. "Nevertheless, I wouldn't try to increase the size of mine. You never know what might happen. Anyway it's more weight to carry.'

Janet Simpson, 23-year-old British hope in the 400 meters, remarked wryly: "I would love to have a big bust. But if I did I think I would have to stop running. I think it would be painful."

Janet kept her vital statistics strictly to her-

John Taylor, editor of Tallor and Cutter, wrote under the headline "Bronze Medal --- or Bust."

"In a close photo finish, the kind of extended uplift which used to play such an important part in the silhouettes of the fashionable young lady a few years ago, could nose out - if that's the phrase we are searching for - a dead-heating rival who follows the current in-ness the opposite of the out-ness of the Twiggy look" he said.

As if you didn't know, Twiggy is the British model with a figure like a pencil.

Taylor commented: "She who breasts the tape at 36-23-32 has four inches start on the girl who can only manage 32-23-32..."

Maybe this is something else for the Olympic medical commission to look into. Already it is testing girls to determine if they are male or female and keeping a close watch on drug taking.

ANNOUNCES

VA No Down or FHA (Minimum Down) Watch for the London Bus . . . Only 4 Points for Seller and Give the Listing to Us!

August Sales reaching All Time High September even looks better!

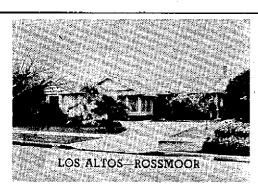

SALES DEPEND UPON FINANCING -- HODGES

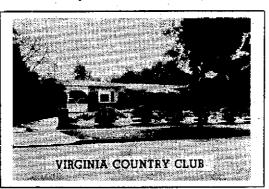

Rex L. Hodges Realty proves there is still plenty of excellent financing available.

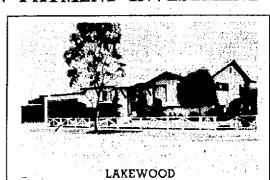

You can presently buy FHA and VA property at no money down and 63/4% interest with payments less than rent when transaction is handled by the Rex L. Hodges Realty Company.

Rex L. Hodges Realty guarantees the loan commitments on the above four-point programs for 45 days regardless of how much the money market changes. We know the cost of money is going still higher but that's our job to protect you against spiraling costs. That is why it makes good sense to list or sell your property through the Rex Hodges Company, where you receive the extra benefits developed through 80,000 satisfied customers, 39 years of heritage, 13 offices and 125 salespeople.

MOST HOME OWNERS EARN 50% TO 100% YEARLY ON THEIR DOWN PAYMENT INVEST

IMPORT, SPORT CARS Miscellaneous It makes time other small cars shouldn't Where traffic's heavy but calling, and trucks are throwing their weight around, it's not the ideal place for small cars to make time. But the SAAB V-4 is no ordinary small car. It is out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive, Se it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves, and other drivers' mistakes. I Most prelinary small cars don't give, even as options, all the standard SAAB sofety features.)

As an optional extra, our new V4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE

New Bridge Railing Safe, Yet View Unhindered

Construction of railings of an advanced safety design on the San Diego-Coronado Bridge has begun, the Division of Bay Toll Crossings announced last week.

The smoothly contoured solid concrete railings are designed to deflect vehicles (see above) at the wheels and return them to traffic without damage.

The railings will be 34 inches high, providing an unobstructed view from the curving bridge now rising to a height of 200 feet over San Diego Bay.

The design is a modification of that known to engineers as the New Jersery Barrier. It has been exhaustively tested at the General Motors Proving Grounds and at the California Division of Highways crash-test center.

The tests show that cars striking the barrier at an angle of less than 10 degrees, even at high speeds, are redirected to the traffic lane with minimal damage to the car and minor injuries to the driver.

At angles greater than 10 degrees, there is increasing severity of damage and injury as the car is deflected back on to the roadway. Traffic reports show that a majority of railing accidents are casual, low-angle impacts.

The railings will extend for 2.6 miles on the sides of the bridge and its approaches.

A contract for the construction was awarded in June by the Department of Public Works to the W. F. Maxwell Co. of Fontana. The Maxwell bid of $417,570.00 was the lowest of three received. The high bid was $658,921.00.

Long Beach Foundry Outfitted for Exacting Space Age Work

By ROBERT BECKMAN Progress Section Editor

Until recently, the ever necessary analysis of alloying elements - such as tungsten - required 24

At Centrifugal Products, Inc., Long Beach, the time-consuming and often difficult wet chemical method nevertheless was accepted - as in other foundries across the land.

All that has changed.

What once took 24 hours now can be done in less than two minutes.

And with an accuracy better than 1 per cent of the nominal concentration.

CENTRIFUGAL Products, in business in Long Beach since 1943 and located at 3245 Cherry Ave., is the first foundry in the Southland to lease a General Electric XRD-5 x-ray spectrometer.

Vice President Burton Falk said a high percentage of aerospace work being done by his firm makes exacting analysis of metals and alloys "ready for casting" necessary as never before.

Scrap or new material received at the Cherry.

Avenue company also must be analyzed before use,

IN THE final stages of alloying, a "button" is ladled out and the half-pound sample is hurried through the x-ray examination.

Assured by Antal (Tony) Lener, chief chemist, the concentrations are exact, casting can proceed.

In keeping with the company's policy of providing customers with the best available product analysis, a new General Electric XRD-6VS vacuum spectrometer also has been installed in the laboratory.

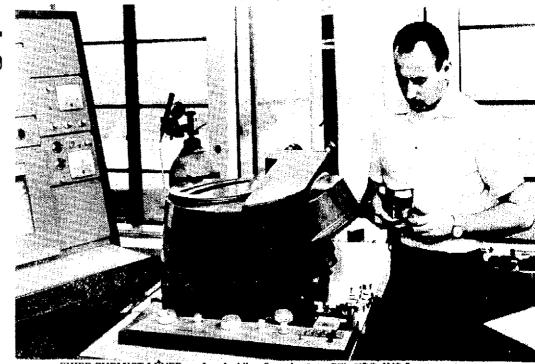

The new vacuum spectrometer is more accurate, faster and is capable of detecting elements as "light"

LENER said the instrument is used for analyzing over 100 samples for up to 14 elements each during a

The XRD-6VS spectrometer includes a dual target (tungsten and chromium) x-ray tube for fluorescent excitation of all elements in the periodic table heavier than fluorine.

Data from the x-ray spectrometer is fed into an in house computer, which corrects the percentage composition of each element in proportion to the amount of "interfering elements."

PLANNED expansion and research programs at Centrifugal are expected to present an even greater challenge than the technical advances of recent Expansion plans at Centrifugal's five-acre Long Beach plant include new centrifugal casting equipment to manufacture longer tubes (up to 13 feet long), while investigations are now underway to explore techniques of vacuum melting and casting remelt ingot alloys, Falk said.

Lear, who has leased space at the old Stead Air Force Base near here, said he will at first buy auto chassis for his steamers from Detroit manufacturers and put engines in them. He hopes the big car manufacturers eventually will buy his engines for their own steam-powered mod-

HE EXPECTS an initial minimum daily production of 100 of his "external combustion" engines, in which fuel will be converted into heat to create steam.

At first, the "Leardyne" steamer will cost about $500 more than an ordinary autombile.

"But in the long range, we will produce steam power units in line with present prices," Lear said. "We will have to have a car that will compete with the present auto industry."

The main advantage of the steam engine is the elimination of smog, Lear said. It will burn fuel so completely that smog-causing exhaust fumes will be eliminated. Present internal combustion engines only partially burn the fuel.

IN ADDITION, fuel will be cheaper for the steamer. the engine will be quiel, and the car will be easy to operate because it will have

The two trains will make six round trips a day within Ohio Power's Muskingum Mine, operating between the mining area and the coal conveyor terminal.

THE MINE is being expanded to serve the fuel needs of a 615,000-kilowatt generating unit being added to Ohio Power's existing 880,000-kw Musingum River Plant at Beverly.

According to GE officials, the E-50 carries its own rectifying equipment, thereby allowing the train's overhead catenary wire to take power through a specially designed electric railroad transformer from a nearby power line.

Only one substation with this transforming equipment is needed.

The six-axle locomotive will use solid-state rectifiers to convert the 60-cps to a-c to d-c for the locometive traction motors located on each axle.

The locomotive control system will utilize a combination of transformer tap changing and silicon control rectifiers (SCRs) and represents the first U.S. application of thyrister control to locomotive equip-

Maintenance costs on these locomotives are expected to be less than onchalf those of a comparable diesel-electric locomotive and their life is anticipated to he nearly double.

The trains will be automatically controlled, in-cluding the loading, unloading and terminal-to-terminal operating cycles. No operating crew is required.

Southland Business Activity Remaining Bright

Business Editor

Southern California business activity showed a healthy advance the first half of 1968 on nearly every front. And, only the housing picture is showing signs of clouds gathering to dampen the outlook for the last half of Record-breaking industrial production is probably the most significant element in Southern California's economic growth rate the first half of 1968, says Security Pacific National Bank's Economic Research Department.

Business activity was up nearly 11 per cent the first half of the year compared to the same period last year. Maunfacturing employment, manufacturing payrolls and industrial power sales are cited as significant indicators of the increased industrial activity.

First half manufacturing employment in the Los Angeles-Orange County area averaged 995,900, up 2.9 per cent from year earlier. Aerospace employment in the two counties accounted for 429,800 workers, increasing by 4.5 per cent over a year's time. Manufacturing payrolls were 6.3 per cent higher.

The dollar volume of business loans by area commercial banks averaged 14.7 per cent above the year-earlier period. Business failures have sharply decreased.

EMPLOYMENT IN THE SOUTHLAND'S 11 metropolitan counties averaged more than 4.6 million, up 3.5 per cent. Nearly 3.5 million of the Southland's civilian workers were employed in the Los Angeles-Orange County area where 110,000 additional workers have been employed in a

The ratio of unemployed to the Southland's total metropolitan civilian labor force averaged 4.4 per cent during the first half of 1968 while a year ago the first half averaged 4.8 per cent. The comparable decrease on the Los Angeles-Orange County area was from 4.5 to 4.2 per cent.

Southern California's mid-year population is estimated at 12.7 million. The addition of 220,000 residents since June of 1967 is the equivalent to having added a city the size of Syracuse, N.Y. or Richmond, Va., to the southern half of the state. Since the census of 1960, the Southern California population has increased by more than 2.7 mil-

PERSONAL INCOME OF CALIFORNIANS advanced rapidly the first quarter this year, due in part to increased Social Security payouts and a higher minimum wage. First quarter personal income reached an annual rate of $73.5 billion, up 3.2 per cent from the preceding quarter and up 7.2 per cent from the first quarter of 1967.

Bank deposits throughout California were 10.3 per cent higher in the first half this year.

Taxable retail sales in Southern California were 11 per cent ahead of a year ago with all major classifications of stores showing an increase. Those sales advanced to an all-time seasonably adjusted high of $4 billion during the first quarter.

Statewide, department stores showed a first quarter gain of 11.2 per cent and the first half gain in Southern California was 8.3 per cent with sales slipping in April and rebounding in May and June, Consumer prices rose more rapidly than they have in many years. Los Angeles-Orange County consumer price index, based on 1957-59, was 4.2 per cent higher during the first five months of this year than the comparable period last year. Health and recreation prices climbed 6 per cent, apparel and upkeep prices were up 4.4 per cent. Smallest percentage changes were in food and in housing. Each increased 3 per cent.

ON THE BASIS OF FIRST HALF activity, construction could reach $4 billion for the entire year in Southern California. First half activity has risen 13 per cent above last year's pace. Most of this year's gain has taken place in residential construction.

But, while in the midst of what started off as a good year, more forecasts are heard of trouble ahead.

'I'm warning our people to look out for a rough second half," said George A. Christie, chief economist of the F. W. Dodge Division of McGraw Hill Information Systems and shepherd of statistical reports that are watched widely for evidence of which way the construction industry is turning.

Dr. Michael Sumichrast, economist, who watches the key indicators for the National Association of Home Builders, says: "We've had a fairly good first five months quite a turn around from a year ago - but now we are seeing negative signs." He predicted a sharp drop in housing starts before the year ends.

MEANWHILE, REAL ESTATE SALES activity in Los Angeles County is running 18.3 per cent ahead of last year as measured by the number of deeds filed. Real estate loan Angeles and Orange counties is up 14 per cent from $2.3 billion during the first half of last year to $2.6 billion the first half of this year. Home building costs were up 2.9 per cent in the Los Angeles area the first quar-

Another noteworthy gain for Southern California was in crude petroleum production which shows 5.8 per cent more this year. Continued development of new fields, areas, pools and field extensions is accounting for the increase in California's most important mineral commodity.

RETURNING TO THE HOUSING situation, the next to largest segment of U.S. eonomy in terms of dollars spent, second only to food, the picture seemed very bright as the new year opened and it still may prove strong all year. There was and is a strong pent-up demand for housing which for two below-par years had not met current

Housing starts sloped sharply downward in 1966 as a credit squeeze began and the year produced only 1.2 million units, 300,000 below normal. And despite the start of recovery in 1967 there were only 1.3 million new units.

Meanwhile, with the economy strengthening and increased clamor for more urban-renewal spending, signs had pointed toward continued easier money this year to meet housing needs.

Now, however, the forecasters are finding reasons for revising predictions of great housing growth, reports the New York Times. They revolve once more around the interest rates and the money supply. They go back, also, to the tax surcharge that still has not materialized to the extent expected. And, they look ahead to an expected sharp

"ANY CONSTRUCTION WORTH MENTIONING is based either on private lending or public spending," says Christie of McGraw-Hill. "It may be up to the fed and its monetary policy to take the heat off the economy." That would tighten the money market again.

Among the negative signs noted by Sumichrast of the Home Builders has been a sharp drop this year in the flow of money into the savings institutions, the traditional source of financing for the home industry. The savings flow fell $10 billion the first four months this year.

As a result, the economist noted, interest rates have gone up nationally to a range of 7.25 to 7.5 per cent. At these levels usury laws in many states virtually block borrowing for home buyers.

But even 7.5 per cent money is running out now," says Christie. "That's going to be hard to find for single-family homes in the latter part of the year, although there is more money available for multi-family housing."

The difference, he noted, is that apartment buildings with their larger loans in proportion to the servicing costs. are more attractive propositions for investors than single

Refinery Runs, Paperboard in Jumps

The Index slipped 1.0 per cent in the curernt week, reflecting a downward slide in nearly all the components.

Steel output dropped 14.7 per cent below last week. Despite the pre-deadline settlement of the steelworkers' contract, it is predicted that production will continue to move downward in future weeks due to the large amount of stockpiled material.

Auto production fell 28.7 per cent below its week ago level. Although many of the assembly plants are continuing model changeover, nearly all of the Chrysler plants have begun production of the 1969 models. The remaining Big Three plants are expected to begin new-car production in the next few weeks.

The energy components offset each other with a 1.0 per cent slip in electric power output and a 0.1 per cent gain in crude oil refinery runs.

The surface transportation components dipped downward in the current week. Miscellaneous carloadings dropped 3.9 per cent, all other carloadings inched 0.5 per cent downward and intercity truck tonnage fell 1.9 per cent below a week ago.

Paperboard production continued to increase in the latest week with a 5.2 per cent rise. Production is 21.7 per cent higher than the year ago level.

is beginning to appear that the summer doldrums have really set in," notes Shearson, Hammill & Co.

Positive factors on the horizon, such as lesser monetary restraint by the Federal Reserve Board, potential settlement or de-escalation of the war and investor optimism over a new administration, the firm considers of insufficient magnitude to provide a 'basis for a no-holds-barred hullish attitude."

However, if the market holds its own until the summer passes, the firm feels, "there should be enough enouragement to lure interest back into stocks."

Wiesenberger Investment Report says that investor reaction to the slowdown in the economy will "depend upon confidence in the ability and willingness of the next administration to take whatever steps are necessary to reflate the economy once it has been sufficiently cooled off."

E. F. Hutton & Co. points out that only four short weeks ago the Dow-Jones Industrial Average was at its 1968 peak thus far.

"What has occurred since July 15 is history, but it would be hard to recall any other period in market when there has been such an abrupt change in the tone and psychological background of the market," the firm comments.

However, fears of the pessimists may be exaggerated, the firm contends for in the admittedly brief period since the lax increase went into effect, corporation carnings have remained "good reading" and consumer spending has continued at a high level.

Chief Says Interest 'Stabilized'

Mortgage financing has entered a new era where higher interest rates and tighter credit should be considered normal, Robert W. Karpe of Bakersfield, president of the California Real Estate Association, said last week.

"Expanding economic activity in our country is creating a larger demand for money to finance it than there is available," Karpe said, "a condition that will be with us for years to come."

He said competition for funds and resistance to higher interest rates "have stabilizéd mortgage interest rates at 7-71/2 percent

"We will see minor fluctuations," he added, "as government tinkers with the economy and the Vietnam war situation changes, but I don't foresee any major change up or down."

CITING the income tax surcharge that just went into effect as an example, he said that most economic reports indicate it is already having a cooling effect on the nation's superheated economy.

"This traditionally, a few months later, causes increases in savings accounts," he said, "at the same time taking the edge off the demand for money to finance industrial expansion. That means more money for mortgage financ-

"We have a tremendous back log of demand for housing which will immediately take up the slack, causing the kind of balance in interest rates I foresee."

Computer Runs Texas Oil Field Operations

Special to Progress Section

HOUSTON - A computerized system to measure and control oil field production operations is being developed by Humble Oil & Refining Company.

The first installation of the system is being made in the Friendswood Field, 20 miles southeast of Houston.

Humble will use the Friendswood installation, which is scheduled to begin operations in September, to evaluate the technical effectiveness of the system in monitoring and gathering data and in performing control functions.

If the system proves successful, Humble said it will be of significant economic benefit to the oil industry.

"THE COMPUTER system performs such actions as starting and scopping oil field pumps, switching valves, testing wells automatically and reporting actual production information such as oil, water and gas volumes. Telephone, radio or microwave systems can be used to relay information and signals between the field and the computer location.

The project is a combination information and control system with the major emphasis on information, according to Humble. Faster receipt and analysis of information will allow the production personnel to make more effective decisions in meeting the field's operating needs.

This will result in maximum allowed oil and gas productinn levels from all Eleven Humble accountants and engineers are working on development of the computer production control system. Work began approximately 18 months ago.

A SINGLE computer, such as the IBM 1800 located in Humble's Houston headquarters, has the capability of handling several thousand oil or gas wells, Humble said,

The computer performs its opration by scanning routine field operatons 24 hours a day at intervals of 5 to 15 minutes. It gathers data from an assortment of analog and digital measuring devices at the well, senarator or treating levels of the oil field.

The computer reports any operation which appears to be other than normai.

Improved information which is gathered by the computer system will enable company production personnel to engage in more sophisticated analytical and diagnostic techniques and to provide a faster response to operating needs, according to POSITIONED ON EITHER SIDE of a runway, the reflectors do the job of a conventional airport lighting system at less than half the installation cost and with no continuing costs for power and maintenance. Roche said.

The LARS units are designed as a primary lighting system for airports without lights, and are also useful as a backup system at lighted airports in case of power failure. The reflectors can also be used to mark base lines at the end of runways with conventional lighting equipment, as at the Čatalina Airport.

The system also can be used in an emergency involving an aircraft seeking to land without lights simply by parking an auto at the end of the runway Roche, president of Flight Aids, Inc., 100 E. Ocean source is sufficient to light any number of reflector units the entire length of a 5,000-foot runway, he maintains.

PILOTS OF THE CATALINA Air Lines Aero Commuter service from Long Beach to Catalina after dark report excellent visibility from the backup system installed there.

At the San Juan Capistrano airstrip, the LARS units are coupled with a Lockheed-developed visualapproach path indicator, also sold nationally by Flight Aids, Inc. The Lockheed device projects colored beams at pre-determined elevations to tell pilots if they are on the correct glide slope.

A pilot lines his aircraft up with the runway with the assistance of the LARS reflectors, then checks the approach path indicator at one side of the field. If he sees a green light, he is on a safe approach; if amber, too high and if red, too low. Lockheed claims the 700 candlepower beam is visible in clear weather at night for distances up to 10 nautical miles.

NEW DELHI, India (49) India's automobile industry could use an Asian Henry Ford.

The industry has a market that would turn Detroit green with envy. Even the used-car market is virtually unbelieveable --- autos six years old sometimes sell for more than the new price.

And yet, there is unhappiness in all quarters, among the manufacturers, distributors and the buyers.

Three makes of auto are produced in India - the Ambassador, an old model Oxford made under license from Britain; the Fiat, under license from Italy, and the Standard Herald, under license from Britain's Triumph manufacturer.

THE MANUFACTUR-ERS complain that import regulations and other controls prevent them from getting good components not yet produced in India. Distributors complain of government rules and say that the manufacturers do not give satisfactory warranties on their products.

Most vociferous, however, are the people who buy these cars. The newspapers are full of complaints against poor quality. Members of Parliament echoed these complaints until an inquiry committee was appointed. The committee earlier this year issued a long list of recommendations, including a call for quality control, rigorous predelivery inspection of cars, and longer and more meaningful warranties.

ALL TOLD, the committee had 28 recommendations for the manufacturers, 18 for spare-parts manufacturers, seven for dealers and 13 for the government itself.

After the government announced its acceptance of the recommendations, the newspaper Hindu said in an editorial: "The Indian motorist will hope that something concrete will emerge . . before many more substandard cars enter the market."

OLD MODELS SELL FOR FORTUNE

Warranties, which had been for only six months, now are supposed to be issued for one year, or 9,600 miles.

Until recently, prospective buyers had to wait as long as seven years to get delivery of a car after the order was placed. The sharp recession of the past two years changed much of this, however. People who found themselves in financial difficulty withdrew from the waiting lists.

* * * * ALSO, production is up, to 33,339 in 1967 from 24,700 in 1965. In contrast, U.S. firms make about 200,000 every week.

One New Delhi dealer recently advertised that a new car could be bought on the spot. This, of course, is provided the buyer has 18.810 rupees cash, a lot of money in India.

That price - amounting to $2,500 - will purchase a small automobile which will seat four adults, not too comfortably. In Detroit parlance it would be considered a compact.

India's Car Market A Paradise

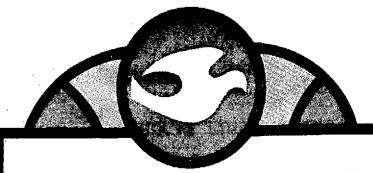

There are no different styles, no convertibles or station wagons, no superpowered engines or automatic transmissions, no power steering or power brakes, on tinted glass, no radios or heaters, and no electrical powered windows or six-position seats.

THERE are about six different colors, but the buyer gets the one that happens to have been delivered when his name comes

These factors make for-ular, and the government began to capitalize on this several years ago when it required all foreigners selling automobiles to do so through the State Trading Corp.

HUD-Industry Feud Grows Bitter

The gap between the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the private housing industry is getting a little wider.

HUD's "new approach" to housing problems is scarcely two months old and already one spokesman for homebuilders has taken it to task.

House and Home magazine, a New York publication for builders, has entitled its July editorial on the HUD policy change, "How to Blow $1 Million-plus to Justify a Research Budget You Don't Know How to Use." H&H means every word it says.

The target of the blast is HUD's program of "in-city" experiments in low cost. housing for private industry in seeking more efficient methods of planning and building in the urban

ACCORDING to H&H, the program was illplanned and poorly organized, political pressures influenced the allocation of funds, the building industry was bypassed and, if all this isn't bad enough, it was not the answer to the problem.

HUD's reaction has been as strong as the charges. In denying the charges, the housing agency accused H&H of being confused, said the publication cited only half the evidence and that it had not been friendway. HUD hopes H&H will use its letter in its August

All this only underscores the basic gap between HUD and the homebuilders.

While both HUD and homebuilders speak of housing for the poor in the tone reserved for mother's pie and Old Glory, they both view each other as enemies. The homebuilders look on HUD as government interference by people with little or no experience in construction while wishes wistfully that the homebuilders would Also unveiled was Thomas F. Rogers, a former Defense Department systems analyst who was to coordinate HUD's technical programs with other federal agencles and the cities.

IN MAY, HUD annonced its "in-city" program. Its aim was to attract private industry help in solving the problems of building large scale low income housing in a short period of time. The experiment was to take place in 20 cities so there would be a wide range of experience.

The 19 firms which bid were winnowed down to three finalists who were asked to do preliminary surveys over a six-week period. The engineering division of Kaiser Industries Inc. of California finally Boos and catcalls from THE "IN-CITY" program House and Home magazine followed shortly.

> First, said H&H "Only aerospace groups, think-tanks and a few architectural firms were asked directly to bid. Nobody with any expertise in housing to speak of was invited."

Medallion Homes... Fresh, Clean.

Medallion Electric Homes are fresh and clean because they are flameless. Think about that. It makes all the difference. No open flame.

In the kitchen, walls, ceilings and curtains all stay cleaner because flameless electric cooking is so much cleaner. Electric kitchens stay cooler, too, because electric heat goes into the food, not into the air.

In a Medallion Home, you can have whole-house flameless electric heating with room by room temperature control. Whole-house electric air conditioning is another of the wonderful features you can have.

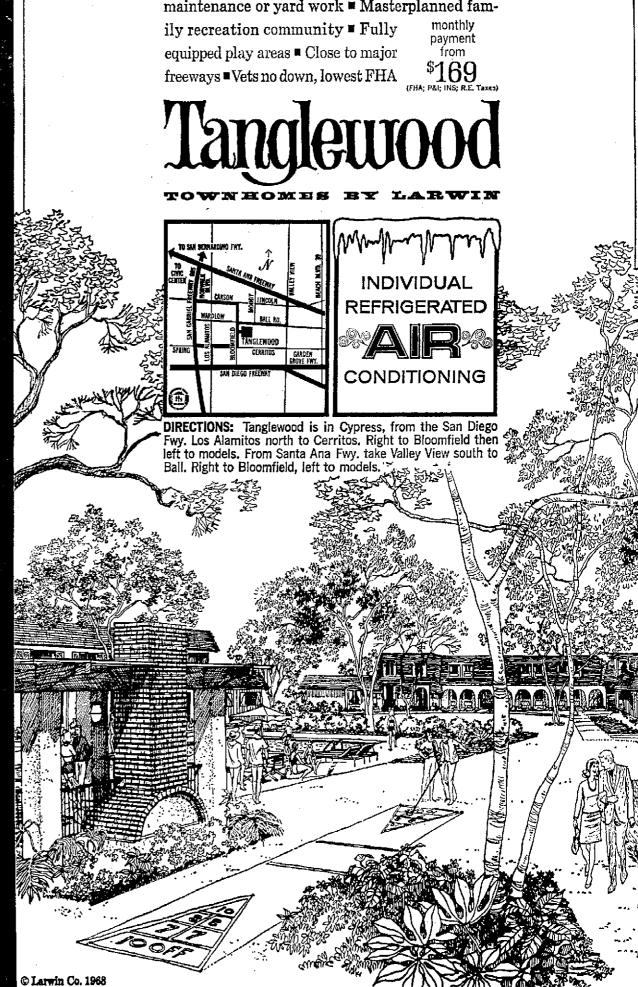

Water heating can be done flamelessly, as well. With electric water heating there's no tell-tale odor and no fumes to vent. Electric water heaters last much longer. There are no vents for combustion fumes, so they save Southern California Edison space and can be hidden away almost anywhere.

It goes without saying that a Medallion Home will have well planned lighting and plentiful outlets. Plus 240-volt circuits for those modern, heavy duty appliances that save so much time and work.

Only in a Medallion Home will you be ready to take advantage of the miracles of electric living that are still to come. Medallion Homes have built-in provision for the electric innovations of tomorrow.

The future is all-electric. A Medallion Electric Home is ready for the future today. Look for the Medallion Home Emblem on homes in all sizes and price ranges.

MR. MELTZER: I spent $24,000 for a new home five years ago. Now I'm trying to sell it, but am not doing too well. After four months, the best offer I've gotten is $20,000.

I admit, I haven't spent a penny on the house in all the time I've owned it. Friends

Automotive Personality of the Week

Our subject this week is the newest dealer to make the local scene, Vince Klos, operates Lakewood Center Chrysler-Plymouth at 4919. Candlewood Ave., adjacent to Lakewood Cen-

Vince said hello to the world in Long Island, N.Y., and went to college in Indianapolis where his first love was medicine. But the embryo doctor didn't cater to cadavers and soon switched his studies to the world of finance which was to stand him in good stead later in the automotive world.

In 1951, Klos, migrated to Lakewood and started selling used cars in Bellflower. At this time he decided on a lifetime career in auto sales and decided he would work for one of the "big three" manufacturers. This resulted in another used car sales job at Central Chevrolet in Los Angeles and a step up the ladder to finance manager there, a job he held five years. Then it was back to selling used cars, this time at Parkwood Chevrolet in Lakewood where in a short time he brought the company from the 35th to third in used car sales among all Chevy dealers in the zone. Vince soon had the general manager's spot at Parkwood and then was made vice president of the firm.

In December, 1967, the dream of every car salesman came true as Klos took over the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership in Lakewood, one of the newest and most modern Chrysler stores in the West. He says that since taking over his sales have doubled and service department volume is up

200 per cent. I asked Klos if he had any pertinent comments on his role as one of the leading Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in the area - and he had a ready response. "People rave and rant about how they are stymied by the government at every turn in the operation of their business, with exhorbitant taxes and red tape.

But that's not my feeling. "Take myself. From a rather humble beginning I've been able to manage a sales outlet for one of America's biggest corporations. I love the challenge of hard work, the American free enterprise system and I don't mind at all paying my share of running the government. There's still opportunity today for anyone who goes after it."

By ART STEPHAN Auto Editor

By BERNARD MELTZER tell me that the cause of my trouble is the condition of my property. Accordingly, I've been getting bids from contractors. One has offered a very sensible program of adding a game room, enlarging the garage, and a new patio --all in addition to putting the house back in condition equal to new.

Although the improvements would cost $6,000, he is willing to finance it for me. Best of all, he says the value of the house will go up at least $10,000. I'm about to accept his offer fur this is about the only way I can see of breaking even. What do you say? MR. D.W.

ANSWER: Expensive home improvements are often sold with the theme, "They add many times their price to the value of the house." Rarely is this

In fact, the opposite is usually the case. The amount added to value is more often a fraction of the cost. Home improvement must be viewed from the standpoint of personal enjoyment and convenience of the family, not from the value standpoint.

Since the house was new five years ago, I would recommend, at most, papering and painting together with fixing up items that obviously need attention. If anything, this program is the only one that will give back several times the costs. If value has dropped, it is because of a more basic reason, and not because of lack of home improve-

Twenty years ago, when I bought my house, the taxes were $206 per year. The population of the county has doubled in the past twenty years, but my taxes more than tripled (now $720 a year).

I don't understand what's happening. Every time a new development goes in or a new apartment house is built, I keep reading about the new rateables that are coming. Logically, taxes should be going down. Yet, now only are they increasing but even increasing faster than we are growing. What's the explanation?

MR, O.C. ANSWER: It may come as a shock, but taxes do not go down as a community grows - they go up. As a general rule, the larger the community the higher the taxes. Taxes are lowest in sparsely populated and rural areas. As the density of an area increases, the services furnished and the need for services increases more than proportionately this is why taxes go up at a Moving ahead for completion in time for the new school year, construction is being rushed on the popular new East park Unit at George M. Holstein and Sons' Bluffs community this week.

Nearly sold out in record time, a few of the three and four-bedroom homes are still available, prior to completion, with prices starting as low as $25,500, the pioneer home building firm stressed.

Along with the homes underway in the Eastpark unit, several other choice sites are being offered in the just completed Bahia group along with advanced reservations in the new Marina series, the sales agents pointed out.

BLUFF PRICES range from $25,500 to $45,000 and offer a wide variety of plans and exteriors above the Upper Newport Bay.

The site is within walking distance to schools, churches, shops and the popular Newport Beach Tennis Club in the fast growing Eastbluff area of the Irvine Ranch.

Plastics In Wider Use in Remodeling, New Housing

The casual eye will not notice, but plastic is now used extensively in remodeling and new construction to create entire finished walls and roofs.

This plastic is called polyvinyl chloride (PVC), and it is used to manufacture siding and shingles along with window and door trim, gutters, downspouts and roofing for many homes.

The Air Force is a major user of PVC. So are the builders of many major housing projects. More and more homeowners are using it, too.

The great advantage of PVC as a finished surface is that no matter how much wear or just plain abuse it receives it continues to look fresh and new.

Painting is literally a thing of the past. The reason for this is quite simple: the plastic is a monolithic product — it is the same all the way through, including the color.

SO THE plastic will not dent, pool, blister, scratch, rot, mildew or be food for insects, including termites.

or twelve-foot lengths, are cut to size on the job with standard tools, and are nailed up to the existing wall surface. Trim is applied around doors and windows and at the angles of walls and at eaves.

The plastic is a natural insulating material, But it is wise to have the panels installed with either fiberboard or foam insulating material inserted behind the plastic. The extra cost is nominal, about 15 per

BUT IT'S worth it. A reduction in heat loss of up to 40 per cent can be achieved. That provides important operational savings for heating and air conditioning equipment.

The plastics industry is now in its 100th year. Many plastics are used in building construction, and polyvinyl chloride siding is one of the most important.

QUESTION: I have had a number of home remodeling contractors in to discuss an addition which will make my kitchen and dining area larger. Most estimates are in the $6,000-$8,000 range, but I was surprised to find that a contractor whose company is headquartered in a town more than 40 miles away has the lowest estimate. Would you feel, all other things being equal, that he can do the job efficiently and service us properly? ANSWER: Distance is certainly the thing to think about here. He can hire carpenters and subcontractors in your city, but he might have difficulty in supervising them unless he is regularly doing work in the community. Too there is a matter of communicating service after the job is at the start, but perhaps done? It's very easy to your major concern should gloss over these problems be to find out if he is going

Chiefs Beat Cards With 24-Yard FG

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) minutes remaining and a 38-- Jan Stenerud's 24-year field goal early in the fourth quarter, after St. Louis gambled and failed on a fourth down play, gave the Kansas City Chiefs a bitterly fought 13-10 exhibition victory over the Cardinals Saturday night.

Kansas City sports crowd of 4,462 kept the Chiefs record perfect in three preseason starts.

The Cardinals' Jim Bakken, who missed four field goals, failed on a 52-yard attempt with less than five yard try in the closing two minutes. St. Louis, in its first meeting against an American Football League rival, is now 1-1.

with 9:27 left in the game came after the Cardinals gambled on a fourth-andone situation on their own 40. The Chiefs' with tackles Ernie Ladd and Buck Buchanan playing for the first time together in this game, stopped Willis Crenshaw at the line of scrimmage. Kansas City, sticking to the ground, drove 23 yards to the Cardinal 17 in five plays to set up Stenerud's game-winning boot.

The two clubs had traded first quarter field goals and third period touchdowns before the final stanza.

Quarterback Jim Hart's 57-yard pass to flanker Dave Williams set up Crenshaw's one-yard scoring plunge early in the second half, but the Chiefs scored the equalizer on a six-play 60-yard march — 44 yards on penalties - minutes lat-

Fullback Wendell Hayes scored on a one-yard smash late in the third quarter after a pass interference call against St. Louis defensive back Brady Keys gave the Chiefs the ball on the one.

Stenerud kicked Kansas City to a 3-0 lead early in the game with a 37-yarder but Bakken toed a 38-yarder for St. Louis with 1:17 left in the quarter.

Bakken also mssed a 17year attempt and had a 31yard try blocked by Ladd in the second quarter. 3 0 7 6—10 3 0 7 3—13

The clients compose:

"Where were the Dodgers when the lights went out? Down in the cellar, without a doubt. Let's sell Walter Alston to the San Diego Padres. Don Drysdale could make the Dodgers a good manager with Maury Wills as his assistant. Why not give it a second thought? The players have lost their confidence in Alston, same as me." (signed) A Disgruntled Fan, Long Beach.

Dear D.F.: Both Drysdale and Wills have expressed the desire to manage and they said they'd pattern themselves after Alston. Doesn't sound like any lost confidence

'How about those Dodgers and Angels? The Dodgers won't draw flies next year or after that until they get a mess of hitters and someone else to help Drysdale with the pitching. The Angels should trade Reichardt AND Rigney. Rick will not hit wort ha darn until someone shakes him wip by trading him." (signed) Paul E. Powell, Los Alamitos.

Dear Paul: Reichardt is too big to let a little thing like a trade shake him up. And how do you trade a manager?

"The Angels need a pitching coach. Every game except a very few they use as high as six pitchers and not one of them can throw a strike." (signed) A. J. Gunderson, 1053 Mahanna St.

Dear A.J.: It seems to me the club needs pitchers not a new coach. You still can't make a silk purse out of a

"You wrote recently that Maury Wills thought he was ready now to become the first Negro manager in the major leagues. It's my opinion that the Dodgers' Jim Gilliam is more qualified since he's older and has served an apprenticeship as coach. What do you think?" (signed) Ben Thomas, Compton.

Dear Ben: I go along with your thinking. There is some doubt here that the controversial Wills is stable enough now to undertake the job of handling other men. On the other hand, some baseball people think that Gilliam is too mild to be a successful manager.

"WELL, HERE'S the old tunnel honker again. Yuu practically made me a celebrity when you printed my letter. I had so many calls on your column - mostly from ladies, too, which proves ladies do read the sports pages. Anyway, do you remember one of your predictions about the Dodgers in that column? The last line said, 'Then suddenly Alston gets some athletes who could make his Dodgers a contender in '68'. Ho, ho. They're contenders alright - for last place. I hate to be an I-told-you-so, but didn't I tell you so? When they traded John Roseboro I knew they were dead. I just had to rub it in. Tunnel honkers are like that!" (signed Mrs. R. A. Mote, 551 Silvera Ave.

Dear Mrs. M.: I'd still rather have Tom Haller today than Roseboro. And I still can't stand people who honk their car horns in tunnels. Hope the ladies keep calling

"I just finished reading an account of the many bone fractures Jerry Quarry has had. Would you put in the word to his trainer or doctor to give the poor fellow some nutritional supplements such as bone meal and calcium? He really should see a good nutritionist." (signed) Anne Fickes, 3416 E. Second St.

Dear Anne: Hey, I may try some of that stuff myself. Especially the bone meal. Sounds groovy.

"I enjoyed your column on the expansion deal because I never got the full picture of the operation until then. But you neglected one thing. How are you going to improve the hitting with 120 more minor leaguers pouring into the big leagues?" (signed) Ronald Powers, Torrance. Dear Ronald: Maybe we could feed them some bone meal.

"ON YOUR COLUMN, When Will Sanity In Sports Return?', I say professional athletes are selling a skill and are entitled to bargain. As for 'mass holdouts for pensions,' what is the difference between this and a mass walkout by UAW employees? Unfortunately, a myth has developed that management presents the games for the enjoyment of the public and the players participate because of love of the game, Do you think Walter O'Malley or Dan Reeves invested in their respective franchises solely to please the public? Of course not. When management feels it cannot afford to pay a certain salary, it will refuse. If the player involved feels that he cannot accept the offered salary, he can begin selling life insurance a bit earlier than he previously intended. Neither party is to be harangued because of his action." (signed) Richard Howard, 621 So. Pannes Ave., Compton.

Dear Richard: I'll stick with my original conclusion the Ram holdouts ALREADY had signed contracts and should have adhered to them. Also, the NFL players' walkout because of pension problems seemed to have been timed deliberately to place management's back against the

"As you have noted, baseball is in trouble because of the dull, low-scoring games of late . . . especially the ones  $% \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\}$ aplayed at Dodger Stadium and Anabeim Stadium. The reason in both cases is obvious. Too many swingers are going for the fences and they just can't make it in the big parks. So then the fault lies in the managers and coaches who should order the batters to go for the single and fine those players who don't. Do you have a better suggestion to cure baseball's ills?" (signed) Walter Boles, Lakewood.

Dear Walter: Come to think about it, how about, say, bone meal?

What's a Girl to Do...But Swim?

"You have to give up a lot of stuff and things: going to the beach, sleeping in the morning, staying up late at night . . . but I thought about it once. If I didn't swim I really don't know what I'd do." - Susie Atwood/Ann

A 15-year-old girl, some say, is a floppy sweatshirt, stuffed animals, a self-conscious giggle, the Beatles and

Mom is impossible, dad's from the Dark Ages, all brothers are infants and the new boy in algebra is super-

This is the world; that's all there is to it. The newspaper is Dear Abby and the Jackson Twins, and the TV news is a good time to hit the refrigerator, only slightly concerned that an insatiable appetite may impede one's development as the next sex goddess of the silver screen.

"I eat an awfully lot," says Ann Simmons with girlish honestly. "I always say I'll go on a diet, but I never really do, because when I come home from workouts I'm so hungry I just eat everything in sight."

"I really eat mostly what I want to eat," declares Susie Atwood. "I don't pay any attention to what it is, I like strawberries and spareribs and just about everything. Ann doesn't drink milk because she says it makes her feel real icky, but I drink it and it doesn't bother me at all."

Fairly normal kids, eh . . . but, "workouts?" "We swim from 31/2 to 5 hours a day, and then at night we work on the Exer-genie for about a half-hour," Susie explains, "But we skipped the workout this morning, Our coach was tired.'

THEIR COACH is Jim Montrella of the Lakewood Aquatic Club, who insists he isn't turning out girl commandos. It's just that success in Olympic swimming, men's or women's, demands two factors: youth and training ... the youth, presumably, to withstand the training, which commences daily at 6:45 a.m.

Ann and Susie are competing today in the Junior Olympics meet at Mayfair Park in Lakewood, but that-for them, literally—is child's play.

Next weekend at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium they'll bob for berths on the U.S. women's Olympic team, Ann as a freestyler, Susie in the backstorke.

"That's my major goal," says Ann, "and whether I make it or not I'm going to keep on swimming. I guess I enjoy it, because if I didn't enjoy it I wouldn't be doing

As if a 15-year-old daughter of responsible parents had anything to say about it?

"My parents never push me," Ann says thoughtfully. "But they ask me every once in a while if I still want to keep going. My answer's always yes.

I work out a lot - I mean all day, practically, but I don't know what I'd do with my time because I just go home and sleep now. I can't say what I've missed, because SUSIE AGREES. "You kind of like to have a goal to look forward to. I mean, like if you didn't swim, you'd get up in the morning and go over and see a friend or something, but when you swim it seems like you always have something to look forward to, like a big meet ... like right now the Olympic Trials.

"Every time I have to go swimming, my friends they just say, 'Well, why can't you just not go today?' Most of them don't understand that if you miss just once, well .

There has to be some strong parental influence behind the success of these remarkable girls. Both have been junior high honor students. Susie has been swimming competitively for seven years, Ann for three; together they have enough trophies to fill an Olympic pool.

"My father's president of the club," Susie says, "but my parents don't make me go if I don't want to. I'm swimming and they're not."

Ann, a late starter at 12, says, "It's just hard to believe that I've improved that much. It keeps me wanting to go faster and faster because I think, well, maybe I can improve that much again. I don't think it goes to my head; it just makes me want to work harder."

Then, with a self-conscious shrug, she confesses, "It gives me a thrill."

OBVIOUSLY, AS WOMEN of the world go, these kids haven't been around the block.

"I haven't been interviewed too much," Ann says, "and I always get scared, as you can tell."

But it's asking a lot of a girl to compete in the Olympics before she hardly enters high school. Are they scared about next weekend, too?

"Yes — quite a bit!" Ann admits with a nervous grin. "A lot of times in workouts when it gets hard I always remember that it's the Olympics I'm shooting for, and if I let up a little bit it could hurt me."

Of course, if they don't make the Olympics, there are always other interests for bright and pretty coeds.

I don't have a boy friend," says Susie coolly. "I don't have that much time to think about 'em.''
Ann adds, "I like 'em more than I used to, but I don't really date. I tried it a couple of times. There just isn't any time for it."

A few of their male acquaintances spend too much time being chagrined.

"We don't always beat 'em in meets — just sometimes in workouts," Ann says.

Susie, ton, is still young enough to enjoy dampening the male ego. She always tries to win. "Yeah," she says with satisfaction, "and they always call me 'dummy' or something." Could be she'll change her tactics later, but Susie has another idea

"Maybe I'll find a good boy swimmer!" she smiles.

Diving Trials Open Wednesday

By JOHN DIXON

When the U.S. Olympic Trials begin Wednesday in the Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool, spectators will be viewing the most talented athletes in history of the event.

"A few years ago only a handful possessed the talent to participate in the Olympic Trials," meet chairman L.V. (Bud) Lyndon pointed out, "but now a multitude qualify. Remember, the wider the base, the higher the apex."

Twenty-seven men, 20 women have entered the three-meter and platform competitions, and each one is a champion. That is a qualifying command.

Every diver has either (a) represented the United States in Olympic or Pan-American Games; (b) won a national diving championship, or (c) competed as a finalist in the national collegiate or AAU meets in - 1967 or '68.

Among the favorites in men's events are Larry Andreason, Long Beach Phillips 66, 1964 Olympian in the three-meter dive; Rick

5 Records Broken in Jr. Olympics

Five National Junior Olympic record fell in the final day of preliminaries Saturday in the Junior Olympic swimming meet at Mayfair Park.

Dan Green, 14, of the Lakewood Aquatic Club broke the record in the 200meter breaststroke in 2:44.0 The record was held by Jeff White in 2:47.0.

Mark Chatfield of Phillips 66 lowered his record in the 13-14 100-meter freestyle by nearly a second with a 57.1 clocking. His record was 57.8.

The Lakewood Aquatics netted another record in the girls 15-17 200-meter medley relay. Sue Atwood, Kim Brecht, Ann Bestudik and Donna Everitts overcame the Los Angeles Athletic Club's 2:15.5 mark with a 2:11.2.

Records also fell in the 11-12 100-meter freestyle when Karen Haussen of Oceanside clocked 1:04.3 and in the 15-17 100 meter freestyle by Jim Carey of Sunny Hills, 55.3.

Finals get under way today at 9 a.m. and continue at 2 p.m.

The top man in golfdom's financial sweepstakes is

Tom Weiskopf, whose name still falls slightly short of being a household word. But it will become one some day.

As of this moment, tall Tom, a long-hitting blaster from Ohio, has collected $142,551 this season, not bad for a 25-year-old youngster with only a skimpy background as a necessarily mean that Tom will be dislodged from the top although a faltering start left him tectering on an unsteady perch. What made this such a shock is that pre-tourney estimates rated him good enough to take first women golfers. They wanted to go on the tour but the war was on and they didn't have the money to risk it.

"I went to Nicklaus and Bob Kepler, my coach at Ohio

State," he said, "and asked them if I should look for a sponsor or go it on my own. 'Don't share your winnings with anyone,' they advised. 'You're good enough to make it by yourself.'" in 1965 he produced successive yearly earnings of $12,000,

Tribe Holds Off White Sox Rally

helped Cleveland build a six-run lead and then the Indians staved off a late Chicago rally to defeat the White Sox, 6-5, Saturday.

| "Damm it," he exploded, softening his remark with a sheepish grin. "I get mad at my reputation for getting mad. When I hit a bad shot, it kills me inside. Yet, I've never thrown a club or had a tantrum.  "But Tonnny Bolt, a great guy with young players, finally impressed me with Walter Hagen's philosophy that a golfer should reconcile himself to the fact that he's bound to have a number of bad shots every round. 'Forget them,' said Tommy. 'They're in the past, a part of history. You mustn't let them get you down'." | CHICAGO  CLEVELAND  Aparicio 33 4120 Cardenal (7 32 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 |

makes time shouldn't make

Where traffic's heavy but rolling, and trucks are throwing their weight around, it's not the ideal place for small cars to make time. But the SAAB V-4 is no ordinary small cars. It is out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do, it pulls you around corners, curves, and other drivers' mistakes. (Most ordinary small cars don't give, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety feetures.)

"I'll be walking down that fairway if I have to have a regiment behind me," commented Gardner Dickinson Jr.

These were the sponstaneous reactions Saturday of two members of the Professional Golfers' Assn. players' tournament committee to the latest PGA action in the simmering feud with golf's tournament his muscle proved his undoing. He overhit the green at the 17th and saw the ball bury itself in an embankment on the back side. He left the ball in the deep rough on his first try, finally extricated it for a bogey.

At an emergency meeting in West Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., Friday, the PGA Executive Committee voted to abolish the Players's .Tournament Committee gand put the tour under the direction of Joe Black, a Dallas club pro who formerly was PGA tournament director. The action is effective immediately.

The players were not visibly disturbed by announcement that the Professional Golfers Assn, had fired the players Tournament Committee, which led the recent revolt for an independent

"We'll tee the ball up at Philadelphia next week," Gardener Dickinson, the committee chairman said. "What are they going to do to me — take away my PGA money clip?"

Murphy is now 15 under par for three rounds over 6,648-yard par Westchester course.

Jo Anne Captures Fifth Ladies Title

BIRMINGHAM, (AP) - Jo Anne Gunderson Carner won the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament Saturday, Downing Ann Quast Welts in the 36hole finale 5 and 4.

The long-hitting Seeconk, Mass., girl, who won her Women's seesaw match over the rain-soaked Birmingham Country Club.

Mrs. Welts, herself a three-tie winner of the National Amateur, found herself 2-down after the first nine and fought an uphill battle until she finally evened the match on the 20th hole.

Mrs. Carner wasted no time in moving out in front again as she took the next two holes, one on a birdie, to move out in front to stay. She turned the match into a near rout as she birdied the 12th and 13th holes on the incoming 18 and closed out the match as Mrs. Welts ran into more bugey trouble.

The morning round was delayed 30 minutes as offi-cials hoped the course would dry up a bit after the torrential thunderstorms that racked the area Friday night. Small puddles dotted the fairways and the usual winsmall flood streams. Gasoline pumps were put to work in several traps to bail out the two and three feet of water. But by mid afternoon, the course was pretty well dried out, and both women said they were not bothered by the casual water haz-Mrs. Welts said her main disappointment was with her putter. "I gave it a good

DONNELL CULPEPPER

Dove Picture for Southland Areas

(Editor's note: Donnell Culpepper, if all goes well, should be fishing somewhere in northern Newfoundland or at some outpost camp in Labrador today. He will be away for more than a week. In his absence, others will take over the coverage of outdoor news as it develops here. Today, his close friend, Ward Gillilan, public information officer for the Department of Fish and Game, tells about the dove season that starts Sept. 1).

Unless heavy rain or chilly nights change the present picture, the 1968 dove hunting season which opens statewide on Sunday, Sept. 1 should be one of Southern Cali-

The hunting season on brush, cottontail and pigmy rabbits also opens Sept. 1 in Riverside, San Bernardino and Imperial Counties, eastern Kern County and Northern California. The rabbit season has been open since July 6 in the rest of California.

Right now, the three general areas with the greatest populations of doves are the Imperial Valley, the lower Colorado River, and the desert country of southern Inyo and eastern Kern Counties. Whether the birds will stay put until Sept. 1 remains to be seen.

There are normal populations of mourning doves elsewhere throughout Southern California, with local firearms closures and private lands the hunters' toughest problems.

California this year has a split dove season that applies statewide. The first hunting period is the full month of Sept. 1 through 30. The second hunting period opens Nov. 30 and ends Dec. 8.

The daily bag limit is 10 doves, with a maximum of 20 allowed in possession after opening day. White-winged doves may be taken only in Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties and must be included in the regular bag and possession limit along with mourning doves, ringed turtledoves and Chinese spotted doves.

LEGAL SHOOTING HOURS ON DOVES are from one half hour before sunrise to sunset in the area being hunted. Shooting hours on rabbits also start one-half hour before sunrise but continue to one-half hour after sunset.

Following is the DFG's area-by-area report on present dove populations in the Southland:

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY - Normal population of doves but mostly on private lands where permission to hunt is required. Best bet for the unattached hunter is Cuyama Valley.

VENTURA - All of the better dove country is on private lands. Lockwood Valley in Los Padres National Forest between Frazier Park and Ozena will provide some shooting in watered areas.

LOS ANGELES - Dove populations normal with Antelope Valley and the Saugus district probably best for unattached hunters. Local inquiry should be made regarding firearms closures around Palmdale and Lancaster. Alfalfa fields and uncultivated fields with dove weed (turkey mullen) now hold fair numbers of birds.

SAN BERNARDINO - Dove population is low right now in the Victorville-Barstow-Lucerne area and along the foothills of the north and east slopes of the San Bernardino Mountains. Doves are numerous now around water in the New York-Providence Mountains in the eastern part of the county, but scarce in the Needles area. Doves are scattered in grain fields and other private farm lands on the coastal side of the mountains.

RIVERSIDE - Doves are now plentiful in the Sage, Perris, Winchester, Moreno and Lakeview areas but this is private land. Coachella Valley's dove population is only fair at this time. Hunters should check locally regarding county firearms closures.

IN MONO COUNTY there are good numbers of doves now and an opening weekend shoot comparable to last year's is expected if the weather stays mild. The country from Crowley Lake north and east to Adobe Valley should be among the better areas.

-INYO AND EASTERN KERN - Owens Valley from Bishop to Lone Pine has only a fair number of doves, but there are heavy concentrations around waterholes from Searles Lake Valley near Trona north through Panamint and Saline Valleys. East of Olancha, along the Keeler-Death Valley Road there is an unusually heavy crop of sand peas. If they ripen in time they will attract and hold lots of doves

SAN DIEGO - This is one of California's top dove counties, but most of the birds are on private lands where permission to hunt is required. On the desert side of the mountains there should be good public hunting on federal public lands in the Bouleva

IMPERIAL — This valley now has probably its best population of doves in the past four years, but they are widely scattered. There are now unusual numbers of white wings as far north as Niland and Westmoreland. An excellent opening is in prospect but heavy rain could change the picture overnight. Best hunting bets are milo fields that have been harvested and the stubble chopped, along with the perimeter of feed lots.

COLORADO RIVER — Right now there are excellent populations of both white-wings and mourning doves from north of Blythe south through Palo Verde Valley and Bard-Winterhaven Valley. An opening shoot as good as or better than that of last year is expected unless the area is hard hit by thunderstorms and wind. The birds are feeding on stubble fields and watering on sand bars and along the

BJ Team Bows in Colonial Finals

Pros Andres Gimeno of Spain and Ken Rosewall of Australia swept into the finals of the $20,000 Colonial National Invitation Tennis tournament Saturday night.

Rosewall ousted Aussie Fred Stolle 3-6, 6-4, 8-6 while Gimeno was disposing of Australia's Mal Anderson, 6-4, 6-4.

The finalists clash tonight for the top prize of $3,000.

The women's doubles championship was won by Francoise Durr of France and England's Ann Haydon Jones, who bested the American duo of Billie Jean King, Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-5.

South Africa's Cliff Drysdale, Yugoslavia's Nicki Pilic, Australia's John Newcombe and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., advanced Saturday to the finals of the $15,000 Casino Pro Tennis Championships.

The tourney is based on total points. Drysdale is first with 228. Riessen has 286, Pilic 279 and Newcombe 273.

Secret Weapon: Pasarell

Americans Clark Graebner and Charles Pasarell provided the U.S. with a 2-1 edge in the Davis Cup interzone matches Saturday by winning what will be recordad as a classic doubles match over Manuel Santana and Juan Gisbert of Spain, 11-13, 17-15, 7-5, 6-2.

The marathon match took three hours and nine minutes with over two hours elapsing in the first Graebner, of New York, who looked inept in losing to Santana in the opening singles match Friday, vindicated himself completely. He never lost his service and had 15 aces.

He will have the opportunity to clinch the match today when he plays the opening singles against Gisbert. Arthur Ashe meets Santana in the finale.

Pasarell, a somewhat late and surprising choice of U.S. captain Donald Dell, played extremely well in crucial stages of the final three sets, after suffering a critical lapse in the first set.

Saturday's first set went 23 games without a service break before Pasarell suddenly lost his touch with the 24th game tied 30-30.

The third set was a miniature of the first two, but the end came much quicker to the relief of 6,012 tiring

After the first 10 games went by without a break, the U.S. launched another attack against Gisbert. With the score 0-30, Gisbert and Santana let an easy shot fall between them for the third point.

Unnerved, Gisbert then pro-ceeded to double fault for the first time in the day and handed the Americans a 6-5 game.

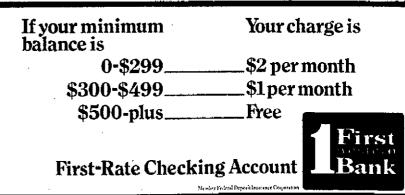

"Our key decision came when we decided to attack Gisbert instead of just trying to keep the bull in play," Pasarell said. "Santana had to cheat over to help Gisbert and left himself vulnerable."

'Affairs of State' Good, Clean, Sophisticated Fun

By RALPH HINMAN JR. Drama Critic

I almost hesitate to put the correct label on Lynwood Community Theater's newest offering, "Affairs of State," because too often today 'sophisticated" merely means off-color. Which this definitely is not.

Yet "Affairs" really is sophisticated - in the sense so many plays we enjoyed 20 or so years ago were, revolving about witty, urbane people functioning in a rarified, monied society. There also is a Washington background in the play which may prove fascinating to devotees of the "Advise and Consent" type of novel. It is replete with political gossip, name dropping - "I only talked to Lyndon for half an hour" - and high level maneu-

Miss Briski really turns in the stellar role, sharply showing on one hand, a naive little girl with but a minimum of interest in men. And, alternately, the loving "wife" with her affectionate condescension toward the "husband."

Along with all the other complications, the new secretary of state, cameoed by James Gray, wants the "other man" to be his under-secretary. Things are getting a bit balled up but this isn't the place to unravel a lightly humorous And, as in all such yarns,

ROME - The jetliner carrying Pope Paul VI back to Rome from his visit to the eucharistic congress in Bogota, Colombia, will make a refueling stop at Bermuda Saturday evening, the Vatican announced.

The landing at the tiny resort island in the Atlantic, 500 miles off the Carolina coast, is made necessary by the inability of the Pope's chartered Boeing 707 jet of the Colombian Airline Avianca to lift off in the thin air of 8,000-foothigh Bogota with a full fuel load to permit nonstop flight to Rome.

The Vatican gave no timing or other details of the halt. Takeoff from Bogota is scheduled for about 6 p.m. Saturday, and the landing at Bermuda, about 2,200 miles northeast, probably will be made about three hours later.

CONSIDERING the relative lateness of the hour at landing and the "technical" nature of the halt. Vatican sources indicated that the protocol of any reception would be minimal.

The Vatican issued a schedule for the voyage and visit. On Thursday, after a 5 a.m. takeoff from Rome's Fiumicino Airport and a 12-hour nonstop flight to Bogota, with arrival there at 10 a.m., the Pontiff will reach Bogota, Cathedral at 11:30 a.m. He will rest in the afternoon until 5 p.m., when he will participate in the ordination of a group of new

On Friday at 8:30 a.m. Pope Paul will call on Dr. Carlos Lleras Restrepo, president of Colombia. He will go by helicopter to visit a group of "campesinos" — country laborers — on the outskirts of Bogota al 10:30 a.m. and celebrate a Muss at the congress at 5 p.m. In the evening, he will receive the diplomatic corps and government members at the nunciature, his embassy.

SATURDAY, final day of the visit, will begin with a Papal Mass in a suburban parish at 8 a.m. At midmorning the Pontiff will deliver a speech in the cathedral formally inaugurating the second general conference of the Latin-American episcopate and, immediately thereafter, will bless the new headquarters of the Latin Bishops Conference.

Listed in the papal party are 17 persons. Among them is one United States priest, Msgr. Joseph Gremillon, secretary of the pontifical commission, Justice and Peace. Two other U.S. nationals are in the advance party, Msgr. Paul Marcinkus, a Chicagoan of the secretariat of state, who has been planner and coordinator for most of the Pontiff's five previous voyages, and Rev. Edward Heston, of the Holy Cross order, who will work with Vatican information officer, Msgr. Fausto Vallaine, in dealing with the press.

Need a change of pace—and face? Want to make the world sit up and take notice? I,P-T fashion editor Mary Ellis Carlton suggests a complete change in makeup and wardrobe. She tried it and here's what happened, proving that . . .

THE TRANSFORMATION BEGINS . . . makeup artist Bobby Kay studies my physiogonomy; decides I'm a natural funny face.

Clowning is a circus!

By MARY ELLIS CARLTON Fashion Editor

Backstage at Ringling Bros. and Barmun & Bailey Circus is a pretty lively place — a never-ending parade of trapeze artists, elephants, jugglers, chimpanzees and pretty girls.

But makeup magician Bobby Kay didn't bat an eyelash at all that. What was different at Thursday's matinee was having to turn me — a female! — into a clown.

"There!" he exclaimed, giving my redone physiognomy one last swat with his self-styled powder puff, a clean white sock filled with zinc oxide and talcum powder.

"There, now, you have an 'awe-goost' face."

Not knowing if that was good or bad, I asked him to spell it.

"A-u-g-u-s-t," he explained, "Just like this month." He nodded to a juggler who couldn't speak English but stopped by to listen. "August is clown latin for caricature. It's actually a mask — blocking out the structural pattern of the face.

"It usually takes two years to develop a face — the basic funny, glad or sad face that becomes a clown's trademark.

"After he finds the features that are fundamentally his, a clown never changes faces — just his getups and his gimmicks."

BUT BEING a clown-for-a-day gives one some amazing insights—not only into circus life but into oneself.

For instance, I've been a fushion and beauty writer since back in the days when shifts were called sacks and everybody wore shoes. During that time, I've been "redone" by some of the top experts in the husiness.

Along with a couple hundred other fashion editors, I've been

STARLIGHT SERENADE:

—it's a Hollywood ending

By ELISE EMERY Arts Editor

With a Hollywood climax directed by Elmer Bernstein, Long Beach Symphony Orchestra will close its 1968 Starlight Serenades Tuesday.

The big scene will be staged at 8 p.m. in Recreation Park. Immediately after the free Concert, Bernstein will board a plane at International Airport to fly to Rome for the filming of "Midas Run" with Fred Astaire and "Where's Jack?" with Tommy Steele.

Composer, conductor, concert pianist, recording artist, lecturer, authority on musical arts, sponsor of gifted young artists, Bernstein has collected countless awards. He has written music for more than 70 motion pictures. He won television's Emmy Award of his musical score for "The Making of the President (1960)" and in April won an Academy Award Oscar for the best original music score with "Thoroughly Modern Millie."

But for all his versatility, this grey-eyed, brownhaired young man has missed one musical experience.

Between recording sessions at Fox Studios, he talked of the Long Beach concert.

"I've never conducted an entire outdoor concert and I'm curious," he admitted. "There's something happy and festive about a summer concert in a park. This is the first time, too, that I've included more than one of my own compositions on a program."

THE HOLLYWOOD SERENADE will open with "A Max Steiner Overture" arranged by Leo Shuken and Jack Hayes. Then will come Three Women — "Laura" by David Raksin, "Blanche" from "Streetcar Named Desire" and "Hi Lili Hi Lo" from "Lili" by Bronislav Kaper.

"Walk on the Wild Side" by Elmer Bernstein will precede Three Love Themes: "Love Is a Many Splendored

 It used to be a sauce pan boiling over, a baby's cry—or even the telephone.

But chances are today's homemaker-on-the-run is racing against a widening waistline at a national pastime called the jogging jag. See "Hippy Housewives." Page W-3.

Panthers puttin' priority on a prowlin' reunion

By Iola Masterson Society Editor

HAVE YOU ever seen a Panther on the telephone? Well, Jordan High type Panthers have put on a nine month long telephone marathon in rounding up old grads for the 20th year reunion of the class of '48.

And now they're ready to go prowling on the town at a big cocktail dinner dance next Saturday at Long Beach Elks Club. Mrs. Don Fitzpatrick (nee Bette Hodick), party chairman, has single handedly (single pawedlly?) come up with the best results and was successful in locating twothirds of the classmates and obtaining addresses.

They found out student body president of 1948, Jim Wilson, is now a professr at Harvard and were delighted to learn just this week he has been appointed by Hubert Humphrey as co-chairman of a panel to advise HHH on crime problems and social problems. They weren't as happy, though, to find out Jim can't attend although he wrote he certainly would like to.

A few who will be there include Bud Woodward a football hero of his days at Jordan. Now a major in the U.S. Air Force and stationed at Kincheloe AFB, Michigan, he's flying out for the party. Others from far away who'll be here are Harry Traywick, a commercial artist now in Dallas, who is making the trip, especially from Texas for reunion; Connie Hardt) Browne, who now lives with her husband on a ranch near Peyson, Ariz., writes she'll do her best to be here; and so does Mary Pat (Entrof) Maldonado, who'll come, if she can, from home in Minnesota.

There is a possibility that Ruth (Newhart) Hanson, who now resides in London, England, will make a flying trip over for the party and to visit. Very definitely going to be present is Glenn McGihon, now the golf pro for Los Angeles Country Club and Barbara (Martin) and Don Brinkerhoff. The Brinkerhoffs are just recently back from a two year stay in Athens, Greece, where Don served as landscape architect for the U.S. Government.

Harold Nelms will be master of ceremonies and special guests of evening will be Ernie Radford, former Jodran football coach, and his wife.

Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Thaysen Schwalbe (nee Bertha Patrick) and she can be reached at her home, 6082 California Ave., if you are a '48 Panther and haven't made your reservatons yet.

Others on committee include Myrle and Betty Vandruff, Bob and Mary Wright, Jack and Betty Moore, Katie (Van Houten) Shaffer and David and Dorothy Main.

AN EVENING dessert and patio party will be given tonight by Merm and Irma Hall as a farewell for good friends, Hal and Beverly Le Sieur. The Le Sieurs are moving to Yorba Linda, which isn't far - but too far to suit their friends here.

Hal, an executive for North American, has been transferred to offices over thataway and its just too far to com-

Among dessert eaters, farewell savers will be George and Mona Koch, Lloyd and Ruth Woodruff, Claude and Mildred Ryerson, Paul and Dorothy Randall, James and Ruth Evans, John and Myrtis Selover and Jerry and Mar-

HOME THIS week from a great little vacation in Colorado are architect Dick Poper and wife, Phyllis, their daughter, Penny, and son, Jim.

They stayed with Bing and Ann Law on their 125-acre ranch near Denver, which sports Arabian horses and a dilly of a stocked trout pond.

While there, Dick played in an exclusive four-day golf tourney at Denver's Cherry Hills Country Club. He didn't win nothin'. However, at the Denver Press Club tourney at Golden, Colo, he walked away with a half a dozen golf

Penny, who met them back there after a six-week art session at U. of Kansas, and the Law children, entered the Nederland Jamboree equestrian event. She took a first ribbon in flag racing, third in pole bending, fourth in keyhole racing and fifth in ribbon racing. Between the Laws and Penny they took 18 ribbons home and just about swept the

NOT KITTENS ON THE KEYS BUT BIG CATS ON THE PHONES . calling their Panther classmates to reeunion Saturday are Mrs. Thayson (Bertha Patrick) Schwalbe (left), May Sipprelle, Jack Moore and Mrs. Robert (Mary Crozer) Wright. What's 'Wright' is 'Moore' than 'Sipprellengly' simple, 'Schwal-be-there!'

Stephanie and Charles Anderson had their OWN first baby at St. Mary's Hospital. A little girl, they gave her the pretty name of Christin. And here's something else for the record - there isn't anything fictional about Christin. She's an angel.

DAYS OF sun and rain chased each other, Oregonstyle, during "Phil" and Renee Fillipow's just completed vacation. They were at Nehalem Bay where they spent a week with friends at their beach home on the coast. Then they were in Portland to see other friends, thoroughly enjoyed a stopover at Timberline Lodge and ditto enjoyed their stay at Crater Lake.

They yere in Reno, too, but its green felt doesn't have the same appeal as Oregon's lush, real stuff kind. Renec drove up and visited Nance and Scott Conover in Belvedere before going on to Nehalem. Capt. Phil, who is with Grace Lines, went by ship up the coast and met her there.

DISTAFF JOGGERNAUTS SHAPS UP DAILY AT SESSIONS IN RAMONA PARK

Hippy housewives discover jogging jag is heir thing

By PAT McDONNELL

Note to jogger watchers:

The male Homo joggernautus is most often spotted at the crack of dawn or at sunset. The female of the species is likely to be sighted anytime, anywhere.

An ideal site for watching the female joggernautus in flight is Ramona Park, 3301 E.

65th St., every weekday morning. The flock was organized six weeks ago by Marj Garner, physical fitness instructor for Long Beach Recreation Department. Last June I noticed the same five women were running around the park every morning," Mrs. Garner explained. "I finally introduced myself and proposed the idea of starting a daily jogging class."

Within a week, the group had grown to 24 housewives. They've continued to meet daily at 8:45 a.m for one-mile jogging stints. While mothers jog, their youngsters play in a nearby

"Jogging is no fun if it's done alone. It shouldn't be confused with running. Jogging is a slow, steady trot and when you tire, you slow down and walk.

"Six weeks ago, it took 12 to 14 minutes to cover a mile. Now the average speed is 7 minutes," Mrs. Garner said.

"There's no question about the timing since one or two Doubting Thomas husbands usually turn out to clock the girls with stop watches.

GLOATED ONE Ramona Park jogger:

"I've lost nine pounds and gone down one dress size since I began jogging six weeks ago."

Chortled another:

"I'd followed those calisthenic programs on TV, but nothing ever made me feel so peppy as jogging every morning. Now I plow right into waxing the floors or doing the laundry.

Housewives are welcome to join the group at no charge. A similar program is carried out at 9:30 a.m. daily at Whaley Park, 5620 Ather-

AN ORGANIZATION open to men, women and entire families is Mileathon International, one of the world's largest and the only jogging program sponsored by a hospital.

The farflung organization dedicated to the preservation of jogging was founded four years ago at Long Beach Community Hospital.

The program groups joggers who live in the same area into teams which work out daily and once a month at CSLB.

Members receive a monthly "Mileathon Digest" whose contributing editors are physicians who have experienced the jogging benefits of lower blood pressure, loss of weight, improved muscle tone and stamina. Additional information is available from the hospital public relations office.

Thing' by Fain-Webster, love theme from "On the Waterfront" by Leonard Bernstein, and "A Place in the Sun" by Franz Waxman. Elmer Bernstein's "The Great Escape" and "The Ten Commandments" will conclude the first half of the bill.

After intermission, Bernstein will conduct his "The Hallelujah Trail," The Big themes: "Around the World in 80 Days" by Victor Young, "Spellbound" by Miklos Rosza, "Raintree County" by John Green, and "Moon River" by

The conclusion will be Music by Elmer Bernstein -"Hawaii Overture," love scene from "From the Terrace" and "The Magnificent Seven."

COMPOSING for motion pictures, said Bernstein, imposes disclipines, but, he added, so does composing in any

"The greatest limitation, of course, is time. The score must fit the action. And the music must communicate on a broad basis. It isn't going to be heard alone, in a concert hall.

"There's nothing new about this. Music is coupled with action in ballet, musical comedy and, in its most elevated

"Music has been a part of motion pictures since the turn of the century. At first, a piano player watched the action of silent pictures and played whatever he knew that fit the mood. What a lot of people don't realize is that later the big silent movies had scores written for them; it no longer was up to the pianist to improvise. The first silent motion picture of "The Ten Commandments" had its own Bernstein, whose first musical comedy, "How Now. Dow Jones," is a Broadway hit, has some unorthodox views about music.

'THERE'S TOO MUCH music in this country. It's plastered everywhere - in restaurants, elevators, supermarkets, even the men's room. "Music is a background for everything. It's so commonplace you don't even hear it. When you are surrounded by music all the time, the impact is lost, the emotional experience is diluted

"The way the world is going, we should let people think about things without smothering them in music all the time, without an anesthetic.'

That audiences are acutely aware of motion picture music is proven by the volume of mail Bernstein receives from all parts of the United States and Europe and from Japan. At previews, many of the written comments are about the music.

Bernstein left his office for the recording studio where he is conducting his score for NBC's new series which will open in September, "Julia," starring Diahann

Before he went, he finished selecting numbers for Tuesday's concert --- his first all-motion-picture-music for his first concert in the park, a Hollywood Serenade.

But no one ver transfmored me like Bobby Kay, a smiley and articulate guy with rosy cheeks who's been a clown most of his 45 years in show biz.

He does it all with a gooey mixture of zinc oxide and Crisco, red grease paint, a black pencil, his dusting puff (the white sock invention)and a can of Crisco for removing makeup.

(Most clowns have excellent complexions. The zinc oxide — used since tent days to illuminate faces because lighting was poor - is highly antiseptic.)

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Baily Circus will conclude its four-day stand at Long Beach Arena with two performances today - at 2:30 and 6:30 p.m..

Bobby Kay's brand of makeup also hides circles, erases wrinkles and, if your smile isn't big enough, he can paint one on (Elizabeth Arden makeup experts can't do

IT'S THE COSTUME, of course, that completes the show biz!

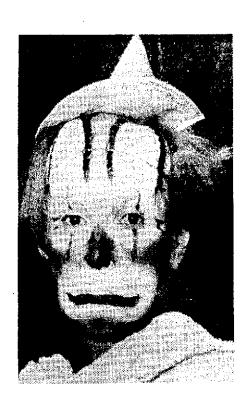

Each Ringling "Joey" (there are 16 of them) creates his own getups, his own riotous acts, his own outrageous gimmicks. (Clowns, in fact, were "doing their own thing" centuries before those beaded, bearded wonders on Sunset Strip decided to give up working, paying their rent and combing their hair.)

Once the clown image is complete, inhibitions melt faster than snow and-or money in Las Vegas.

There's an instant change in personality. Even for a stage-fright addict like me,beingdressed like a clown makes you FEEL like clowning it up.

The real beauty, though, about being a circus clown even for a day - is to se epeoplelaugh instead of pro-

AT WIT'S END

There are now seven faces of motherhood

Of all the means of communication known to man, none is quite as effective as the "Mother's Eye." Or as we say, one glance is worth a thousand punches in the mouth. There are a variety, depending upon the situation, but these are a few of the old standards:

The Look of Death; This is used on a child with a busy finger up his nose. (It is similar to the Frozen Stare usually employed to catch a waiter's eye, but is somewhat different.) It's a steady gaze, unflinching and unyielding. The brow is furrowed, the lips are firm with no trace of a smile, the face remains in a hypnotic state until the finger is removed from the nose.

THE DEADPAN Glare: This is the one most often used at the dinner table for children who fill their glasses to overflow, eat gravy with their fingers, and bulge their cheeks with food. On some occasions, the Deadpan Glare is accompanied by a good, swift kick in the thigh under the table.

The Martyr's Countenance: Unmistakably the look of pain, it is invoked when a child parades down the church aisle, carrying his training pants, or when, in the middle of a cocktail party, he demands the $2 you borrowed from him. Some people confuse the Martyr's Countenance with the Desperate Squint. When in doubt, remember: the Martyr's Countenance is accompanied by tears, fainting and biting of the lower lip until it bleeds.

The Desperate Squint is a real study in pantomime. The jaw is set firm, the lips curl and the eyes are narrow and menacing. They dart back and forth. It is used when a child is loose at the mouth and asks in a loud voice if it is true Aunt Helen wouldn't know what to do with a man if she caught one. Now, if Aunt. Helen happens to be in the room at the same time these words are uttered, Mother often goes into her Divine Guidance Stare.

THE DIVINE Guidance Stare is a resigned look when her head is tilted upward, the eyes roll back until the whites show, and the lips utter what seems to be a Buddhist pray-

Perhaps the most feared of all is Mother's No Look Look. This appears to be a blank expression to a child who is jumping on the sofa with his muddy feet or running around at an adult party at 2 a.m.

Last night I went out with the son of one of her friends. He was a wolf, a bore and a waste of time. He called me for a date and my moth er stood right there by the phone to make sure I didn't refuse him. I tried to tell her what kind of boy he was, but she said it was better than slaying home.

So what does a girl do with a mother like that? STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: She uses her own judgment (and in this case I think yours is better than your mother's). Flatly refuse to go out with anyone you consider a waste of time.

SINCE the 16th century this Fountain of Neptune (above) has stood in Bologna, Italy. For almost 40 years, its replica was the pride of Palos Verdes Estates (right), Recently, the crowning statue on the Malaga Cove Plaza fountain sagged, then fell from its base. Now cherubs and mermaids await return of the god of the sea (center).

Fallen Neptune will rise again

By ELLISE EMERY

Neptune has fallen. In his own fountain...

Neptune who has reigned for nearly 40 years, trident raised, atop the fountain in Malaga Cove Plaza in Palos Verdes Estates.

Several months ago, residents realized that Neptune, an object of pride and affection, was

"He began to lean," said Jack Guardhouse, city building inspector. "He leaned all lopsided like he had been on a real binge. He's made of Carrara marble from Italy and the steel supports inside him had rusted.

That's when Guardhouse began seeking bids for Neptune's restoration, They weren't easy to get.

Then, about 90 days ago, someone called the Palos Verdes Police Department. "Hey," he reported, all excited, to desk officer Marty Lucker, "Neptune fell off! He just fell apart! And he took a couple of cherubs with him!

It was true. Street Department workers hauled the fallen statue to the city shops where superintendent Chuck Foerster sadly looked at the 400-pound 5 feet 5 god of the sea. Neptune's leg was broken. Once again, as they had so often before, his fingers had broken.

Many times, since the fountain and its crowning statue were dedicated Feb. 16, 1930, Neptune had been mended.

The fountain is an exact replica of the famous Fountain of Neptune in Piazza del Pettuno in the city of Bologna, Italy.

This masterpiece is the work of a Flemish sculptor who in everything but birthplace was Italian. Giovanni da Bologna was his name. He lived from 1529 to 1608, during the Italian High Renaissance. For two years he was a student of Michelangelo's and for three centuries his sculpture was more generally admired than that of any artist excpet Michelangelo

IN THE EARLY 1560s, Bologna, also called Giambologna, entered a competition for the design for a fountain in Florence. He didn't win. But Pope Pius IV was so impressed with his work that in 1563 he commissioned a fountain in the city of Bologna. It is this work that is so faithfully reproduced in Palos Verdes Es-

In the 16th contury in Italy the human body, unadorned, was considered an exalted subject for art.

In the 1930s, in Palos Verdes, some questioned this view. They protested so vigorously that city officials put a fig leaf on Neptune. Art purists were offended. The fig leaf came went back on, came off, and this off and on routine continued until possession of the leaf became a status symbol for rival fraternities. All of this was hard on Neptune who, also, from time to time, was conspicuously painted inthe fig leaf area.

Sandblasting the paint off added its measure of aging to the sea god.

Finds new career --

When experts examined the fallen statue, they agreed that it was, this time, beyond repair. He would have to be replaced.

GUARDHOUSE finally got two bids. Van Hausen Studios of Beverly Hills for $1.589.53 will cast a concrete statue from a rubber mold. First, an Italian sculptor would resemble Neptune and the mold would be made in two parts. It would become the property of the city so that future repairs could be made inexpensively. The exterior of the statue would be surfaced with marble chips to simulate the original Carrara marble.

The second bid was from Carrara Marble in South San Gabriel who, for $2,700 will furnish a white Carara marble Neptune.

When Palos Verdes City Council met Tuesday night, the choice seemed obvinus.

Mayor Joseph Barnett and Councilmen William I. Goodhew, Peter Prince, John Virden and George N. Beaton Jr. seemed ready to heed a recommendation by City Manager Robert Vollmer to approve the Van Hausen Studios bid.

THEN MRS. GEORGE CORNELIUS, resident of Palos Verdes Estates for 15 years, raised a question.

"If money were not a consideration," she asked, "would you prefer marble to concrete?" Councilmen agreed that they would.

"Some of us think that a marble statue has an aesthetic value that can't be equalled by concrete," said Mrs. Cornelius. "May we have a try at getting the additional money together? Give us 90 days."

Mayor Barnett said that more than the original cost is invovled. Time and vandalism make expensive repairs necessary—especially to Neptune's outstretched fingers.

"This statue has stood for nearly 40 years and the one in Bologna has been there for 400," reasoned Mrs. Cornelius.

So, on motion of Councilman Goodhew it was voted "to give the populace 90 days to raise the money for a marble statue."

Donations may be given to Jac Benton at the Malaga Cove Plaza Bakery or sent to Malaga Cove Plaza Association, P.O. Box 94, Palos Verdes Estaces.

Transfer results in slam

Texas and the Jacobys have no monopoly on tȟe Jacoby transfer bid. California used it against the Dallas Orange Team to bid a fine slam.

The bidding is interesting in that it shows how far modern expert bidding has gone onthe road to artificial methods to get the most out of good hands.

South's opening notrump bid is standard and North's two-spade response is a special Jacoby transfer bid to show both minor suits and a hand that might range anywhere from a bad hand to a tremendous one.

The three-diamond rebid by South said that he had better diamonds than clubs and North's three-spade bid said "I have something in spades."

South knew no-trump was going to be a had contract. North had shown a minor two-suit hand and something in spades. He could not have hearts also. South hid four clubs!

NORTH WAS now ready to invite the slam. What better way could there he than a four-heart bid? This had to be a cue bid because North had already shown spades, diamonds and clubs.

South's jump to five notrump was the artificial bid called the grand slam force. It asked North to bid seven with good diamonds. North had good diamonds but they weren't good enough. He needed king-queen or maybe king-jack. North signed off at six diamonds. The Dallas audience was worried once more. They couldn't gain. Could they break even? Of course, they broke even. After all the Jacoby to open Wednesday

The trip from Long Lito sails from Athens each area, to country-like, rural Hemet, can be a delightful one for the entire family, leisurely and pleasant.

> The time for such a trip might be sometime be-tween Wednesday and next. Sunday as the Farmers Fair Riverside County is scheduled at Hemet during those five days gates open at noon. The fair itself gives one a sampling of old-fashioned rural country fairs, similar to those in the mid-west. Although the bib overalls many of the residents sport during the fair are considered "costumes" by them, many of those wearing them are, in reality, farmers. There are hundreds of exhibits.

An attractive route to take from Long Beach would be to travel east of 18, continuing Hwy. through Corona on Hyw. 91, to Riverside, turning back on Interstate 10 to Hwy. 79 turn off at Moreno, which takes a driver directly into Hemet.

INTERNATIONAL Life guard Championships will be held Saturday and next Sunday at Carpinteria State Beach with competition in swimming, paddleboard and dory races, and the 50meter Fireman's Carry. Teams usually come from Japan, New Zealand, Mexico as well as from all over the United States.

SWEDEN'S MIRACLE FORMULA THAT MAKES SKIN LOOK YOUNG AGAIN

Clinical tests by leading medical authorities prove that new Swedish formula with natural food ingredients helps solve the problem of lines, wrinkles, and flabby, dry skin - ACTUALLY MAKES YOUR SKIN LOOK UP TO 15 YEARS YOUNGER!

Before you read another word of this exciting news release - let us set the record straight on some startling medical facts just recently published. Briefly stated it reads like this: Thanks to new scientific breakthroughs, medical science now considers a woman of 60 to be just approaching middle age! — a woman of 45 considers a woman of 60 to be just approaching middle age! — a woman of 45 to be just reaching her prime years of youthful beauty — and a woman of 30 to 35 to be a mere "newlywed" when it comes to the appearance of her skin! I know that at first glance this may sound overly optimistic on the part of medical science . . . but not when you consider the following events that have just taken place. Not when you realize that medical science has at last tracked down the 2 factors in nature that cause your skin to age — has found a new way to cope with them — and a new way to help reverse this aging appearance in just a matter of days!

(New York, N.Y.); At a dramatic news conference today, it was revealed to America how a leading European specialist disclosed that science has finally discovered how to restore youthful beauty to aging skin — and without the use of old-fashioned make-up, beauty creams and cosmeties that only attempt to mask complexion problems, instead of solving them. The secret is a new scientific development based on a new food discovery. Yes, a totally new approach to the problems of aging skin — a chemical food formula that has been used in university tests, hospital tests and laboratory food formula that has been used in university tests, hospital tests and laboratory tests to actually make your skin look younger... up to 15 years younger, 1N JUST 10 TO 30 DAYS.

Then right before the eyes of the assembled reporters and beauty editors, it was revealed how this world-famous research scientist made a 35-year old woman look 14 years younger with simple 5-minute treatments.

"IT WAS LIKE WATCHING A WOMAN GROW A FRESH, NEW SKIN"

After filling in the reporters on the background of the test-subject (39 year old Mrs. H. Dorland), we were told of the varied skin problems this 39 year old woman had suffered from ... skin problems tipical of women 30 to 65. Problems like stubborn wrinkles in the forehead ... unattractive crow's feet about the eyes ... deep, furrowing lines extending from nose to mouth ... sagging, flabby skin under the chin ... and dry, aging skin. Then, with a series of clinical photographs he demonstrated this remarkable food discovery.

First, he disclosed how he took a soft whitish mixture from a jar and began lightly spreading it over Mrs. Dorland's face. Softly patting it on — never rubbing it in ... never massaging. Then he bing it in . . . never massaging. Then he described how the while mixture began to slowly disappear as it penetrated deep then to our utter amazement, the sag-ging, flabby skin under the chin . . . the loose, aging flesh at the neck seemed to grow tighter, firmer . . until the chin and neck looked like those of a woman and neck looked like those of a woman of 25. And finally, Mrs. Dorland's entire complexion began to glow with such-a fresh, vibrant youthfulness that you could hardly helieve it had ever been tired, dull and dry. Yes, this new scientific discovery had transformed the 39-year-old Mrs. Dorland into a lovely 25. (Before our very eyes we had seen living proof of how she actually looked 14 years younger!)

A DOCTOR EXPLAINS...

The amazing transformation you have just been witness to may seem like a miracle to unscientific eyes, but it is just been witness to may seem like a miracle to unscientific eyes, but it is really a simple, natural process based on medical facts scientists and doctors have long suspected... but only recently have flually proven true. Let me explain:

"You see, as we age muscles and glands beneath our skin start to shrink in size. Instead of staying firm and taut (like in childhood—they grow soft and flabby... and start to collapse. As they collapse—hollows, lines and wrinkles form—your skin loses its clasticity—and soon you are plagued with those tell-tale lines and signs of age that broadcast your years to the world. What causes this skin tissue collapse?—NOT a lack of moisture as you so often have been wrongly led to believe; because if only moisture was needed, you should simply rinse back the lost years of youth by merely washing your face with soap and water. NO—it is not moisture, but a gradual diminished supply of essential nutrients your body is no longer able to supply to the tissues of your skin. In other words, your body literally starves your skin into aging.

2. Lines at the corner of the eyes 3. Lines under the eyes -4. Lines around the nose

5. Lines nose to mouth 6. Lines around the mouth -7. Lines on neck, under chin down into the woman's skin. Then he showed us actual slides made during the test.

First, we saw proof of how those stub-born wrinkles started to fade away until that 39 year old forehead seemed almost clear and unlined as a baby's.

almost clear and unlined as a baby s. Next, the scores of unattractive crow's feet appeared to melt away before our very eyes. Then, the deep, ugly lines around the nose and mouth seemed in actually vanish in just a matter of hours... and her entire facial area was smoother, more even ... softer to the touch ... more flattering to the eye. And

CAN NATURE BE CHANGED?

But what if medical science proved to you that with a newly discovered food formula you could NOW actually diminish the ravaging effects of this aging process . . actually restore the youthful vibrancy to your skin. And what would you say if medical science told you that when research scientists took this newly-discovered food formula . . put if into a chemical concentrate base that could be applied directly to the skin . . . youthful skin beauty began to bloom again on virtually every woman tested.

... restore fresh, youthful beauty ... and help end that dull, aged appearance of lines, wrinkles and crow's feet ONCE AND FOR ALL!

lines, wrinkles and crow's feet ONCE AND FOR ALL!

NOW LOOK UP TO 15 YEARS YOUNGER WITH SPECIALIST'S 5-MINUTE TREATMENT

The name of this newly-discovered chemical food concentrate is NUTRI-VENA B25... and never before has medical science been able to even approach the miracle results this great new discovery delivers. Yes, whether you are only a woman of 30 who is list starting to disclose the lirst faint ravages of time... or even a grandmother who never believed you could look young again... here is the miracle that modern science now offers you.

If you are in your thirties you will see all those aging effects of lines, wrinkles and crow's feet start to disappear ALMOST IMMEDIATELY. If you are in your forties... you will see that dry, sagging skin under the chin and neck start to appear smoother, fresher, tighter and tauter in a matter of duys. And even if you are 55, or 80 or even 65 years old... you will see the horrid aging effects of harsh, ugly lines at the nose and mouth begin to melt away... NOT IN MONTHS—BUT IN JUST 2 TO 3 WEEKS... and you'll be astonished to have people think you are actually 15 to 20 years younger.

LAUREN BACALL

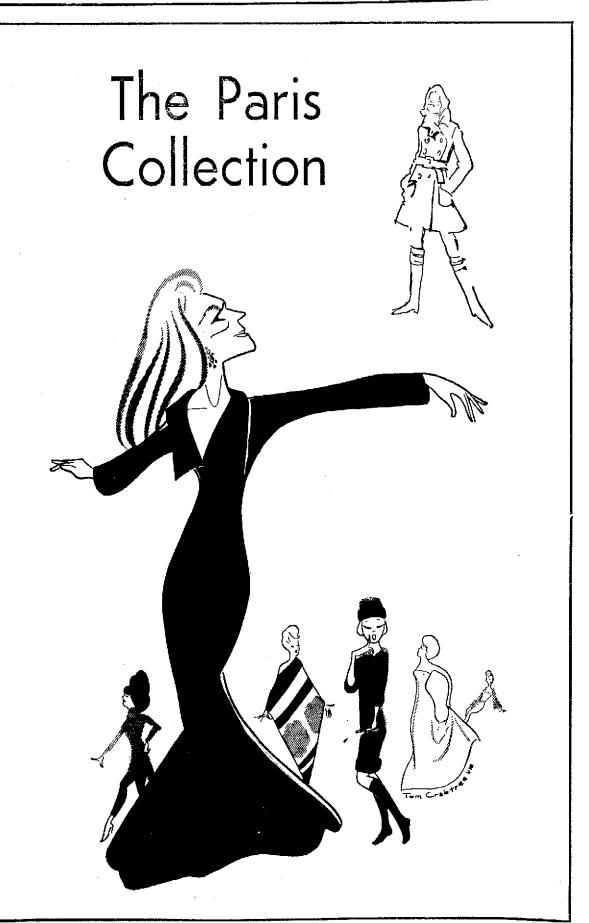

For the first time in fashion and TV history, the initial public showings of Paris' new haute couture designs will be seen August 24 by American television audiences on The Paris Collections; Fall Fashion Preview at 9:30 p.m., Ch. 2.

Lauren Bacall will host the Special filmed in Paris, but the real stars will be the designers and their fall collections telecast the same day they are released to the public. The cameras will be on hand for a behind-the-scenes look at the glamorous world of French haute couture during the biggest fashion event of the year.

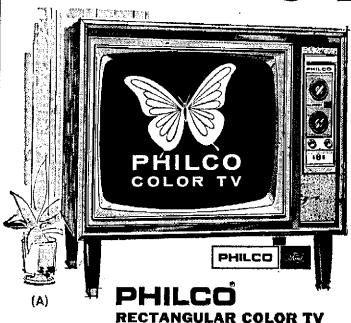

Miss Bacall will conduct informal interviews with four of the leading French couturiers — Yves St. Laurent, Pierre Cardin, Emanuel Ungaru and Marc Bohan of the House of Dior — who will be seen against colorful backgrounds indigenous to their personalities and designs.

I THINK one very "ordinary" TV view made a photograph in my memory bank as good or better than any in the series of photographs of the "still" variety selected by the special Huntley-Brinkley program (during the GOP Conven-tion). It was merely a view of the Nixon motorcade setting out, festooned with Secret Service agents, on the final trip to the convention for the acceptance speech.

Suddenly, it occurred to "Would this picture have the same impact on countries, especially those that might be unfriendly, or even only faintly contemptuous, as it did on me?"

I saw, not merely an "au-tocade," but also a leading and vigorous political opponent, about to go to large convention to speak, not only to thousands of his party, but also to broadcast to millions in this country and all the countries of the world - against his government and its leaders being guarded by a genuine protective escort afforded (as a matter of course) by his government and its leaders.

I think the above speaks for itself.

Plans to Start Enjoying Himself

By VERNON SCOTT United Press International

Hugh Hefner, the magazine publisher who gave a sexy new definition to the world "centerfold," is no longer content to get his message across with the written word or the nude female.

The pipe-smoking proprietor of Play-boy Magazine and the Playboy Clubs has turned his attention to television.

Beginning sometime in October Hefner will host a weekly syndicated hourvariety-interview series titled "Playboy After Dark."

NO. THERE will be no bunnies hopping around.

Until now Hefner has been content to appear as a guest on other late night shows or propound his philosophy in his magazine. Also he enjoyed frolicking around his Chicago mansion with builtin everything.

Now his personality - which is somewhat shy - is going public.

"There's a dramatic change in life style for me now that I'm into my 40s." Hefner said from his penthous pad atop his Sunset Strip club in Hollywood.

"The magazine is 15 years old, and I'm taking stock of myself. I'm going to start enjoying myself."

HEFNER didn't smile when he said it. If he hasn't enjoyed himself for the past 15 years, bachelor Hefner is in serious trouble. Moreover, his own television show won't cure it.

"Instead of having a formal setting with guests coming in one at a time, we want a party atmosphere so that the viewer feels he is a part of the activity," Hefner said.

"I want them to give them the atmo-"I want them to give them the atmosphere of one of my clubs or my pad in YEAH, WELL, there are plenty of bunnies hopping around those places.

"But not on the show," he insisted.

"Guests will be my friends in and out of show business - comedians, musicians, good conversationalists. For instance, there is one dialogue about sex Sharon Tate. "And I'll discuss the new morality with Father Malcolm Boyd, and race and athletics with Bill Russell. That sort of thing."

"Oh, they'll be around, but not in costume," he finally admitted. "We hope to bring some sex and sophistication to television which it surely needs.

"We've struck a responsive chord with readers. We hope to do the same with viewers," Hefner's show will be syndicated by Screen Gems. So far he isn't sure how many stations it will find as customers. He was advised that if he wanted top ratings he'd better think twice about stocking the show with lots and lots of bunnies - in custome.

V NOTEBOOK

Producer Paul Henning of "Petticoat Junction" has announced plans are to write out Bea Benaderet's part of Kate Bradley for a few episodes.

Miss Benaderet, who had undergone treatment for a malignancy last winter, has gone on an extended leave of absence from the series. Henning, however, is hopeful that a period of rest will persuade her that she can return to her pivotal character in the popular CBS series.

TELEVISION specials of the future may occasionally span the entire evening and the use of satellites and computers may enable a billion persons to watch them.

Thomas W. Sarnoff, staff executive vice president of NBC-TV on the West Coast, said his network soon will start a daily two-hour news program to be aired during prime time as part of the "long-form" trend

* "We can soon look forward to whole evenings occasionally devoted to single programs," Sarnoff told the Southern California Variety

He said the trend to longer programs will allow an upgrading in standards, permit greater latitude in dramatic expression and draw more time and money into single program produc-

Sarnoff said satellite television relays will permit the transmission of important events on a global basis. Satellites and computers, he said, will soon enable audiences of "perhaps a billion people to watch the same program."

A FILM chronicle of CBS News Correspondent Charles Kuralt's travels around America will launch the second season of Who, What, When, Where, Why (Continued Page 23, Col. 3)

MOVIES FOR TV: The Stock is Running

By ROBERT E. DALLOS New York Times Service

Local television stations both network affiliates and independents - are running out of movies.

Though the situation has not reached the critical state, it may within the next year or two. The already dwindling backlog of good movies in the libraries of the local stations has resulted in the showing of some films as many as 75 times in a single city.

Local affiliates are keenly receptive to new network programs as a means of substituting for some of the movie time. This was the case, for instance, with the 200-odd affiliate sta-tions of the Columbia Broadcasting System who will be giving up 7½ hours of local program time a week beginning in 1969 for "The Merv Griffin Show."

"The Joey Bishop Show," which had its premiere last April, also took away from affiliates of the American Broadcasting Company a total of 7½ hours of time they would have had to fill themselves. This, according to one A.B.C. executive who declined to be identified, reduces the need for movies by 260 full-length films a year.

Probably the major reason for the increasing scarcity of good, first-run movies at the local level is that the three major networks are grabbing up the newest movies and showing them a few times before the local stations, on much more limited budgets, can even consider buying them.

"The big blockbusters are going to the networks. 'We're no longer getting Hollywood products fresh out of the theater," said Hal Hough, vice president, programing and engineering services, of the CES TV Stations Division, Hough buys all of the films for the stations owned by CBS.

"Three or four years ago," he added, "we still got the good movies because they were being sold on local syndication. The problem isn't so much scarcity of movies to show. It's the scarcity of good film, the stuff we used to have."

Such films as "Pillow Talk" with Rock Hudson and Doris Day," The Great with Jose Ferrer, Dean Jaeger and Julie London, and "Operation Petticoat. with Robert Stack, Rock Hudson and Lauren Bacall, were once offered to the local stations first.

Now, with the networks paying an average of about $800,000 for two or three showings, first-run movies are offered solely to the networks. Billy Wilder's "The Apartment," and Alfred Hitchcock's "The Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds" and "North by Northwest" were made available solely to the chains.

THE NATIONAL Broadcasting Company was the first network to inaugurate a movie night, in September, 1961. The movies enloyed such popularity that NBC added a second movie night in 1963. The two othNBC will add a third movie night in September. Thus, with the fall season, it will be possible to view a firstrun movie in prime-time every night of the week.

NBC recently padi $116 million for a United Artists package of 94 feature films.

Out of this package, the network is said to have the privilege of showing 40 films for as much as three (Continued Page 15, Col. 1)

NEW NON-SURGICAL FACE LIFT FROM GERMANY

Way back when the life expectancy of a woman was between 30 and 40 years, there was no problem with aging skin and wrinkles. Time couldn't take its toll! Now that life expectancy has reached 70 years; and medical science is trying to lengthen it, we might eventually expect to live to 100 or more!

But with the years added to our span, the preservation of a youthful skin becomes vital. While medical science keeps the body functioning, cosmetic science has, through the years, helped us to help our skins retain the look of youth.

Nearly phenomenal are today's advancements in the cosmetic field. A marvelous example of these advancements, the non-surgical face lift from West Germany with results which are "almost permanent." This treatment, called 2nd Debut, was developed by three dedicated men in West Germany, whose reputations and positions are backed by such degrees as M.D. and Ph.D. according to the makers.

Since the introduction of 2nd Debut to Southern California, thousands of women have begun to henefit by using this new creamy lotion. 2nd Debut involves no surgery or period of convalescence...nor does it entail high fees, discomfort or uncertainty about the outcome. Instead of lifting your face in the surgical sense, 2nd Debut achieves this effect by "lifting the age wrinkles out of your face!" Any woman can treat herself in the privacy of her own home to the help it offers in keeping the skin young and vibrant, Nothing else is required for the "lift" but a few minutes each night at bedtime...for a week to two weeks...for the application of 2nd Debut!

This new treatment contains an ingredient...CEF, meaning Cellular Expansion Factor...through which the inner cells obtain and retain water-moisture. The makers of 2nd Debut explain that when CEF is spread over the skin's surface, it penetrates deeply into the skin's outer layer to the cells below. Each molecule of CEF carries with it a molecule of pure water. As a result of this process, the facial lines on the surface begin to plump up from beneath... smooth out... becoming less and less visible on the surface.

When a woman reaches a certain age, skin cells begin to shrink due to decreased ability to absorb and retain water. This causes wrinkles. By quickly and consistently supplying water to shrinking cells within the skin, CEF helps to soften and plump up surface lines from beneath until they almost...or completely...vanish.

Because of differing requirements of various skins, 2nd Debut is made in two strengths. For the woman with early worries...the woman who has just discovered the first lines...the first version of 2nd Debut contains CEF 600. Together with plumping out the lines of the skin, it also helps to counter dryness, The four ounce size is just $3.

Specially formulated for the more mature skin, perhaps 40 and up, 2nd Debut with CEF 1200 is the double potency cream for those of you who have stopped trying to cope with deep lines, It's also for the impatient woman who wants results without delay. This formation, according to the makers of 2nd Debut, penetrates all four skin layers carrying a double quantity of revitalizing water-moisture into each. It is quite possible that, within a few days, you will see a marked change in the skin's appearance as lines once plainly visible become harder to find. The price is $5 for four ounces.

To assure the utmost effectiveness of this treatment, your skin must be properly prepared for it. For this purpose, 2nd Debut Cleanser was developed and its results are dynamic. You apply 2nd Debut Cleanser in a thin layer over your face and throat. Then rinse with cool water, Your skin will feel and look immaculately clean. Price is $3 for two ounces and $5 for four ounces.

As the final touch, let 2nd Debut Liquid Makeup, containing CEF 600, actually moisturize your skin. Created to achieve a heautiful matte finish, it covers flaws and most blemishes completely and is priced at $3.

And last month, ABC, said it had bought 23 feature length motion pictures from the 20th Century-Fox film Corporation for presentation during the 1969-1970 season. The transaction involved more than $20 million.

The network's need for high budget movies has not been satisfied by Hollywood without their own flnancial partcipation, All three networks now have long-term agreements with Hollywood studies for joint production of films to be shown first on television and later in theaters.

While networks show their movie selection in prime television hours, lo-cal stations around the country show their films in the morning, in the afternoon and in the early morn-

Xerox Is Smiling; The Mail Is 'Their Way'

By DEAN C. MILLER UPI Business Editor

When a company plunks down $1-million for a television series without commercials, the mailman becomes a mighty important individual at corporate headquarters.

Viewer letters influence company thinking on whether it made a public relations boner or a smart business move.

In the case of Xerox, which spent $1-million on the "Of Black America" series, the venture cost at least one customer - Robert M. Shelton, Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America.

A Shelton letter dated July 3, the day after the first segment in the series was telecast nationally, arrived at the Xerox branh office in Birmingham, Ala.

"Dear Sirs," it said. "This is to inform you that we wish the Xerox machine in this office picked up at once. We are cancelling this (leasing) arrangements because of the company's involvement in the showing of the movie Black Ameri-

THERE WERE other dissenting votes on the sevenpart series Xerox hoped would foster better undtrstanding between whites and blacks.

One shareholder, the head of a midwest investment firm, was unhappy.

He did not threaten to sell his stock. But he did promise in all future correspondence to address the company's chairman, Joseph C. Wilson, with a small letter "w"

ACTUALLY on the basis of the first 1,500 letters received, Xerox fared well. The ratio of favorable to unfavorable comment was better than 12 to 1, the company said.

That 12 to 1 ratio also held true of letter writers who identified themselves either as customers or shareholders.

"There is always some element of risk in such programing," said David J. Curtin, vice president in said David J. charge of corporate com-munications. "Some people will take issue with some of the theories advanced."

On this go-around, Xerox officials are smiling and breathing easier. Well they might. They have increased their image of public ser-vice and social awareness at a time such a posture is considered important. And from the tone of some letters they also seem to have increased sales potential.

A Brooklyn secretary, who praised the series, promised not to complain the next time her Xerox machine broke down, and a Lexington, (Ky.) business-man said he would "use only Xerox copiers from now on."

Poll on Polls

How to be 'President to Order'

By HENRY MORGAN

(Editor's Note: Henry Morgan looked at opinion polls and their influence on Presidential candidates on "American Political Scene, '68," broadcast recently on the NBC Radio Network's "Monitor." A transcript of his remarks follow.)

I have a bad back - something to do with one of my discs. I think one of my discs in missing. And there's a pain in my left wrist. Don't know what it is, but it's annoying.

Another thing that's bothering me is the opinion polls. Every five minutes somebody somewhere is taking a poll. Tell me, madam, how do you feel about bananas? Like - don't like - no opin-

What do you think of 14-year-old girls who use lipstick? Too tall? Too short? Too soon? No opinion?

TELL ME SIR, if Alf Landon were running against Babe Ruth with Steve Allen as Vice President and Joe Louis heading up a third party, would you prefer Lyndon Johnson's dog or Dick Nixon's cat?

I hope you're not listening to this at home, because if you are, there's probably a pollster at your door right now and you'll never hear how this comes out.

ACTUALLY, it isn't the polls that bother me, it's the attention that's paid to them. An awful lot of people are going around asking other people what they think they would like. I truly don't think much good can come of that. Look at it this way. Did Galileo go around asking people would they like a telescope? Did Shakespeare take a poll to see if anyone wanted a play about a Danish prince called Hamlet? Did Marco Polo ask anybody if they thought China was a good place to visit? Did Richard Rodgers go around bothering housewives to see if they'd like a musical about an Austrian family that sang songs? You betcha they didn't!

So how come all the politicians are running around nagging people to find out what they want? Every candidate has admitted that he follows the polls very closely. Every candidate is ready to be a president to order.

YOU WANT somebody who is a little like a hawk, a lot like a dove and for gun control, lady? You got it. You want somebody against gun control, against crime, against Russia and for the Cape of Good Hope. Okay, lady, vote for me. You want somebody a little shorter? I'll cut off my legs. You want a guy who plays the banjo, I'll take lessons.

I don't see how anybody can pretend to be a leader when he's really a follower. I really don't think that the average American voter wants to have a president to order. If an American person wants to leave an order he goes to a grocer, not a candidate. Or, do you suppose most of the candidates are really grocers?

NBC's Convention Coverage BUDGET-PRICED 5,000 BTU Analytical Reporting to Continue at Chicago

By ROBERT MUSEL United Press International

When Sandor Vanocur of NBC-TV commented at the Republican National Convention that the GOP appeared to be kissing off the Negro vote there were protests to the network that he had forced personal opinion into what should have been objective coverage.

Reuven Frank, President of the NBC News Division, believes Vanocur, an experienced reporter, was absolutely right to state a conclusion he had reached by adding up the facts. But this is a Presidential Year and with political feeling and a wareness running high Frank expects other complaints of partiality before a new tenant gets the White House lease

"IT'S A matter of professional discipline," he said in an interview. "No one on other good bet for oblivion. Television would welcome NBC is ever allowed to grind an axe personally, He may come to a wrong conclusion but he is stating a considered opinion based on actual events. Not everyone may see it that way. People who agree with you regard you as objective. Those who disagree with you feel your are blased." Vanocur's summation of the GOP convention setup and its small handful of Negro delegates was one of the crisp analyses by the NBC floor reporters at Miami Beach that gave a sharp edge to its coverage and helped it gather the largest audience of convention viewers. Frank said the same team would function in much the same way at the Democratic National Convention at Chicago Aug. 26.

Chet Huntley and David Brinkley will be in the booth above the convention floor with Vanocur, Frank McGee, Edwin Newman and John Chancellor down below as reporters.

"We place big emphasis on floor men," Frank said. "Our bunch are four years older and slower than they were in 1964, but they are also four years older and wiser. They are our best reporters and yet competent to analyze; analyst and reporter in the same person."

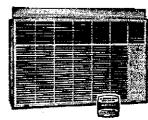

ANOTHER plus for NBC in the ratings battle, according to Frank, was the positioning of commentators and cameras so that viewers always realized they were at a convention and involved in its cover-

"Even while our reporters were simply talking to each other you got the feeling something could happen," he said.

Frank said the Chicago convention would be a "brand new ball game" because of the communications strike which, at the moment, may make it impossible to cover live the Important meeting of the credentials committee at the Hilton Hotel a week from Monday. "We'll cover it somehow," he said, adding that nothing at Miami Beach had changed his belief in complete gavel-to-gavel coverage of the conventions.

HE KEPT careful watch on ABC-TV's experiment of a 90-minute nightly wrapup of the days events.

"ABC couldn't match the excitement of seeing it live," he said. "I don't think its programs had the kind of impact that would make it manifest we were doing the wrong thing and had to change. In a sense we don't we cover is the process of

The Hillbillies Abroad

Clampetts Plan to Bail Out Britain

By United Frees international They were changing the guard at Buckingham Palace when in the midst of the ceremonial there appeared a curious vehicle which obviously did not belong among the crimson jackets and bearskin hats of Her Majesty's forces.

A loyal cry went up from the populace:

"It's Granny! It's them!" This isn't what Queen Elizabeth and her family usually hear shouted in front of their stately home and if they looked out the window they must have seen a rare sight indeed.

THERE, caught in the milling crowd, was that instantly recognizable fugltive from a junkyard, the town (and country) automobile of The Beverly Hillbillies with Jed Clampett, Granny, Jethro and Elly May aboard in costume.

And what, one may ask, were The Beverly Hillbillies doing so far from their native Hollywood? The answer is that last year Paul Henning, creator of the series, decided it needed a shot in the arm and a few foreign scenes might help. He chose England and the experiment was so successful they went back this year to film whole episodes of the seventh season which premiers on CBS-TV Sept. 25.

AS TO how the unit managed to run right into the changing of the guard director Joe Depew claims, with a straight face, that they miscalculated the time of the permit they had been given to shoot in front of the Palace.

"We were nearly mobbed," he said, conceding that his cameras were going all the time, "It seemed like 80 million people were around us. It's the big tourist draw of Britain, you know, and we thought we'd be stuck in traffic and never get out. But we did."

With, of course, some excellent film of crowds hailing the Clampetts, the fact that this fits into the plot must be sheer coincidence.

Henning said he couldn't resist sending his team of Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Max Baer Jr., Donna Douglas, Milburn Drysdale and Nancy Kulp to Britain after reading the news reports from Queen Elizabeth's do-

"Jed also reads them (in the script). The British are zelling the Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mary to Long Beach and London Bridge to some one else. Jed naturally assumes things are so bad in England they are selling off members of the Royal Family and he decides to go abroad to ball to Philadelphia, have sold out the House of Windsor. Mr. Drysdale who wants to keep the money in his bank. hires a down-and-out English actor to persuade them everything is all right in London.

્રક ફર્ય વર્ષ

"But the actor (Alam Mowbray) soon realizes what a chicken house he's in and sells the Clampett's Canada. They go to Britain to give It back to the Queen. Jethro, the clever one, asked the library for a book on Queen Elizabeth and they gave him one on Queen Elizabeth the first. So he thinks she is still on the throne and he is prepared to joust with any knight, knave or oaf if it will help."

ALL VERY funny, if the weather had cooperated.

"It was cold and raining most of the time," Depew said, "and we were miserable and exhausted. But we filmed in between the showers and I hope the British will think the result comic enough to make up for all the trouble we gave them in crowd control.

The Beverly Hillbillies move to their old time of 9 p.m. this season. CBS scheduled them oppoists the last half hour of "The Virginian" last season and Henning says "It didn't work too well because we appeal to the same audience." This year the opposition is the Kraft Music

Kuralt was on the road for 11 months with a cameraman, a soundman and a technician. They traveled in a camper bus, recording what they found.

"The 'On the Road' Special will be essentially a record of where we went and who we met," Kuralt comments. "We concen-trated on the small towns and back roads that reflect the America that used to be and that still exists but never gets the headlines.

Some of the footage on the broadcast was pre-viously shown on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite. Some new footage will be shot especially for "On the Road with Charles Kuralt."

The chronicle of his trip comes just before Kuralt and his crew leave to continue their odyssey across America.

"I'm on an open-ended assignment," Kuralt says. "There are inconveniences involved, but I fly back home to see my wife whenever I can."

BING CROSBY and Bob Hope will team again to make an NBC special in Mexico along the lines of

DUR-COVER

You won't have to go to Mexico City to see the young men who will win most of the gold medals in swimming at the 1968 Olympics; they will be competing in Long Beach Aug. 30-Sept. 3 in the final U.S. Olympic Trials. Americans won two-thirds of the men's swimming events in the 1964 Olympics, and expect to do as well this fall. One of the most outstanding of the Amerl-cans is the youth in our cover photo, 16-year-old Gary Hall of Garden Grove, who recently broke the world record in the 400-meter individual medley. In the cover picture he is shown leading the backstroke race in last month's Los Angeles Invitational Championships. For more about America's top male swimmers-and about Olympic Trials coming up in Long Beach in other sports-turn to John Dixon's story on Page 5.

THE WELLS REPORT

A Day With Destiny

By Bob Wells

THE CITY SLUMBERS in the flat light of August and sighs with the infinite weariness of a summer Thursday afternoon. The car is hot and sleepy, too. It shrugs once, then starts in a businesslike manner and prepares to carry you across town for the fifth time that day.

You breathe the incense of asphalt and whitewalls as you drive and meditate on the Bhagavad-Gita, the Wheel of Life and the Maxims of Albert, the relief bartender long ago at a place near USC called the 901.

"As you move through life, my son," said Albert, "you will ask 'Who am I? Whither am I going?' Look at my friends. First they all got married. Then they had children. Then they got divorced. Then they remarried. Now they are starting to die. That is Tao, the Way. What divine revelation has told you that you can escape their fate?"

Her attorney's office is cool and comfortable, an air-conditioned oasis. Your attorney is waiting impatiently for you. He takes you into the library where you confer after the manner of attorneys and clients everywhere. He patiently explains the matter in words of one and two syllables, You nod impatiently to show that you are not as dumb as his other clients.

Then you both go into her attorney's wood-andleather private office where plaintiff is waiting, Plaintiff. As a pet name meaning "wife," "plaintiff" is rapidly replacing "dearest," "darling," "doll" and all the various diminutives of yesteryear,

You do not look at her immediately as you enter. It is a form of courtesy. You know she will want to study you swiftly in a glance to determine if since she last saw you you have put on weight, have been drinking more than is good for you, have been keeping late hours, are getting even more careless about your appearance. It will only take her one quick glance to tell - not because she knows you so well, but because no matter what she sees, her answers to all those questions will be yes.

After she has had her searching glance you take vours.

The lawyers have smiled at you and her and at each other and now they get down to business. After eight years you find out what marriage is all about. It is not about love or sex or even home cooking. It is about property.

You further learn as you listen to the attorneys that law is a game that only judges and lawyers are allowed to play. Oh, you and plaintiff have an essential part. You have quarreled, split and retained counsel. Now sit in the stands and watch the exciting game.

The attorneys are having fun, but you are rather bored. Your attention wanders to the office and its furniture. It is a nice office. Deep carpets, a glass wall suitably draped, lots of huge, expensive lamps, comfortable chairs, attractive ashtrays.

Suddenly you realize you ultimately will be allowed to contribute to this office, this museum of the laws of matrimony. There will be some part of you — some negotiable part — that will remain here

What will your contribution be? New drapes? A lamp? Perhaps even a new sofa? Perhaps your contribution will be less artistic and more prosalc like paying a secretary's salary.

Neverthelsss, you will make your contribution. It is an exciting thought to realize that without laymen like you, the law could not function - at least, not in these comfortable surroundings.

The conference is over. As you pass plaintiff you speak.

"Did you know," you ask, "that Sam Hartog died yesterday of a heart attack?"

"No!" she says. For a moment you chat and time falls away and it is like before. But only for a mo-

Above the Ventura Freeway the hill lies like a warm, lazy dog in the noon sun. It is green only as golf courses and cemeteries are green. In the hollow at the foot of the hill is the mortuary - one-sixth California Spanish and five-sixths parking lot. The lot is crowded. You self-consciously tuck your car away in a far corner and wish you had washed it.

There are a tremendous number of people here. You had expected that. As administrative aide in charge of the Los Angeles office for the speaker of the California State Assembly, Sam Hartog had an important part in the preparation and execution of legislation. But then you realize that most of the people here were Sam's personal friends rather than merely professional friends. This is not a state funeral. There is no one here who did not want to come but felt he had to.

There is a group here, yourself included, who knew Sam from college days. After the services you are invited to his home and you stand with glasses of ice tea in the hot afternoon to reminisce and to tell stories to hold off the grief and push time back heyond the moment you came to that green hill.

You tell stories of a gentle, laughing man who was remarkable in politics in that he had absolutely no enemies. Even the people he opposed or to whom he had to say no never held it against Sam.

How was it, then, that he of all people should be struck down by a heart attack at the age of 43?

That, of course, is what you always come back to. The thought is voiced time and time again, "He was the first of us to go." Not voiced but equally there is the matching thought, "It will happen again and more and more frequently."

You leave the house and go out into the sunlight, but it is a different color. Somehow it and the world has subtly changed.

SO YOU PUT THE WORLD - the familiar world, at least - behind you and turn your car's nose toward Northern California - toward the Sierra and the Mother Lode and the coastal redwoods. It is time for new sights and sounds and smells. It is vacation time.

There are some people who have been so socialized they cannot do anything alone. If they travel abroad, they join a tour. If they take a motor trip, they organize a caravan with an elaborate system of rendezvous points. But not you. You like to travel

The indispensable companion, of course, is your car. Man's best friend is his car. In an industrial society you can get along without a wife or a family, but not without a car.

You are going up the Golden State Freeway toward the Grapevine, thinking nice thoughts about your car. The sky is blue over the Tehachapis and who knows what lies beyond them. You shake off the depression of the funeral and are feeling good Until you notice steam coming from your hood.

The engine is overheating, obviously, but why and what to do about it? You are well up in the mountains now. You look frantically for a turnoff, but there are few in this country and so you chug along. Finally, you sight a turnoff and just as you get to it, the engine quits. You coast off and come to a stop in the middle of nowhere.

A radiator hose has broken. You finally stop a man in a pickup truck who pushes you to a service station. They fix the hose but the car still won't start. There is nothing to do but have it towed back to the vailey.

As you climb into the tow truck, you look at your watch. It is 4 p.m. Exactly 24 hours have elapsed since you walked into her attorney's office. In that time you have buried a marriage and a friend, and now your last friend, your trusty car, lies seriously wounded.

On the way down to the Valley, you ponder the Hindu Vedas and the Maxims of Albert, All is in-scrutable.

Long Beach's Sports Splash

By John Dixon

ONG BEACH HAS SHED its diapers.

It's a big boy now.

An also-ran in other athletic eras, today Long Beach is No. 1 — the capital of the athletic world.

Not since the 1932 Olympic Games in Los Angeles has any United States metropolis brought together so many squadrons of athletes cloaked in cum laude credentials.

Seven Olympic Games Trials will be conducted in Long Beach between Aug. 21 and Sept. 3 — men's and women's diving. women's volleyball, women's gymnastics, men's swimming, pairs and fours rowing, men's and women's canoeing, and water polo.

Leading finishers will parade the red, white and blue at the XIX Olympiad Oct. 32-27. Gold and glory await them in Mexico City, where the Olympics will become the best known event since Adam loaned Eve a rib. An in-person audience of more than one million, a television crowd estimated at 450 million will follow the upsets and set-ups.

Athletes in the Long Beach Final Olympic Trials are showcase names. The competition sites are showplaces.

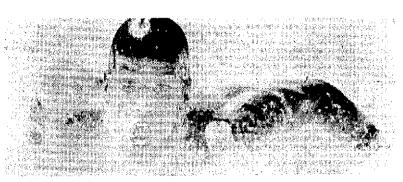

Swimming events will be conducted at the new Belmont Plaza Olympic Pool a $3.7 million edifice ranked as one of the most beautiful and functional in the world. Marine Stadium, whose $2 million facelift turned her into the prettiest mermaid raceway in the country, will host crew and canoe competition.

Gymnastics will be held in the luxurious Long Beach Arena, volleyball in Cal State Long Beach's well-polished gymnasiums.

You don't have to speak Spanish to see the Olympic swimming medalists. Most of them will be in Long Beach.

America won two-thirds of the swim medals in 1964, and the victory percentage is not going on a roller coaster ride in 1968.

Don Gambril, coach at Cal State Long Beach, and an assistant Olympic coach, points ont, "There are 30 gold medals in Mark Spitz of Santa Clara, Calif., plows through the water in 100-meter butterfly race. Mark, who'll enter Cal State Long Beach this fall, has set an Olympic Games target of five gold medals.

-AP Wireahol

swimming. Our goal is to win 20.

"You can be certain that more world records will be broken in Long Beach than in Mexico City. I expect new records in the 200, 400 and 1,500 meter freestyle, 400 and 800 relay, 100 and 200 butterfly, and probably in the 200 and 400 individual medley."

If the 400 medley falls, the young man who will perform the tumbling is Gary Hali (see cover), a Garden Grove high school (Rancho Alamitos) student blessed with unique credentials.

He is 16, a straight-A student, captain of the Long Beach Phillips 66 team, and at 4:43.4 swims two seconds faster than anyone else.

Hall drills with Slip Darr on stroke, with Gambril on distance conditioning. In Long Beach Hall will risk his world record in the individual medley, participate in the 200 backstroke, and probably compete in two relays.

That would be a thring task for an alligator, but Hall will be prepared. He spends almost as much time in the water as an alligator.

He swims twice a day, 13,000 meters each day, 36 miles each week.

"All of my champions do this," Gambril points out. "They work much harder than a trackman. Remember, water is four times as dense as air."

Swimming is a youngster's world. Some are so young that they think Einstein is a glass of beer.

Mark Spitz won't be old enough to vote for three years, yet he can do everything, and do it better than almost anyone else.

At 11, Spitz held 17 national age group records. Today he ranks No. 1 in the world in the 100 and 200 butterfly and 400 free-style.

His target is five Olympic Games gold nedals.

"The Olympics is all or nothing, You do it, or you forget your dreams. Mine are to win as many medals as possible."

Spitz has the mettle to win the medals. In the Pan-American Games last year, he won a bagful of gold — five gold medals, an achievement never before accomplished in the hemispheric games.

Following the Olympiad, Spitz will join Cal State Long Beach's booming sports program.

Spitz's coach at Santa Clara Swim Cluh, George Haines, calls his star pupil "undoubtedly the best all-around swimmer in the world today—but Don Schollander remains the toughest swimmer to beat in any given race."

Schollander was the water hero of the 1964 Olympics, where he won four gold medels. He was acclaimed greatest swimmer in Olympic history, erasing such revered names as Duke Kahanamoku and Johnny Weissmuller.

"I won the four in Tokyo, but I'm not counting on doing it again," says Schollander, who graduated from Yale in June. "I'm confident that I can get one or two medals this time. I'm definitely planning to peak for the Games in October, not for the Olympic Trials."

Since Schollander, at the advanced age of 22, can't turn back the clock, he has resigned from the 100 and 400 freestyles.

He will point for the 200, and relays, in the Trials.

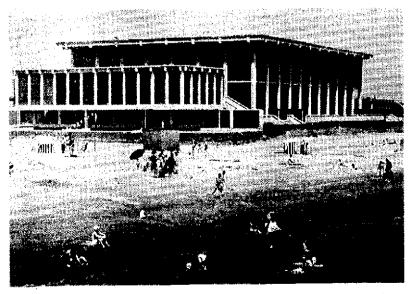

Don't bet against him. His won-lost record is better than Juan Marichal's, or anyone clse's — three defeats in major outdoor sprints in four years.

James Counsilman, 1968 Olympic coach, and tutor of Indiana University's 1968 national collegiate champions, insists that neither Spitz nor Schollander is No. 1.

"Charlie Hickcox is the greatest swimmer in the world," says Counsilman. "He'll do anything you tell him to do. He's never late, works hard at everything.

"He has a tremendous natural physical ability, plus the mental endowment. He's very coachable, wants to be good, so he's willing to pay the price, We've had a lot of kids with the same potential, but they were not willing to make the same sacrifices. And I mean 11 months out of the year."

Hickcox lifts weights, swims four hours a day. That program has earned him trophies in national collegiate, AAU and World University Games backstroke and individual medley championships.

Swimming longevity often is measured in months, rarely in years, yet Gary Ilman. like Schollander, is fighting the flood of always-younger faces.

Since 1956 only five men have made return trips to the swim Olympics.

A double gold medal winner in the freestyle relays in 1964, Ilman at 25 probably will be the oldest swimmer in the Olympic Trials. His competitive career has been interrupted by work, the Army, attending Cal State Long Beach and surgery.

"It may be for the best that I haven't been swimming all the time," he says. "I look at some of these people who have been swimming non-stop for so many years, and I think, 'How the heck can you do it?' I think a break is good. I think it helped me,"

The world will know Aug. 30, when the swim trials, a five-day circus of exposed emotions, commence.

Men's and women's diving trials will be held Aug. 21-24. Among entries will be Bernie Wrightson (above) of Phoenix, Ariz.

'Hi, Neighbor!'

SUBURBIA the difference between the good life and hell on earth often depends on the folks next door. Yet little thought seems to have been given the problem of how to get good neighbors. Except by me.

When my wife informed me recently that the Open House sign was about to go up on the newly completed four-bedroomer next door, I saw an opportunity to put my theories to the test.

"And I'm worried sick," my wife added. "What if a branch of the Jukeses should move in?"

"Calm yourself, my I said, patting her hand. "I intend to personally handpick our new neigh-

"Not like you pick horses, I hope.'

'I call it the Git Thar Fustest Plan." I outlined my idea, briefly. "Rather a revolutionary concept, eh?"

"I just hope you don't end up in a cast," she said.

BRIGHT AND early Saturday morning the Open House sign blossomed next door and the real estate man could be seen skulking about in wait for victims. In accordance with my plan, I set up an observation post in a window of my den which commanded all approaches. I had not loo long to wait before the first prospects arrived.

An ancient, battered Essex wheezed up and shuddered to a halt. It disgorged successively a tobacco-chewing rail of a man, his slatternly mate, an overalled youth of some 17 summers and a buxom girl of about 14. They could well have been the remnants of a stranded Tobacco Road company.

"Plan X!" I called to my wife, whom I had stationed at the stereo.

"Roger."

The majestic tones of Unfinished Beethoven's Symphony boomed out on the quiet air. Jeeter Lester, wife and offspring stopped as one and stared open-mouthed in the direction of the music. My wife and I hurried back to the patio at the rear of the house.

When the Lesters and the real estate man arrived to inspect the back yard area, my wife could be seen reclining on the chaise longue savoring the bouquet of a large American beauty rose; I lay at her feet reading aloud from Byron.
"Rilly, deah," my wife said in a loud clear voice as she stared through a lorgnette at the group next door, "the lower classes are inescapable these days, n'est ce pas!"

"Democracy, old girl," I replied, screwing my monocle into place and glaring at the intruders. "Age of the common man and that rot."

As the crackers watched slack-jawed, my wife and I rose together; I offered her my arm, and with heads high, we swept into the house.

Moments later I watched through the den window as the Lester family, visibly shaken, climbed into their jalopy and rattled off. We never saw them more.

THE NEXT prospects were a large family in a small station wagon. Pop, an undersized pipe-smoking type, got out first. He was followed by an endless file of small fry, suggesting a trick shot from an old Mack Sennett comedy. Last came Mom carrying the newest addition to the family, with another plainly on the drawing boards.

"Plan Y!" I yelled to my wife. "And pull out all stops!"

"Aye, aye, sir."

From the record player came a blast of rock 'n' roll that nearly knocked the briar from Pop's mouth, jerked Mom smartly to attention and silenced momentarily the chattering regiment of small fry. I quickly donred beret, dark glasses and Vandyke beard while my wife rushed to the rear and began strew-

A Man of Many Lives

By Mark Clutter

IKE MOST MEN of 67, Irwin Frederick Zeltner enjoys recalling the past. Unlike some, he is a delight to listen to. He has done much colorful and worthwhile living in his

Among other things he has been a newspaper reporter, a soldier, a policeman, a promoter of great movies and of movie stars, and a New York City commissioner. In retirement he is working on a book about his father, "Wireless" Louis Zeltner, the man who might have made Franklin Delano Roosevelt a name forgotten by history.

The elder Zeltner was an incredible newsman and Republican politician on New York's East Side. (His father, Henry F. Zeltner, manage d Lincoln's campaign in New York City.) He was called "Wireless" because of the speed with which he could find news stories and ger them to the city desks.

At the age of 10, Fred was already a kind of newspaperman, carrying copy from his father to the newspapers. The Zeliner household was a gathering place of politicians and newspapermen, and every Friday was "seafood day" when the Zeltners played hosts to such personalties at a huge continuing dinner. That was the world Fred grew up in.

The way the elder Zeltner threatened the career of FDR was this: He was a campaign manager for Atly. Gen, Albert Ottinger, candidate for governor opposing Roosevelt in 1928. Roosevelt won by a mere 20,000 votes. Zeltner had evidence which he believed would have proved Ottinger the victor. But Ottinger conceded too hastily.

At 14 Fred decided to be a soldier and fight Pancho Villa. He joined the National Guard but the captain found out his age and sent him back to civilian life.

So he decided to be a newspaper reporter — and actually got the job, probably because the name Zeltner had a certain magic. His first assignment was to go home and change into long pants. He did well despite his youth. He wrote a movie review which brought an angry phone call from Samuel Goldwyn, the famed producer. The upshot of their conversation was that Goldwyn hired him at $65 a week.

His career in the motion picture industry was interrupted by military service in World War I and by a stint as a New York patrolman. Then he returned to motion pictures, acting as New York representative and promotion expert for many films and actors.

Zeltner knew most of the great names personally, representing them with his agency, Irwin Zeltner & Associates. A list of his clients is a kind of Who's Who. It includes Tom Mix, Eddie Cantor, Rudy Vallee, Harry Richmond, Jimmy Durante, Ben Bernie, Martin Ray, Bill Robinson, Louis Sobol, George Jessei, At Ritz, Harry Rick, Jimmie Ritz, Eddie Duchin, Horace Keith, Ed Sullivan, Mae West, Clark Gabie, Jack Benny, Mary Livingstone, Allan Jones, Ella Logan, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Joe Penner, W. C. Fields, reform move movements.

Judy Garland, Buddy Rogers and Guy Lombardo.

His an ecdotes about these people and his understanding of their personalities would make quite a book. The one he most admired was the late Clark Gable, a close friend. After Carole Lombard's death Gable came to him in New York, Gable stayed to himself and would see no one for two weeks. Then he returned to Hollywood. On another occasion Zellner accompanied Gable on a sentimental journey to Casentimental journey to Cas diz, Ohio, the actor's home Quite unexpectedly, Zeltner began a new career in the late 1940s. New York City was in the throes of a reform movement, and Fred's brother Edward, a powerful columnist for the Mirror, was in the thick of it. Fred was asked to become an acting commissioner. He consented to give six months of his time. He was first harbor commissioner and then roving commissioner with emphasis on police department reorganization. He won many citations for his work during this crucial period in New York history. He quit in 1955.

Zelliner, an active, suntanned, friendly man, is enjoying the quiet of retirement after a strenuous life. He lives in Long Beach.

Zeltner in early 1950s with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Zeltner was commissioner in New York City.

Return to the Days of the Voyageurs

By Bob and Jan Young

ALL WALTER MITTYS, arise! Return to the days of the voyageurs! Paddle your own canoe down the famed Russian River!

Well, it may not be a complete return to the early days of the fur hunters, even though the river was named after some of the Slavic fur seekers when America was fighting the War of 1812. But there's fun in a 15-mite canoe trip in which you do all the paddling.

About a thoround people each week during the summer months gather at various canoe rental agencies at the Healdsburg Municipal Beach, about 65 miles north of San Francisco on Highway 101. The canoes, which carry three people, are usually available in sufficient numbers, though reservations are suggested. They cost $9 a day per canoe. (Write the Redwood Empire Association, 476 Post St. San Francisco 94102.) The renter hauls the canoes about five miles upstream to the Alexander Valley Bridge, and the sportsmen are let loose following a few warnings:

Don't litter; avoid the steel levees; wear a life jacket; carry your cameras and valuables in waterproof bags; don't take any excess because the river bottom is littered with glasses, purses, shoes and the like. What brings the adventurers up short is the warning that loss of the craft costs $200.

The Russian River is a placid, warmish stream which twists through oat fields and around redwooded knolls. Occasionally it narrows between rocky walls or swings close enough to overhanging willows to upset the careless canceist.

A 15-mile paddle is good exercise and not beyond the physical capacities of weekday of fice-workers. Especially when it's punctuated with lunch-stops, swim breaks and an occasional beer-blow.

For the hardier souls, and those with more time, there are two- or even three day voyages which start up near Asti. There the Italian Swiss Winery provides a rosy send-off.

Most trips end at Del Rio Woods, where there is a summer dam, and where the rental operators provide pickup service. Some canoeists continue on down to Healdsburg, some three miles, though it's flat water and harder padding than on the steeper upper stretches.

River-running weather continues excellent well into the fall, and it's then — when the leaves are turning and temperatures going nippy — that some connoisseurs prefer to ride the Russian. Certainly it's less crowded — but you have less chance of watching somebody else get Canoeing on the Russian River.

Licorice May Cause High Blood Pressure

By Ben Zinser

Southland Manazine Madical-Science Editor

ATING AN excessive amount of licorice may cause severe high blood pressure.

Two Amsterdam doctors report such a case in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The patient was a 20-year-old woman who complained of headaches and fatigue. She had high blood pressure. Questioned by a medical student, the patient eventually disclosed she was eating more than three ounces of licorice a day.

After the woman abstained from licorice, her blood pressure returned to normal within 13 days.

WHAT ARE THE minimum salt intake requirements for 11- to 15year-old children playing Little League football?

Dr. Robert J. Murphy of Columbus, Ohio, a consultant to the Journal of the American Medical Association, gives the following opin-

Children as well as adults lose considerable salt when exercising in hot weather. The rule of thumb which most athletic teams follow is use of four salt tablets (325 milligrams each) with each quart of water. A quart of salt solution should be consumed for each two-pound loss during each workout.

Fluid replacement is far more important than sait alone. To take saic without adequate water can be a dangerous practice. The use of plain water in adequate amonts before, during and after each workout, plus the heavy salting of food, will usually be adequate in preventing problems associated with heat, FACE CREAMS containing female hormone (estrogen) should be kept out of the reach of youngsters, doctors warn.

Hartford, Conn., researchers cite the case of a 31/2-year-old girl who developed breasts and experienced vaginal bleeding. Later it was found that the child had played with a face-cream lar and smeared the cream around her mouth during periodic visits to her grandmother's home. The cream contained estro-

Removal of the product from the child's environment resulted in prompt disappearance of abnormal development,

CHEMICALS in certain soaps can sometimes cause skin disorders in persons who are sensitive to sun-

A researcher at Mayo Clinic says that among the chemicals that may cause trouble are bithionol, hexachlorophene, tribromosalicylanilide and two forms of dibrosalicylanilide.

So when in doubt, read the label on the bar of soan.

THERE'S NO evidence that carrying a heavy book bag ever caused severe disability in a schoolchild, says a report in The Practitioner, a British medical journal.

It may occasionally produce a temporary minor disability - but this is of no significance, the report assures.

In any event, the report notes, as soon as a child feels that a bag is too heavy in one hand, he switches it over to the other.

No other single unit retail carpet outlet sells as much as Willbanks'... in all of California. We're number one! So who's arguing?

We are! because some of you bought carpet or sheet vinyl elsewhere.

You see, Willbanks' sells and installs none but the world's finest brand name carpetings and vinyls. Our salesmen are the most "customer-pleasing" in California (they'd better be) who are schooled and trained to fulfill YOUR requirements (not ours) and ... please note this ... at the price YOU want to pay."

Then there's our endless stock-on-hand ... in roll upon roll of exquisite and exciting carpeting ... gigantic and towering selections from the finest carpet mills in the entire world.

Willbanks' own crews of carpet installers are the best in their field. They work efficiently, swiftly and with total competence. They are painstakingly careful, and treat your home and possessions with a respect you might like to see in your own children. (Our own kids aren't even in the running!!)

Last but not least, Willbanks' sells the best for less because we operate only a large WAREHOUSE in a location on the barren slopes of Signal Hill . . . that is almost criminally low in cost!

So Willbanks' prices are virtually unbeatable.

New England by the Bay

Penthouse of Alamitos Bay home has view of entrance to ocean.

Typical New England architecture on bay site.

Huge fireplace dominates provincial living room.

By Ellen Krec

SPENDING too much time on the freeway caused an uprooting of the Frank W. Reed family.

The commuting problem was not the usual work-home situation, but home to boats.

Actually the Reeds are more than boat and hay lovers, they are also collectors and to date the three Reeds (including young Frank, 25) enjoy five boats and a three-story home, all on Alamitos Bay.

"We designed our own home according to long-standing taste in architecture and furnishings," says Mrs. Reed. "We always have preferred a Cape Cod exterior with homey provincial interior."

The New England appearance is much at home within steps of the private dock.

With a spectacular view of the marina and exit to the ocean, only a narrow border garden was included in the landscaping. Colorful verbena grows along the upper wall with a seawall garden of sago palm, dracena and olive trees potted and placed at the edge of the random plantings and stepping stones.

The 40-by-80-foot lot allowed for height in the dwelling with some irregular turns to accommodate to the narrow space and provide each room with a bay view.

"We wanted two foyers," says Mrs. Reed. "The bay foyer was a must for privacy, so we included a slate floor and centered it between the dining and living vides a gracious entry from the garage and rear patio.

The move reached unexpected proportions when the Paramount Aluminum Foundry where Reed shares partnership moved to Long Beach in the same week six years ago.

"We managed to build 3,000 square feet of home within the confined space,' says Mrs. Reed.

Topping off the dwelling Is a penthouse and sundeck completed by son Frank and serving as his private quarters.

"Two things we knew we wanted," says Mrs. Reed, "were red brick both in the fireplaces and vinyl flooring and wallpaper in nearly every room."

Although the boat collection includes a Seaway 24 and an inboard Chris Craft along with sailing sabots, Reeds encourage a the friend to leave a large sailboat moored in full view of the living room "because it looks so pretty."

The living room is based between entries with an Irregular placement of diamond pane windows providing a sweeping view of the water but the Reeds' circular red and white sofa hugs the massive used brick fireplace.

The kitchen dining and family rooms open to each other with a see-through view provided by the wallwide windows.

A spectacular panorama shares the focus in the dining room with a handsome ship's wheel formed into a dining table.

The wheel was discovered in Hawaii by the younger Reed while he was in college there. The 200-pound weight made shipping slightly more difficult than assembling. Before it glass topped, made a shaft which allows the wheel to turn at any time.

The natural solution to the dining table was the captain's chairs with red corduroy cushions.

An antique kerosene lamp was wired to hang above the table.

Topping the red ruffled valance at the windows is a plate rail well filled with an antique china and crystal collection.

Trimming the ceiling and soffit is a red provincial print wallpaper. The walls are paneled with the exception of the brick food preparation center which forms a single wall for the threeroom units.

Flowing through the three rooms is the identical wallpaper and brick vinyl flooring.

Father and son trophies reside on one family room wall - a dolphin and prizesize bonito.

Natural muslin tie backs at the patio window frame a chaise on which Schooner, the Reeds' Cairn terrier, spends his time.

Under the stairs rising to the second story nestles a small guest powder room with a marble pullman curving around birch cabinets. Mosaic wallpaper covers all wall and trims the short ruffle above the shut-

The umbrella rack in the living room entry was cut down from a Victorian hall tree. The rack had been a three-time gift from Mrs. Reed's father and returned each time until this home proved to have just the right place for it.

Heavy braid carpeting completely covers the second story rooms in a bold and provincial manner.

A sitting room at the top of the stairs has a full wall unit for books and storage. Small-scale chairs under the high casement windows help make this a comfortable stopping-off place.

The rooms lead in an irregular path through an office niche to the blue and green floral print master bedroom.

The pre-Singer Wheeler and Wilson sewing machine in the dormer window with a bay view, still sews although Mrs. Reed admits she prefers using her new electric one and employing this as a table.

Six-door closets provide the "dream" storage on one full wall in this warm, maple furnished bedroom.

The pink and white stripe companion bath also has shutter doors. The Reeds feel this is the solution to the dampness usually prevalent in a bayside home. The louvers allow air to flow freely at all times.

"The room that was daughter Judy's" is a blending of lavender and deep purple with touches of floral print on the dressing table and short draperies.

The bed rests in the dormer window bordered by open display shelves and fully enclosed storage reaching between two bedrooms.

The bath-for-two also changes from a masculine beige and white stripe to a floral print with a sliding door divider.

The workshop turns guest room for the constant flow of water and boat fanciers.

Comfortably furnished in gold and white, the room also has an exit to the penthouse.

UP AND away is the selfsitting-bedroom designed and study the Reeds' son eniovs.

Among the unusual innovations is the balcony bordering the stairwell Reed laced rope through the hand rail in a nautical baluster effect.

At the balcony a long desk faces the deck and an unobstructed view.

The rear of the paneled room is devoted to greencapped twin beds with gold burlap headhoards. The same gold burlap formed the draperies.

A fine touch was provided by a generous relative in a gift submarine lamp to hang in the window as a complement to the ship's lanterns at the bed wall.

Fruitful Time of Year

SUMMERTIME — and the living is easy . . .

And one of the most colorful ways of keeping it cool is to use fruits in planning your menus. They're plentiful, refreshing and delicious.

Heading the list (though knows no season) is the avocado. This goldengreen fruit is a maryelous energy-booster, thanks to its rare fruit oil. Avocados contain no starch and very little sugar and are a gold mine of 14 minerals and 11 essential vitamins,

To make sure that this yummy fruit is eating-ripe, cup an avocado in the palms of your hands. If it yields to firm but gentle pressure, serve it.

The fruit is always mature when it is harvested, but it ripens best at room temperature. For slow-ripening, place the avocados in a bowl; they make a striking centerpiece. If you want to hurry the process, put them in a paper bag or foil or plastic bags. Only when the fruit is ripe and ready can it be stored in the refrigerator, And don't forget - put them in the least cold area.

Avocados can be served as appetizers, salads or even with dips but following are three succulent dessert recipes from the California Avocado Advisory Board combining the luscious California avocado with a trio of summer favorites-strawberries, pineapple and watermelon:

and even drifting into commercial ventures. Something about the color explosion that transfers readily from one classic use to an out-and-out psychedelic experience.

From the meditation to the mundane goes the splash of color when it fills a window opening on an uninteresting view.

Vetro Stained Glass, Inc. is the parent of a young operation based on an ageless technique.

Edgar Regini, born in Argentina and trained in the art of stained glass, brought his craft to Los Angeles about six years ago. Unfortunately, an interim decision to "paint awhile" prolonged his introduction into the career that began with church art.

His developed technique provided him with a new approach to stained glass. Leaded glass has been the classic form but posed a few problems, among them each window had to be custom fit and filled to the leaded pane size. Also, the lead did not provide as firm a surface to work with, so lamination became the answer.

First comes the design which takes the major portion of the lime involved and Regini likes to work directly with the individual to get a complete picture of taste as well as place.

There are standard designs, of course, and this does account for a decrease in cost. But generally Regini feels a window certainly is a piece of art and, unlike a painting, does not move about, so it should be something an individual must be content with for many years.

With stained glass art, there is a visual and emotional impact, so temperament certainly is a consideration.

Among the current demands are kitchen windows from red combed roosters to overflowing cornucopias. Excellent designs are available for that needed bathroom privacy and a lovely change from frosted glass.

Room dividers and the door between kitchen and dining room can be delightful with stained glass. When the door is closed for dining, the usually brightly lighted kitchen gives added impetus to the colors and is a great improvement over those dirty dishes! How about shower door? My suggestion as a change from shower draperies.

"The work I enjoyed most was two windows for a home owned by Brian

Wilson," says Reginl, "and the one window became the cover of a Capitol record album called 'Wild Honey by the Beach Boys.'

"My newest dream is almost a fact," he says, "a geodesic meditation dome. Today most people need a place for reflecting and church somehow has failed to fill that need since the trend is toward a more social atmosphere. I hope to provide a movable platform with a change of pattern glass to fit the mood along with suitable music." Unfortunately, this will be expensive and large, so if you wish to reflect under glass, save your money and buy a large lot!

always as long lasting and flowers never change: everyone loves them, and since this is a more permanent form of art, it should be something you are not going to be bored with in a short time.

As an extension of the use or if you are a constant mover, it is suggested that you frame a panel of the glass and hang it in front of the window as a glass sculpture, or it also will serve as a light fixture very handsomely if you mount it and light it from behind. It's excellent in a foyer or hall or even in a dining area softly lighted and backing the buffet as a change from a chandelier.

Vetro is a semi-family affair. Mrs. Regini works with her husband and he gives her full credit for a commercial adjunct to the husiness — drinking glasses with a stained glass effect using coating-of-many-colors fiberglass on standard glass forms.

The result is a brilliant and handcrafted appearing glass suitable for hot or cold heverages.

The stained glass windows could be considered reasonably priced if you are willing to accept stock designs. The cost per square foot of glass is $15 and there is at least one design to fit each interior. If you have your own ideas, you may count on a greater

Q. The bathroom off my bedroom is in gold and avocado green which cannot be changed. Should I use the color in the bedroom?

A. The bedroom and bath should be treated as a unit using the same colors. If green is the major predominating color with gold in towels and accessories in the bath, then you can reverse these colors in the bedroom. Use gold color as a major on walls and carpet. The draperies could be in a print of gold, corals, greens on a white ground. Spread in same gold tone as carpet, tailored sheet type with a trim, Decurative pillows should repeat the colors in drapery, white, coral and green. Now the colors tie to those in the bath but are not monotonous in repetition. A mobile home should be furnished for easy maintenance, coordinating the color throughout in simple good taste. Avoid using so called elegance.

drapery in a dining, family room that has all Early American furniture and butter yellow walls?

A. I presume your Early American furniture is the usual commercial maple type. This should give an informal country atmosphere that calls for simple window treatment. Use a fabric like unbleached muslin. This comes pre-shrunk in 36, 45 & 72-inch widths with a finish that needs little froning. In making them, tallor them perfectly as you would an expensive imported fabric. You may want to use a rim. If so, use a butter yellow color, braid or banding. You can also use a colored fabric cut on the bias as a trim, or three rows of bias binding. There are dozens of trims on the market, and just as many ways of using them. It all depends on the atmosphere you wish to create.

AND OUR THE BEST! HERE'S WHY

Anthony - by far the world's largest buyer of pool materials - can buy cement, steel, and copper at the lowest prices in the industry. Anthony's big factory builds top-quality equipment and accessories for less than other builders pay a middleman-distributor for ordinary equipment.

Based on equal quality, how could any builder (who probably has to pay more for everything he buys) possibly beat Anthony's prices?

Anthony has been chosen by twice as many pool buyers. They compared quality of construction, accessories, and service. They compared prices. And they signed with Anthony. It makes sense. Anthony became the world's largest by giving more pool for the money. Call Anthony and judge for yourself, COLLECTORS of political material quietly follow their hobby for three years then break out in a boom during a presidential election year.

Very little is to be had from the early period of our country. The first pieces considered part of this field are the buttons produced shortly after the in-auguration of George Washington in 1789. Some of these have the legend "Long live the President G. W.," others an eagle. They are all rare.

It was not until 1824 that tokens were used in the elections with any great success. Quite a number were made for Andrew Jackson, for his victory at New Orleans. The reverse of some stated "The hero of New Orleans," "The nation's good" and "The nation's pride."

In the bitter and controversial election of 1828, handbills, campaign literature, ribbons, brass buttons and household gadgets were distributed on a large scale, and from then on they became a part of the presidential election scene.

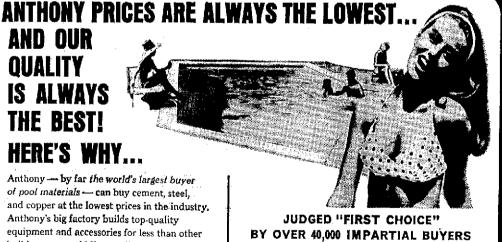

William H. Harrison ran for President in 1840 in what was called "The Log Cabin and Hard Cider Campaign." Parades, cider parties and songfests took place all over the country, log cabins on wheels were seen everywhere, live raccoons and buttons, badges, lithographs, jewelry and hundreds of other trinkets appeared,

In the Abraham Lincoln campaigns, some interesting tokens and medals showed him as the Railsplitter and others bore such slogans as "Free homes for free men."

Each election now features tons of campaign material. The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., has a display of this presidential material. Among the scarcest political items are those used by the third or minor parties which have campaigned in the past. There were such parties as the Theocratic Party, the Socialist Workers Party (Trotskyites), the first U.S. party to run a Negro for President and the Prohibition Party.

Among the most famous series are the William Jennings Bryan Items. While this famous American never attained the highest office in our land, he was a candidate many times and there are many political items to show for it. Among his best-known politicals are the so-called "Bryan dollars," struck by many famous silversmiths, such as Tiffany and Gor-

Did you know that the "mugwumps" were independent members of the Republican Party who were against James Blaine in 1884 and supported Grover Cleveland, the Democratic candidate? They are often referred to as MUG on one side and WUMP on the other.

DISSENT AND DOGMA, By Matthew Arnold, Edited by R. H. Super. University of Michigan Press, $11.75.

When the English poet, essayist and critic Matthew Arnold, eldest son of the famous historian and headmaster of Rugby, Thomas Arnold, turned in 1870 to religious criticism, he in actuality founded Anglican modernism.

His seeming unorthodoxy brought down on his head denunciation from the orthodox, who accused him of disloyalty and enmity to the Church and to religion, when in fact he was attempting to serve them by breaking down prejudices. The unbelievers, on the other hand, assailed him because he clung to the Church and kept to religious beliefs whose foundations he had undermined.

Religion was the last subject to which Arnold turned in his writings, though he had constantly been preoccupied with it. His series of works on religion consisted of "St. Paul and Protestantism," 1870; "Literature and Dogma," 1873, the most important of the series; "God and the Bible," 1875, and "Last Essays on Church and Religion," 1877. Arnold's own words, in the preface to "God and the Bible," refute those who accused him of destructiveness and those who charged him with timidity: "At the present moment two things about the Christian religion must surely be clear to anybody with eyes in his head. One is, that men cannot do without it; the other, that they cannot do with it as it is."

His religious works have suffered undeserved neglect. With publication of "Dissent and Dogma," sixth volume in the definitive critical edition of "The Complete Prose Works of Matthew Arnold," prepared by R. H. Super, professor of English at the University of Michigan, that neglect should in no small way be dissipated. This volume contains "St. Paul and Protestantism," "Literature and Dogma," and some of Arnold's letters to the press on religious and educational questions. - N.H.

Unjust Justice

COUNTRY JUDGE. By Pedro Prado. Translated by Lesley Byrd Simpson. University of California Press,

The literary weather these days is fair and Chile, for from that country in recent weeks have come two excellent novels - Jose Donoso's "This Sunday," published by Knopf, and now, "Country Judge."

'Country Judge" is an autobiographical work by one of Chile's best novelists (Pedro Prado died in 1952). Solaguren, his protagonist, is, as was Prado, an architect. Solaguren's life is too placid; to escape its uneventfulness he assumes a judgeship in a suburb of the capital, Santiago, and the odd characters who come before him and the often silly plaints and suits they bring to his court enable Prado, a master of the lean dialogue and the sharp description, to draw scenes memorable for their humor and their poignancy.

Gradually the pettinesses and sordidness of the court tell on him, and the dispensing of justice is no simple matter. With his friend, the painter Mazarena, he goes to the country when court is not in session; they talk of anything and everything, but solve none of Solaguren's problems. Returning to his courtroom, the frustrated judge resigns, a defeated man. He finds no peace in flight to the seaside or in return to the city.

Pedro Prado has meant his novel as a portrait, not only of his own Chile, but of humanity as a whole, and he has succeeded exceedingly well, - N. H.

MAIGRET AND THE HEADLESS CORPSE. By Simenon. Translated from the French by Eileen Ellenbogen. Harcourt, Brace and World, $3.95.

If some of the more pretentious novels of our day are worth $6.95, and who says they are, then . Simenon's new Maigret is worth double the $3.95 the publisher is asking.

This time Maigret is in search of a head (he hasn't of course, lost his own; he never does). A headless corpse turns up in a Paris canal, and Inspector Maigret is convinced it's not the ordinary gang murder people think it is. His hunt for the head brings him to a sallors' bistro with a strange owner, and questioning her, he discovers some very odd circumstances indeed. Like all Simenon books, suspense and psychology combine to make a masterpiece in miniature.

Shlump and Mishegas

THE STORY is told of the old rabbi, long-bearded and wearing his caftan, being stored at as he arrives at the Atlanta railroad station on a visit to his relatives. "What's the matter wichoo folks," he crics in exasperation. "Aintcha never seen a Yenkee?"

It is not for such a Yankee that Martin Marcus's "Yiddish for Yankees, Or Funny, You Don't Look Gentile," (Lippincott, $1.95) is meant. Our Yankee in Atlanta would know that a shlump is a sad sack, a slow, slovenly person; that a krech is a groaner, and hence a malcontent; that a dorfying is a rube, a country bumpkin (any resident of Florida who isn't from Miami Beach); that mishegas is a craziness, something really foolish or complicated. And Martin Marcus gives us lots more, each with hilarious but illuminating explanations.

And Try Not to Miss...

SPHERELAND, By Dionys Burger, Translated from the Dutch by Cornelie J. Rheinholdt. Apollo Editions, $1.95.

Dutch mathematician and physicist Dionys Burger combines fantasy, wit, and an impeccable scientific accuracy in this unique novel which provides both pleasure and exercise for the intellect. It is a fantasy about curved spaces and the expanding universe.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY OF THE ENG-LISH PEOPLE AND OTHER SELECTIONS FROM THE WRITINGS OF THE VENERABLE BEDE. Edited and with an introduction by James Campbell, Washington Square Press, $1.45.

A new edition of the great chronicle of the conversion of England to Christianity, written by one of the most learned monks of the Middle Ages. Added to it are the complete text of Bede's "Lives of the Abbots" and selections from some of his other works.

THE FLAGELLANTS. By Carlene Hatcher Polite. Dell, 75 cents.

Reprint of a novel by a young Negro writer who has been Martha Graham dancer and Playboy Club Bunny, and whose first work has won wide critical acclaim. It is the story of a young black couple and the torments and problems, both those uniquely Negro and those which afflict all young lovers.

DON'T CRY FOR ME, By Klara Jarunkova, Translated from the Slovak by George Theiner, Four Winds Press, Slovak has been the neglected culture of Czechoslovakia in American translation, and this touching tale of a 15year-old girl on the threshold of womanhood shows that Slovak literature deserves more of our attention.

ART SINCE 1945. Washington Square Press, 90 cents. Sir Herbett Read, Marcel Brion and other distinguished contributors discuss what has occurred in the world of art in the past quarter century. There are over 100 black and white, and 33 color illustrations.

THAILAND TODAY, A Visit to Modern Siam, By Valentin Chu. Crowell, $7.95,

A charming, affable people who dwell amidst some of the world's most colorful surroundings and exotic structures are the heroes and heroines of this book. Thailand is being visited by more and more Americans each year, and for them and for armchair travelers who love the exotic, this book is a must.

MEDIEVAL GERMAN LYRIC VERSE, in English translation by J. W. Thomas. University of North Carolina Press, $7.50.

Songs of the monasteries, the early singers of the nobility, the 13th century minnesong, middle class courtly songs, the great Walther Von Der Vogelweide and Neidhart Von Reuenthal are among the subjects of this fascinating book.

WRITINGS IN THE NEW CUBA. An anthology edited by J. M. Cohen. Penguin, $1.25.

A new generation of Cuban writers, not all of them subservient to Castroism, is represented in this collection of poems, stories and a play. The influence of Kafka, T. S. Eliot, Guillaume Apollinaire can be discerned.

'HI, NEIGHBOR!'

ing empty liquor bottles about the yard.

Just as the population explosion and the real estate man arrived to view the rear area, my wife hurst from the house screaming bloody murder, her hair streaming wildly behind her. I followed in hot pursuit, waving a samurai sword and shouting threats and imprecations.

Thrice we raced around the bottle - strewn yard, yelling at the top of our lungs, while the group next door stood and watched, transfixed.

Later, when Mom and Pop were about to herd their brood back into the station wagon, they could plainly see me through the den window, puffing contentedly on a Chinese opium pipe. Relief was writ large on the faces of all as the overloaded station wagon drove off, to vanish forever from our ken.

OTHER prospective buyappeared throughout the day, but most offered little real challenge. An over-dressed couple of the Noisy Party type, accompanied by a pimply youth riding a loudly popping British motorcycle, were easily disposed of with Plan Z, which consisted simply of my wife shrilling music scales out of the open den window in the manner of an operatic soprano, while I accompanied on the cymbals.

A bit more difficult were the couple with faces off a Post Office WANTED bulletin, and two small sons, armed with sling shots, BB pistols and giant firecrackers. Neither Plans X, Y or Z seemed to faze them, and, I finally had to resort to Plan W, involving the use of tear gas.

"On the evidence so far, I'd say we've accomplished our mission," I said to my wife that evening, as we relaxed on the patio, "The Plan really works."

"Maybe it gets rid of the Bad Guys," admitted my wife, a born skeptic, "but it hook the Good Guys?

The opportunity to answer this question came late the following afternoon. From my observation nost I watched as a late model car of conservative lines and color drew up next door, and an intelligent-appearing, quietly dressed middle-aged couple got out. They were fol-lowed by an elderly pair, of genteel bearing -– evidently the woman's parents. The whole group exuded an air of culture, breeding and quiet charm. Here were the kind of neighbors you dream about.

"Plan AAAAA!" I called jubilantly to my wife. "But softly."

"Gung Ho."

From our record player came the lilting strains of the Dance of the Hours, just loud enough to carry next door. I thought I saw the faces of the little group light up in recognition.

When the visitors arrived with the real estate man to inspect the rear area, their eyes were met with a charming domestic tableau. My wife, in smart but wellbred gardening attire, was engaged in pruning a yellow hibiscus the while she discoursed on the beauties of nature. Watching her with amused tenderness briar in mouth, Plato's Republic under arm - stood a tweedy, erect figure with the unmistakable lineaments of the aristocrat born. This was myself.

At the advent of the visitors we both looked up as though taken by surprise, glanced over at them with reserved friendliness, and finally ventured shy smiles. They all smiled back.

"Let's hold the right thought," I told my wife when they had left. "They're almost too good to be true,"
"You ain't just a-whistlin' Dixie,"

But the following Saturday, the nice couple again appeared, this time without the older pair. Again we wooed them with the hi fi, this time playing a Gregorian chant to show our more serious side. When they appeared at the rear. my wife and I did a repeat performance of the connubial bliss act, and again gave with the shy smiles. The other couple nodded genially. It was as though we were all old friends.

"It's been a long, hard war but we've won it," I said to my wife when they had gone, "I feel it in my bones."

"Maybe," my wife said, "your lumbago's kicking

Three days later, a Sold Sign blossomed on the house next door. Ten days after that our new neighbors moved in They turned out to be a cozy little family of four, consisting of (a) Dad, a hard-of-hearing TV addict who keeps the set on full blast 24 hours a day, tuned in exclusively to soap operas and deodorant commercials: (b) Moni, the visiting-and-borrowing-neighbor type, a compulsive talker on a single subject — the thousand ills her flesh is heir to: (c) Sonny, a future Public Enemy Number One, who yesterday poisoned our dog and today set fire to our garage, and (d) Sis, a bubble-gum chew-day-and-night drag strip. It seems our Nice Couple were distant relatives of this loutish Ozarkian crew whom they had never laid eyes on - and were merely aiding them in finding a comfortable home in a nice suburb.

But don't think old Blood 'n' Guls here is taking It lying down.

Next weekend the Open House sign goes up on our place. I'll be screening for a family along these lines: the father an ex-con, say, with a record of mayhem and a mania against over-loud TV's; the mother a cat-lover with a collection of felines ample for making the nights hideous; the son a juyenile delinquent - adept with switch knife and bicycle chain and able to give as good as he gets from Public Enemy Number One; and the daughter enamored of the leader of a motorcycle gang, capable of battling it out with the hot-mdders for drag strip privileges.

They can name their own terms.

WORKSHOP

For Indoors or Outdoors

By Steve Ellingson

Graceful leisure.

TIME was when summer furniture was just that - something to be used during the hot weather months, then covered up and stored away for the winter. Thankfully those days are gone forever. More and more homemakers are finding out that these comfortable, fun and functional pieces are very much at home in family and play rooms, dens, basements, sunrooms and even young people's bedrooms.

Not only are outdoor pieces inexpensive and versatile, but they are stronger too since they are made of rugged materials that will take lots of abuse. Just such an indoor-outdoor piece is shown here with actress Yvonne Lime. It's contoured to fit your body and a project any amateur can build in a couple of evenings when he uses the full-size pattern. You need only trace the pattern parts on wood, then saw them out and finally put them together. The cost for materials is slight. It uses a standard-size furniture pad, available everywhere. It has wheels for easy moving and the back may be raised or lowered for reading or dozing.

To obtain this full-size easy rest chaise pattern number 125, send 75c (add 25c per pattern for airmail delivery) by coin, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson Southland Living Pattern

Five-Ring Circus

Q. What do the five rings on the Olympic flags signify? My father and I are curious. J. S., Long Beach.
 A. The five rings in the five colors of blue, black, red,

A. The five rings in the five colors of blue, black, red, yellow and green on a white background represent the five original continents, says Braven Dyer, assistant director of Helms Hall, one of the fund-raising agencies for the U.S. Olympic Committee. He adds that the rings interlock, signifying the unity and friendship of peoples, and that at least one of the colors on the rings is found in the flags of countries competing in the Olympics. The flag was designed for use at the first modern Olympic Games held in Olympic Stadium in Athens, Greece, in 1896. The revival of the ancient games was promoted by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a French educator, who felt the games would build better international understanding. In 1896, nine nations sent athletes to the games. The first recorded Olympic Games occurred in 776 B.C. and consisted of one event, a foot race of about 200 yards. Later, the games included a marathon, pentathlon, boxing, wrestling, chariot racing and foot race with armor. Women were not allowed to watch or participate in the games, After the Romans conquered Greece, the games deteriorated. In 392 A.D., a Roman emperor halted the games and they were not revived until 1896. For more historical and statistical background on the games, you might want to visit the Helms Hall Library at 8760 Venice Blyd., Los Angeles. Donations for the U.S. Olympic Fund, which helps pay for transportation, room and board for the athletes, can be sent to the same address.

Red Baron's Antagonist

Q. Can TEEN ACTION LINE tell me where I can find a stuffed Snoopy dog for my collection? I've looked everywhere and can't seem to locate one. J.E., South Gate.

A. We snooped around and finally found the original stuffed Snoopy dog with a black and white coat and floppy ears at F.A.O. Schwarz, 309 N. Rodeo Drive, Reverly Hills. The cost is $10.95. Pooches with sun glasses who look like Snoopy can be purchased at the May Co., 5100 Lakewood Blvd., Lakewood, and at Ferring's Toy and Game Center, 6617 Atlantic Ave., Bell. A rubber Snoopy is also available at Hollywood Toys Inc., 6562 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood. The cost is $2.98.

TEENS IN ACTION

ATRICIA LONG, of 2782 Eucalyptus Ave., walks softly and carries a big wand. The 17-year-old graduate of St. Anthony's Girls High School in Long Beach is a magician and the only girl member of the Long Beach Mystics, a group of young magicians from ages 8 to 21.

Pat is a conjurer in her own right, and also acts as an assistant to Paul Fidler, another St. Anthony's graduate. Recently, they were awarded a trophy for originality and presentation at the Pacific Coast Association of Magicians convention in Olympia, Wash. They competed in the senior division against 30 amateur and professional adult magicians.

Pat plans to use money earned from magic shows and her job as receptionist at Pacific Hospital to pay her way through Long Beach City College, where she will study to become a medical assistant.

Her views

- I got interested in magic about four years ago when Paul asked me to be his assistant. We started out in private parties and then school talent shows and worked up to the Hollywood Bowl, Disneyland and other places. As an assistant, I carry props to Paul, since he cannot be running on and off stage, and I do a lot behind the scenes which I cannot reveal
- As I worked as an assistant, I got more and more interested in magic. Paul has helped me work up my own act. I perform at parties and do a lot of audience participation routines with card tricks and a guillotine.
- Working up an act is hard because you have to do a series of tricks smoothly and get your timing right with the music, besides figuring out what to say
- I don't think a magician should do a trick until he has practiced and practiced it. If he doesn't, he is in danger of giving the entire trick away. Family and friends make the best audience for a beginner.
- Most of the magician tricks are fairly standard, but each magician tries to develop a specialty,

— Not many women become magicians. I guess they are afraid of not going over with the audience. I know when I first started, I was afraid, too, But working before an audience has helped me gain selfconfidence. It's helped me meet more people and even to speak up more in class.

— Certainly, magic is an expensive hobby. It costs a lot for costumes and props. But then it brings happiness to people. Adults enjoy magic as much as children, and entertainment helps people to relax and forget about the daily worries.

— Doing magic makes me feel good, too. During Christmas time, the Mystics often perform for patients in hospitals. You walk in and feel "what a place for these poor people to be on Christmas." But pretty soon you are able to get the people laughing and interested.

— I really like magic more than a lot of things. Because, with magic, you are not concerned about yourself. You are concerned about your audience and ultimately with other people.

Two Navy men at Long Beach Armed Services YMCA carry out "phone patch" operation.

Project Morale

Wounded Marine talks to family in America from hospital ship USS Repose in South China Sea.

THAT IMPORTANT aspect of military life known as morale gets a big boost these days from a simple operation called phone patching. It provides servicemen in all parts of the world direct communication with loved ones.

Soldiers on the battlefield or Navy men aboard ship can talk to any part of the United States via amateur radio and telephone. This is how it works:

The radio operator at a military station overseas contacts a radio amateur in the United States who has phone patch equipment. The military station operator tells the radio amateur he wants a phone patch circuit to, say, Chicago and that a serviceman is ready to talk to his family. The radio amateur then places the call with the long distance telephone operator.

When the party in Chicago accepts the collect call, the phone line is plugged into the short wave receiver of the radio amateur, and this becomes the relay station for the overseas circuit. The radio amateur station may be in Southern California or any other part of the United States. The toll charges are from the relay station to the party accepting the collect call.

The first voice heard after the long distance operator completes the circuit is the radio amateur, who may be a housewife in Los Angeles, a prominent doctor in San Francisco, a famous lawyer in St. Louis or a neighbor in the next block. If the station is in Scottsdale, Ariz., it may be the voice of Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater's amateur station is unusually busy—it has completed about 4,500 phone patch calls into every state of the Union. Sixteen operators work at his station to handle the traffic from Vietnam, Thailand and hospital ships in the South China Sea. These operators work in shifts and there's at least one on duty around the clock.

Phone patching is especially important to the sick and wounded aboard the hospital ships USS Repose and the USS Sanctuary. Each ship has a capacity of 750 beds and the radio "shack" on each one is very busy when phone patch operations begin. Ambulatory patients come to the shack for their patch but those confined to beds are patched through the dial telephone system aboard the ships.

More than 7,000 calls have been completed in the past 12 months from the ships. On weekdays the number of patches average about 25 and on Saturdays and Sundays about 40. There might be 200 calls on such holidays as Mother's Day and Father's Day.

The phone patch calls

The phone patch calls from the hospital ships are handled by a special group of radio amateurs with stations located from San Diego to Seattle. They meet regular schedules with the ships and are dedicated to the work they are doing. In some communities where they live, civic organizations have raised funds to pay for the long distance calls if the families receiving the calls are hard-pressed financially.

Phone patch calls are sometimes happy ones and sometimes sad ones. On the happy side, a new father receives the news of his first-born or a marriage proposal is made and accepted. Recently a long distance record of phone patching was set by a patient aboard one of the hospital ships. He proposed marriage half way round the world to Rome, Italy, while the ship was cruising in the South China Sea.

There's drama when a mother talks to her son and learns he has been wounded. He remarks, "It is nothing to worry about, Mom. I will be out of the hospital soon." The son had both legs shot off.

Thousands of phone patch calls are handled by other groups who have daily schedules with the Navy ships of the Pacific Fleet, the military radio stations in Vietnam and Thailand, One group specializes in phone patch operations with the isolated Navy personnel stationed in the Antarctica. At certain times of the year, no planes or letters arrive, so the men depend on phone patching for communications with their families.

The military services have MARS (Military Affiliate Radio System) stations located in Vietnam and the United States that operate phone patching for the servicemen. A number of the MARS stations in Vietnam are close to the battlefield, and frequently phone patches are run from the firing line to the MARS station and then transmitted to the United States. Most of the phone patches from the overseas MARS stations are received in Southern California by the Army at Ft. McArthur in San Pedro, the Air Force at Norton Air Force Base in San Bernardino and the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station near Santa Ana for the Marines and the Navy.

In Long Beach at the Long Beach Naval Station, the special services department has an amateur radio station which has handled thousands of phone paiches for the Pacific Fleet. The station is manned by Navy personnel who are licensed radio amateurs and operate the station during their leisure hours. Many of the men who operate this station are off the ships in port and do this work for the Navy men at sea because they may someday need the same service. Several hundred men of all ranks have operated this station since it was opened in 1963.

Servicemen often spend leisure hours at the Armed Services YMCA in Long Beach, and for their convenience an amateur radio station has been in operation for several years. Phone patch operations are available and used frequently. Radio amateurs of Long Beach volunteer to operate this station as a public service to the community.

The long distance operators of the telephone companies rate a commendation for their participation in the phone patch operations. These girls work hard to get all calls completed, even though it sometimes is difficult to locate people in distant places.

Usually the long distance operator receives 15 to 20 calls at a time from the radio amateur phone patch station, and with very little delay has the circuits ready for the parties to talk. This may take an hour or more but the operator assists with the calls until all are completed. The girls know these calls are a morale booster for the servicemen, and do their share of help in this dedicated work.

Silver Blue Siamese

By Eleanor Avery Price

Female Korat, Mei Ling of Si Sawat, is owned by Mrs. Richard Negus, foremost authority on the silver-blue cat of Thailand.

THEN we think of a Siamese cat, we think of a light fawn or creamcolored cat with "points" or color patterns of the mask, ears, legs and feet. We also think of deep blue eyes. But mention a Siamese cat to a native of Thailand, and into his mind pops an entirely different cat, the Korat or Si Sawat, a silver blue feline with huge, expressive green eyes. It is said this breed is the original Siamese cat,

Then why the name Si Sawat or Korat? The Korat name is simple. The cat originated in Ampur district Piaml of Korat Province, Thailand. The Si Sawat description you may need to read several times before you understand it.

According to Mrs. Richard Negus, secretary of the on grass with silver tip Korat Fanciers Assn., there is an old volume in the National Library of Bangkok entitled Smud Koi, and in it the original Siamese cat is described thusly: "The cat 'maled' has a body color like 'Dakloa'. The hairs are smooth with roots like clouds and tips like silver. The eyes shine like dew-drops on a lotus leaf."

'Maled' means seed. In Thailand there is a fruit called the Look Sawat. Its seeds are silver blue like the coat of the Korat cat, therefore 'maled' is a name chosen for these cats because it describes them, much as we might name a black cat 'Inky'. 'Dakloa' is also a popular name, Dak means flower and Lao is a kind of wild herb-like lemflowers. Si means color, hence the name, Si Sawat,

The Korat, or Si Sawat, is a medium-sized cat with strong muscular body. Asian eyes start out as kitten blue but change to clear amber or yellow, then to yellowgreen or green at maturity, the greener the better. Its coat of silver blue is worn from birth to death and is so admired by Thal people that they feel it brings good fortune. In fact, the cat is called the "good luck" cat of Thailand.

The breed is alert, playful, gentle, responsive. His head is heart-shaped, supposedly because he can love so much.

Not all silver cats with green eves are Korats The ancestry of every Korat goes back to Thailand, and the Korat Cat Fanciers Association keeps careful tab on all Korats born, sold, or imported, to discourage false claims.

MARK your calendar for Sept. 28-29, when Santa Monica Cat Club will hold its big show at the Civic Auditorium, Korats will be on exhibit. Entries for all breeds of cats are now being taken.

What Your Name Means

Send your name to La Reina Rule, Post Office Box 64151, Los Angeles, Calif. 90064, for origin, meaning and brief genealogy, for reply only in this

MISS RULE: Please give data on UNRUH, -B.U., Long Beach.

UNRUH, German, had two medieval origins now merged in the present surname. The primary one, "unruhe," indicated that the forefather was considered a "restless one." The other root-source, "unruoch," meant "reckless." The principal Prussian-German Unruh shield is blue, emblazoned with a goldcrowned, golden rampant

MISS RULE: Kindly explain Cox. — C.C., Wilmington; H.C., Fountain Valley; J.C., Garden Grove.

COX, English, began as the Norman-French surname Le Coq, meaning "the rooster." Usage of Le Coq came through a nickname portraying the forefather as having the "pride of a rooster." Cox also was a short form of the English "cookson," for the progeny of a chief cook in a medieval castle. After introduction in England during the 11th century, Le Coq became Cox. Cookson was reduced to Coxon, then Cox. The Cox shield is covered with horizontal alternating blue and gold stripes. William Cox was one of the first settlers and a colonial commissioner of Maryland, MISS RULE: Would you inform us on VREELAND? S.V., Lakewood; V.W., E.V., Paramount.

VREELAND, Dutch, was originally Vree-Land, and is an excellent word-picture 'peaceful land." The armorial shield granted the Van Vreeland lineage of Amsterdam is blue, crossed by a silver stripe placed between three gold stars.

MISS RULE: What is the background on DRISCOLL? E.N., Bellflower; S.D., Long Beach.

DRISCOLL, Gaelic Irish, began as O'Eidersceol, indicating the ancestral occupation of an "interpreter of languages." Progeny of the educated ancestor changed the Gaelic name to many modern variations such as O'Driscoll, Driskell. This clan owned a large part of Cork during the Middle Ages, and owned several large castles. The Driscoll armorial shield is silver, centered with a medieval sailing ship.

MISS RULE: Please inform on VON DER MEH-DEN. — E.R., Long Beach.

VON DER MEHDEN, north German, means "from the middle-land," an old terminology for manorial property once owned by the family founder. Von der Mehden descendants achieved a coat-of-arms at Bremen, a golden fan lying handle downward on a blue shield.

MISS RULE: Would like the origin of JUDD. - L.J., Garden Grove.

JUDD of England was adopted in honor of Saint Jude, one of the 12 apostles. Jude deciphers as "Man who is praised." Judde and Judd were early English forms of Jude. One Jude ancestor was Lord Mayor of London in 1550. The Judd amorial shield is red, decorated with three silver boar heads

MISS RULE: Kindly analyze ENGELKE, - R.E., Long Beach.

ENGELKE, German, was initiated in past centuries as the warrior name Angilo ke, meaning "descendants of the young hero." The Engelke armorial shield granted in Prussia is gold, with a separate gold border. The center has a black raven on a gold stripe above three interlocking gold rings on a blue stripe.

THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR

Q. Does the Duchess of Windsor hire her own makeup man every time she goes out?—Carla Turner, Staten-Island, N.X.

A. In New York she uses Lawrence Steinhart, chief makeup man at Revlon. In other cities she employs other makeup experts for special dinners and occasions.

Q. How many Negro-run banks in the United States?
-Van Berryman, Wilson, N.C.

A. Of approximately 14,500 banks in the U.S., 18 are run by Negroes. Three of these are the Riverside National Bank of Houston, Industrial Bank of Washington, D.C., the Tri-State Bank of Memphis.

Q. President Johnson has ordered his departments to write a history of their activities during his Administration to be placed in the Johnson Library at the University of Texas. No department will criticize itself adversely, so the project is a waste of money. What I would like to know is your opinion of how professional historians will judge the Johnson Administration.—Elaine Carpenter, Seattle, Wash.

A. They will undoubtedly credit Johnson with proposing and obtaining passage of monumental legislation in the fields of Medicare, education, housing, poverty, and civil rights. They will fault him for a major error in following the mistaken judgments of such Kennedy advisers as Dean Rusk, the Bundy brothers, the Rostow brothers, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Robert McNamara, and others in the conduct of the war in Vietnam. After his election in 1964, had Johnson brought in his own team of advisers instead of listening to men who had incorrectly advised his predecessor and persisted in their advice (except for McNamara), he might have avoided the U.S. involvement in Victnam and emerged as one of the nation's greatest Presidents. The tragedy of Lyndon Johnson is the tragedy of Victnam.

Q. Edgar Bronfman, schose family made a fortune in the bootlegging days—isn't he Humphrey's big bankroller?—D. L., New York, N.Y.

A. Bronfman, whose family controls Seagrams, is one of Humphrey's major backers.

Q. Who said: "Jaw-jaw is better than war-war?" — Frank Fiore, Atlantic City, N.J. A. The late Winston Churchill.

Q. I understand that ever since he divorced Nancy Sinatra, Tommy Sands has been working as a waiter in Honolulu. Is this true?—Lee Nisky, Exeter, Pa. A. No. Young Sands attends the University of Hawaii in the daytime, sings at the Outrigger Hotel at night.

Q. Can you tell me who is the inventor of the controversial M-16 rifle?—David Hubbard, Cambridge,

A. In 1957 Eugene Stoner designed the M-16. Later he joined the Fairchild Engine and Aircraft Corp., gave the production and marketing rights to that company, which in turn transferred them to Colt.

Q. Is it true that President Johnson offered Dean Rusk a seat on the U.S. Supreme Court before he offered it to Homer Thornberry?—Kenneth Yergen, El Paso, Tex.

A. True, but Rusk declined on the grounds that he was unqualified for the position.

Q. Shakespeare's Dark Lady of the Sonnets—has she ever been conclusively identified?—Victor Johnson, Denver, Colo.

A. No. George Bernard Shaw, other writers and scholars have identified her as Mary Fitton, one of Queen Elizabeth's maids of honor who was seduced by William Herbert, 3rd Earl of Pembroke, Lord Chamberlain, and patron of the arts. Herbert was imprisoned by Queen Elizabeth for having seduced Mary Fitton. One of the best references on the subject is The Women in Shakespeare's Life by Ivor Brown.

Q. Mrs. Happy Murphy Rockefeller — now married to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller — why was she denied the custody of her four children when she and Dr. Murphy were divorced? — Mrs. Joan Martin, Baltimore, Md.

A. The former Dr. and Mrs. Murphy began negotiations for child custody in the spring of 1961—fully two years before the Murphy divorce and six months before the Rockefeller separation. At the time of her divorce Mrs. Happy Rockefeller accepted the loss of her children as the price of her divorce from Dr. Murphy. In 1964, after Barry Goldwater won the Republican presidential nomination and after Dr. Murphy married a schoolteacher of one of the children, Mrs. Rockefeller brought suit to reverse the original custody agreement, and lost.

Q. What's happened to Pierre Mendes-France who was French Prime Minister from 1954-55? I thought he would succeed de Gaulle. — Robert Underwood, Cheyenne, Wyo.

A. Mendès-France lost a recent election at Grenoble by 132 votes, decided to abandon politics in favor of lecturing and writing. "At 61," he says, "I can't start remaking my political life. I have had it."

Q. Quite a lot is being said about oil depletion allowances. Please give some information on proportions of these allowances as compared to amounts of income taxes paid by oil companies and other large companies.—Mrs. M. R. Gearhart, West Palm Beach, Fla.

A. The oil depletion allowance permits oil companies to deduct 27.5 percent of their income before figuring income tax. According to Robert Engler, in The Politics of Oil, "27.5 percent was a compromise figure arrived at in a Congressional conference committee in 1926 and maintained ever since through carefully cultivated political support rather than clear-cut social justification." One of the arch-enemies of the oil depletion allowance, former Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, asserted that between 1945-55 oil companies paid federal corporative income tax at a rate of only 17 percent after deductions—as compared with the standard 52 percent corporative rate. Douglas also estimated that the allowance caused a loss to the Treasury Department of approximately $1 billion annually.

THE 12-CENT SCHOOL

BY HERBERT KUPFERBERG

Pupils pay a 12-cent fee to teachers Richard Lahey and Sheila Horgan.

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. choolteaching is an exhausting, demanding, time-consuming job, and it doesn't pay very well. Ask Richard Alleyn Lahev of Sacramento, Calif. Although he's only 10 years old, he knows. Richard Alleyn is probably the nation's youngest schoolteacher. He began training for the job at age 5, started running his own school at age 9, and now is going full blast, with a "registration" of 17 young children, a "faculty" of one assistant (another 10year-old named Sheila Horgan) and a "tuition" of 12 cents a day which each pupil pays up every morning.

Richard's pupils are neighborhood boys and girls whose parents wanted them to put the summer to good use. They flock to Richard's backyard to learn reading, arithmetic and spelling, or to work on cutouts and coloring books. Sessions are held from 10 to 12 a.m. in a playhouse built by Richard's father, Graham Lahey, a high school counselor.

The school was started five years ago by Mrs. Lahey as a means of keeping her own five children and some of their friends husy. Richard, the oldest of her brood, took to it immediately and last year his mother gave him complete charge.

Running the school has been even more of an education for Richard than for his pupils. He's learned, for one thing, a little about profit and loss. Last year, daily tuition was only 5 cents a pupil. Richard found he was spending more than that buying educational supplies, not to mention candy, lemonade and small prizes of various sorts, all of them dispensed during school hours. So this year he regretfully raised his fee to 12 cents per day. He pays his assistant Sheila $1.25 a week, and his 7-year-old brother Tommy gets a flat sum of $3.80 in "rent" for giving up his right to use the playhouse during school hours.

Come back for more

. Do the young pupils get anything of value out of Richard's school? He thinks they do. "The school was pretty popular last summer," says the self-possessed young educator. "I think I did a good job with the students, and the parents were really pleased. Oh, some of the kids were bad and didn't behave. One used to stick his tongue out at me all the time. But mostly everything runs fine. I teach the younger ones to count and learn their ABC's. My idea is to give them stuff one grade ahead. If a kid's in the second grade, I give him third-grade stuff, and so on. With the younger kids the idea is to get them to play together and learn how to get along. Most of the children who were here the first year came back the second."

Richard himself is going into the sixth grade at St. Roberts parochial school in Sacramento. "I've always been an A student," he admits reluctantly. A well-built, handsome lad, he isn't terribly interested in sports, but has always been a voracious reader. "It's my favorite subject," he says. "I just like to read — all kinds of books, about space, geography, Dr. Dolittle, any book I can get my hands on." He also does a lot of writing—plays and movies, mostly. "Some people like peace and quiet, and some people like to play basketball," he says philosophically. "I like to teach little kids."

And what does he want to be when he grows up? You guessed it. An astronaut.

JACQUES LESLIE DAVE JAMPEL JAMES KUGEL DEREK NORCROSS

INTELLECTUAL GAP one of the root causes of divorce in Western civilization is intellectual disparity between wife and husband.

While the husband goes to work and broadens his intellectual ken, the wife remains at home concentrating on housework and the rearing of children.

In an effort to increase the intellectuality of wives and thereby save their marriages, West Germany has introduced an organization called "Recuperation Homes for Mothers."

Rosemarie Pfluger, superintendent of one of the homes near Nuremberg, explains, "About 60% of the mothers we see are suffering from severe mental strain. In many cases their tension and nervous strain are the result of the intellectual gap. They are completely isolated in their marriages because they have no common basis for discussion with their husbands. These men are not interested in wifely chatter about shopping and the neighbors and the curtains which need cleaning. They prefer more serious subjects of which the wives know nothing."

Dr. Guido Groeger, head of the Protestant Marriage Guidance Bureau in Dusseldorf, says: "This problem is apparent with men who are successful. When the marriage partners come from limited cultural backgrounds, and the husband suddenly makes a successful

wife in many cases is unable to keep up with him.
The old romantic ideal of the little wife taking charge of the cozy home and doing little else is now taking its divorce toll in this country."

At the Recuperation Homes for Mothers, the improvement program consists of teaching women how to read newspapers, how to discuss current events, what books constitute good literature, how to keep abreast of their husbands, how to change the direction of their marriages.

Last year the organization spent $10 million in trying to help approximately 90,000 wives, many of whom confessed that their nervousness began when their husbands severed communication by declaring, "There is no point talking to you, because you do not understand a word of what I am saying."

NEW HONDA Not yet introcountry but going great guns in Europe is the new Honda N360 compact auto. It sells for under $1500, holds four, and does an overall average of 64 miles to the gallon on regular gas. Its top speed is 72 mph. In Europe where a gallon of gas sells anywhere from 50 cents to $1, the Honda's economy is its major virtue. U.S. dealers who sell Honda motorcycles expect to receive Honda car franchises in the near future.

FIVE IN ROW IS LIMIT ON CONTINENTAL AIRLINES PLANE.

OBSOLETE AT BIRTH Most airports are obsolete by the time they are finished.

The result is that airline travel nowadays has deteriorated in many cases from a pleasurable experience to a sorry one. Airports are too crowded, too far from cities, too inconvenient. Passenger handling is frequently incompetent and discourteous. Parking facilities are grossly inadequate.

Tour operators who fly almost constantly are convinced that the John F. Kennedy Airport, which handles New York air traffic, is the worst in the world. National Airport in Washington, D.C. is another airport violently condemned for its overcrowding. And a third is Los Angeles Airport, which lacks adequate parking facilities and is too far removed from the various satellite communities which have sprung up around Los Angeles.

Travel agents who regard JFK as the worst of all airports also denounce the following international airports: San Juan in Puerto Rico, Lisbon in Portugal, Shannon in Ireland, Mexico City, Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires, London, Madrid, Rome.

The fault with many airports is that they are ill conceived, with terminals spread so far apart that passengers encounter great difficulty in making connections between airlines. Also, not enough attention has been paid to the construction and route of highways leading to and from airports. On weekends these are so jammed that passengers have to give themselves at least two or three hours leeway before their planes depart.

As for actual in-plane transportation, the major complaint concerns seat configurations in the tourist and economy sections. Passengers are sandwiched cattle-like into threeseaters with little knee room. Continental Airlines is trying to remedy the situation on their aircraft by having no more than five seats in any one horizontal row in their coach and economy sections, a plus of 20% room for the passenger.

THE RECOVERY OF LAST OF THE FOUR H-BOMBS DROPPED IN U.S. CRASH OFF SPAIN.

The U.S. pays a

IDEN 5 involving nuclear-armed planes. The crash of an H-bomber in Greenland last January led to the cancellation of rocket tests scheduled to be held there. Even though the tests were non-military in nature -- to test the effects of sunspots -- the Danish government was sufficiently alarmed by the nuclear accident to exert its sovereign prerogatives over Greenland.

Residents of Palomares. Spain, where four H-bombs were accidentally dropped after a plane crash in 1966, have already received over $600,000 in claims from the U.S. government. Latest in a series of moves designed to placate the local population is a State Department plan to build a water-desalting plant in Palomares. The plant, which will be paid for by the Defense Department, will lower the cost of water in the coastal village by 80%. Estimated cost: $150,000.

CENSUS SECRECY On April 1, 1970, the nation's next decennial census will be carried out largely by mail. In its efforts to insure accuracy, privacy, and efficiency in the census, the Department of Commerce plans to feed all correctly filled-out forms directly into a computer. Once names and addresses are detached, even a computer expert will be unable to track down any one person.

By guaranteeing such privacy, the Census Bureau hopes to promote honesty in reporting vital statistics. You may have gotten a job, a loan, a divorce on the basis of false information, but the census will not tell on you. You will simply appear in census publications as one of millions in any category of age, income, occupations. education, etc.

As an example of discretion, the Department of Commerce's index of occupations includes that of robber, Any individual who so identified himself in 1960 is now grouped with 308,497 other "professional, technical, and kindred workers not elsewhere classified."

If on the other hand, you need to prove your age, say for Social Security, the Census Bureau has a special office in Pittsburg, Kans., which handles old census records -- with names and addresses. For a fee of $4 you can obtain a transcript of your carliest census entry, which is legally acceptable in lieu of a birth certificate.

West Berlin seems to have weathered its latest crisis over travel curbs, but continuous Communist pressure is taking its toll of the beleaguered city. In spite of heavy West German subsidies and repeated Allied guarantees to the city. industrial firms and workers are gradually leaving for more secure ground in the West. During a recession last vear 25,000 workers and several important companies left West Berlin. The divided city's 2.2 million population already has a greater population of elderly than any comparable industrial center in the world, with 21.8% age 65 and over. Should present trends continue, total population will drop 300,000 by 1980. According to West German economist Gerhard Kade, West Berlin is in danger of becoming a huge old-age home where "the only industries with a future will be funeral parlors and undertakers."

BOY SCOUT MEETS GIRL SCOUT-THAT'S THE IDEA FOR A NEW CO-ED PROGRAM.

CO-ED SCOUTING The Boy Scouts of America after 58 years of existence are playing around with a provocative idea. Why not let boys and girls scout together? In Milwaukee recently Boy Scout leaders revealed that they have been having discussions with Girl Scout and Campfire Girl leaders about possible experiments in co-ed scouting in the Explorers' program of scouting, previously limited to boys 14 to 18.

The Boy Scouts' national executive board will announce in October its final decision on including girls in the Explorers' program.

BY LARRY G. NEWMAN

Neighbor and friend, Larry G. Newman has occupied a house in Hyannis Port across the street from the Kennedys for the last ten years.

hortly before his tragic death, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, his wife, Ethel, and several of their children were attending mass at St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis

Three-year-old Matthew Maxwell, spotting some cousins in a front pew, broke away and walked over to join them. Fifteen-year-old Joe, the eldest son, waited a few seconds, then went to the front pew, picked up his brother, placed him on his shoulders, and went back to his regular place beside his parents There was no noise, crying or kicking, only the stir and whisperings of the tourists, who found the episode so moving.

Later on, watching the Robert Kennedy funeral rites on television, millions of people all over the nation were able to witness the manly deportment of the oldest Kennedy son. They looked on as young Joseph, a typical Kennedy in appearance, stood self-possessed by his father's coffin and helped his mother guide the younger children through this greatest tragedy of their lives. And later, on the funeral train to Washington, it was young Joe who went down the aisle of every car to quietly thank each of the mourners on board.

Each of these events illustrates in microcosm a way of life—responsibility of the oldest son—that is a tradition of the Kennedy family. It was summed up poignantly in the words John F. Kennedy wrote in 1944 after his brother Joe was killed on a bombing mission:

"Joe did many things well, as his record illustrates, but I have always felt that Joe achieved his greatest success as the oldest brother.

"Very early in life he acquired a sense of responsibility towards his brothers and sisters, and I do not think that he ever forgot it.

"He would spend long hours throwing a football with Bobby, swimming with Teddy, and teaching the younger girls to sail.

"I think that if the Kennedy children amount to anything now or ever amount to anything, it will be due more to Joe's behavior and his constant example than to any other factor. He made the task of bringing up a large family immeasurably easier for my father and mother, for what they taught him, he passed on to us."

Twenty-four years later in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York it seemed only natural to those who had known the Kennedy family that Edward Moore Kennedy would culogize his last brother, Robert Francis, with similar eloquence.

Love of brother for brother, sister for sister, respect for father and for mother, faith in God and their religion, the call to hurry home in times of happiness—and in sorrow—are the basics of the Kennedy life, handed down from parents to oldest son, to the next, and the next as fate determines.

For Edward (Teddy) Kennedy then to speak over his brother's body, and for 15-year-old Joe to grow to adulthood overnight, came as surely as daily mass, games, family talks and the life of politics and service.

If home and family have been the symbolic craft of the family, the church most certainly has been the anchor in triumph and tragedy for the Kennedys.

Many of the shining memories of correspondents and neighbors who have reported and observed the careers of the Kennedys have been gathered in the clapboard church at Hyannis.

One early Sunday morning a few years back, President Kennedy sat in his usual side-chapel pew surrounded by newspapermen and Secret Service agents. His brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, filled in for a truant altar boy and held the gold paten as his brother, his wife, Ethel, and the numerous Kennedy, Shriver and Lawford children received Holy Communion.

The sight of the Kennedy boys attending daily mass and serving the priest on the altar, a thrill to the tourists, has long been commonplace to Cape Cod Catholics.

The mother, Rose Kennedy, with her large brood at hand, attended morning mass for the 40 summers the family has lived on Cape Cod and at Hyannis Port. The 7 a.m. mass was the start of every family day.

It has been the same over the past 18 years or more since Ethel Skakel Kennedy became a link in the Kennedy chain.

Each morning now, with four or five of the children and more cousins packed into her car, the widowed Ethel Kennedy prays at the 8 o'clock mass. She leads the group in going to the communion fail. It is a tableau of such faith and bravery that even the curious who come each day

After the mass, the family goes back to Hyannis Port and troops together into the post office for the hundreds of letters which still flood in, and then into the news store for the newspapers that will provide the day's table conversation.

Those conversations are a part of the Kennedy character or mystique. As the children reach school age they almost naturally acquire inquisitive minds and, in common with the elders, take up the search for facts necessary for a sound judgment. This becomes a life style gentled into them by parents and grandparents, uncles and aunts who really care and take the time to show it.

A time for play

The time of play—noisy, intense—is a daily family affair with a few friends included. Horseback riding, sailing, swimming, football, baseball, tennis, are the tests for the challenges that will come later in life. The pattern today has not changed since the days of Joe, Jack and Bobby. Now it is Teddy and young Joe who set the example.

One of the most poignant remarks made in the trying days after Sen. Robert Kennedy's death came from his mother. She told a Washington friend, "Now Teddy has so many to watch over."

He immediately assumed the father's burden of counseling all the children left behind. One long dawn-to-dusk day he flew with Joe to a New England school where he was to meet a friend. A few weeks later he flew again with him to Spain for a vacation far from the sad memories of Hyannis Port and the home in Medican. Ve

After the first trip when he arrived at a Cape Cod airport in the early hours of the morning, tired and drawn, he told reporters, "I just wanted to be with Joe-I didn't want him to go alone."

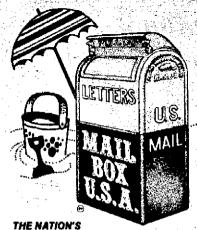

With three older brothers gone, many have asked the question about Sen. Edward Kennedy, "What will he do now?"

A close friend who has been with him most of the time since the assassination of his brother Robert answered the question, "He will do what he thinks is right for his country and for the family."

The friend noted that already Sen. Robert Kennedy's oldest children are stepping into the roles they look to in later life.

This summer, Kathleen, 17 on July 22, taught Indian children on a New Mexico reservation, Bobby, 14, worked on an animal preserve in Africa, Joe was in Spain learning by living with Spanish boys his own age.

President Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, their older brother, Joe, had learned the lesson and had handed it down. It was simply: "To those who have received much, much is expected."

sticking to permitted foods, you put a

"brake" on your appetite so that-without bothering to count calories-you rat far less for a midnight snack, go ahead. You don't have to put up with hunger pangs. Not do you have to icel guilty if you cat "a little bit extra," With permitted foods, you may ent as much as you want (but don't stuff

MOT JUST ONE DIET ... BUT 601

But should you suddenly feel the urge

45 YEARS OF MEDICAL PRACTICE.. AND 10,000 OVERWEIGHT PATIENTS PROVE YOU CAN

t That Weight O

You can lose 5, 10, 15 or more pounds the first week! Dr. Irwin Stillman's

Quick Weight Loss Diet debunks the myth that the only way to lose weight is to lose it gradually. He proves with facts not theory that rapid weight loss is the most effective reducing method.

IN JUST ONE WEEK you can see the weight on the scale drop rapidty, and the fat melt away. Dr. Stillman's records show that ... patients averaged a loss of 6 to 7 pounds in the first 3 days on the Quick Weight Loss Diet.

IN JUST ONE WEEK you can get rid of the pounds suddenly gained from too much "good living." Sudden slimming is yours with the Quick Weight Loss Diet. IN JUST ONE WEEK you will be delighted and impressed by your decided drop in weight. If you have failed with other diets, the big loss of weight the biss week from the Quick Weight Loss Diet will give you the confidence you need to continue.

DR. DRWIN STILLMAN developed the QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET in the course of his Diet, 6-Meal-a-Day Nibbler Diet, Bread-45 wars of medical practice. The diet has Cheese-Wine Dies, High Fat/High Protein been tested and proved by over 10,000 pa-Diet, etc. And every one is a quick-reducing tients. It works! diet that slims you down to a harry. His first rule is: GET THAT WEIGHT

If you're the type who must have variety, you can switch from one Diversion Diet to another...lose weight...and never eat a boring meal!

MELDS PEOPLE WHO COULDN'T REDUCE BEFORE

Hundreds of Dr. Stillman's patients were "veteran dieters"-people who have tried to lose many times before, and failed. Here are a few rase histories: MRS. E.G. - Five years ago she weighed 194 and was only 5'1". She had tried to reduce 14 times before without success. losing a few pounds at first, then gaining them back, With the Omck WEIGHT Loss Dier, she lost over 10 pounds the first week, was so encouraged she continued eagerly. In a year she got to her desired weight of 105 and has maintained it ever since. MRS E. E. At 5'2" she weighed 155 instead of her ideal of under 110. She vowed to reduce after overhearing peoule call her "butterball." In just two months she was down in an attractive 115. Letting up too quickly, she gained nine pounds in a month, went back to the diet, dropped back to 115 in two weeks, then to 110.3f her weight goes up again, she knows that a few days on the Ouick Weight Loss Diet will bring ít down again.

MR. D. E .- He was 5'11", weighed 245 pounds and said be felt like an old man. He was only 32. His blood pressure was a dangerous 210/135. In 14 weeks he went down to 183 and his blood presaure dropped to a safer 150/100. He says he feels like a "new man." After holding this interim weight for a while he will lose about 20 pounds more, then stabilize at his ideal weight of 155.

HAILED BY REYNEWERS

For example, the medical reviewer for King Features Syndicate, himself a physician, writes:

"This is a no-numerise approach to losing weight: it cannot help but work if you follow the [author's] directions . this book is probably the hest medicine as well as the best friend a fat person could ever have ... It also offers encouragement along with exercises. These two factors are as important as diet; the three together, written in such a pleasant style, set this particular book upart from being just another diet plan."

"This diet saved my life"

The author, Dr. 8828 Irwin Maxwell Stillman, was a "fatty" once him-self when he suffered a severe heart attack, Realizing that his life depended on losing 50 pounds fast. he used the Quick Weight Loss Diet to do it. His reducing method saved his own life and has kept him slim and vigorous ever since. Dr. Stillman is a Diplumate in Internal Medicine, has been Clinical Instructor in Medicine at Love ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL, and is a Fellow in both the American Geriatric College and the American College of Angiology.

NOW! Run Your Car Without Spark Plugs

THE IMPORTANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ORDINARY SPARK PLUGS AND JET-FIRE FUEL IGNITERS

Your car's power comes from tiny explosions of gesoline vapor and air in your cylinders. The bigger the explosions, the faster you go.

CONVENTIONAL PLUGS explode this mixture with a spark jumping across an air gap. The spark is just 35-thousandthe of an inch across - not wide enough to explode all the fuel in the cylinder. Unburned gas escapes through your exhaust. In time, the electrodes become eroded and caked with carbon. The gap widens, the spark gets narrower, you lose more power, waste more fuel , , , and finally have to replace your plugs.

JET-FIRE FUEL IGNITERS use on sparks, instead a fanning swath of flame walks across a semi-conductor bridge from one electrode to another, exploding far more fuel, getting far more power. There is no gap that can widen, and carbon deposits actually improve performance. They do not have to be adjusted or replaced - ever!

> BOAT OWNERS! Fuel Igniters are better for your boat engine, too

5 more miles per gallon using only regular gas!

THEY NEVER WEAR OUT

- · get up to 5 more miles per gallon of gas
- add up to 30 more horsepower to your engine
- · save $100 each year for you. year after year while you use the cheapest grades of gasoline!

YOU'LL NEVER CLEAN, ADJUST OR REPLACE PLUGS AGAIN!

Pat. No. 2899585

Save $100 a Year With Jet-Fuel Igniters!

If you drive 15,000 miles, you can easily save:

- $50 by switching to regular gas. . $40 on your better mileage.
- . $10 by not replacing plugs.

You are protected by this

4-WAY GUARANTEE

- 1. GUARANTEED for the life of your car (or 30,000 miles) without cleaning, servicing or replacing.
- 2. GUARANTEED to increase miles/per/galion of gas on regular gas!
- 3. GUARANTEED to increase horsepower, increase engine RPMs!
- 4. GUARANTEED to Improve ease of starting and acceleration!

Spark plugs are obsolete! Now there's a far better way to run your car.

With conventional spark plugs, only a fraction of the fuel that enters your cylinders is turned into power. The rest escapes through your tailpine as unburned vapor. That is because their spark is so narrow-only 35-thousandths of an inch wide-that it cannot possibly ignite all the fuel mixture in the cylinder. As plays get older, their sparks get parrower and less efficient till they have to be replaced.

New Jet-Fuel Igniters do a far better job of turning easoline into power, Instead of a narrow spark, they send out a wide swath of flame that 'walks' across a semi-conductor tip, fanning out in all directions and exploding far more fuel in

Proof That You Get Up To 30 Horsepower More

Jet-Fire Fuel leniters look like spark plugs merely because they have to be screwed into the spark plug socket. But what they do is far different. Here's how to prove it:

- I, Run your car till it's fully warmed up. 2. Stop on a perfectly level stretch of road.
- 3. Put the car in Drive (1st gear with manual transmission), and see how fust the car rolls at idling speed.
- 4. Remove plugs and install Jet-Fuel Igniters (a 10-minute job).
- 5. Now see how fast your car rolls at idling speed. You can expect it to go 4 TO 6 MILES PER HOUR FASTER without touching the gas pedal - dramatic proof that Jet-Fire Fuel Ignitors increase engine RPMs by 100 to 150 with no increase in gas consumption. (At high speeds, RPMs increase by 300 to 350.)

So, first thing, you can reduce the gas flow by adjusting the idline screw, and start saving money before you've even driven a mile!

(At the same time, you can make your air-togas mixture leaner. Fuel Igniters require only a 15:1 ratio instead of the conventional 9:1, It's a simple adjustment that you or your mechanic can make in one minute. It provides even greater economy.)

Start driving and you'll notice even more improvement-up to 30 more horsepower of acceleration power, climbing power, and passing power. All this while burning less gas!

SWITCH TO REGULAR

The next time your gas gauge gets near the "Empty" mark, tell the attendant to fill it up with REGULAR! Chances are you'll no longer need premium which costs four to eight cents more than regular gas.

And this second saving is only the beginning. Jet-Fire Fuel Igniters provide easier cold-weather starts . . . and that means less drain on your hattery, and no drain on your patience as you try to get started.

NO REPLACING OR ADJUSTING EVER

The more you drive, the better your Fuel Igniters perform. They don't become eroded, wear out or require adjusting. And carbon build-un-the notprat enemy of old fashioned plags-actually makes fuel juniters perform better. Carbon becomes an additional carrier for the igniter's big jet Hame.

So there you have a third saving. One set of fuel igniters will last the life of your car!

Invented To Save Air Force Lives-Now They Can Save You Money

Jet-Fire Fuel laniters were first developed to save airmen's lives, During World War II, there were times when more men were killed by spark " in malfunction than by enemy action. A fa.areproof replacement was needed, and Fuel Igniters did the job. Both the Navy and Air Force have approved them for jet engine use.

Now at last they have been modified for automobile use. They won't save your life, but they can save you big money-up to $100 a year with ordinary driving.

Some day, all cars may come equipped with Fuel leniters like these. But why wait when you can install a set yourself now. Just mail the coupon with the make and model of your cut, and we'll rush you a set with full instructions. Just $12.80 per set of 8 ppd., $9.60 per set of é ppd.

WORLD'S FIRST EFFORTLESS EXERCISER!

Perfected by a leading physician—to streamline your body (as much as 3 inches lost from walst, and 5 inches lost from hips, without diet, in limited medical tests described in box to right), and strengthen your heart-all in just two minutes a day!

Yes, this revolutionary new exerciser is so easy to use that you may not believe it could possibly do you any good when you first try it.

Yet it is designed to make you look reurs younger-slimmer and taller and stronger -- virtually overnight. And especially to whisk away that "Middle-Age Stomuch" and "Middle-Age Legs"-in far less time every day than it takes you to smoke a single cigarette.

And-most important of all-IT MAKES YOUR BODY AS STRONG AND HEALTHY INSIDE AS OUT! Totally different - far more effective than mere Isometrica, in just two minutes a day it gives your heart and longs the work-out they so desperately need, Starts your blood llowing strong and hard again. Cleanses, your circulation. Tones up your heart muscles. Pours new oxygen into your blood stream—so that you may actually SOAR WITH ENERGY the entire rest of that

Here's how incredibly easy it is, Here's why two thrilling minutes, this new doctor's way, may give your hody as much henefit-luside and out-us a FULL HALF HOUR, the old sweat-and-strain-way. . .

Makes Health-Building. Body-Molding Exercise SO QUICK AND EASY THAT YOU CAN STICK TO IT FOR GOOD.

Quite frankly, the development of this EFFORTLESS EXERCISER is based on this simple fact: That every single man and woman in America needs the right kind of exercise every single day-but fust doesn't how the time or energy to sweatand strain for it the old fashioned way.

Everyone realizes, of course, that UN-DER-EXERCISE makes most men and our time. The hig problem, therefore, is to tone up your hody . . . tegain that last energy . . . BROADEN those vital heart atteries make your heart PUMP RARDER THAN USUAL . . AND DO IT EVERY DAY -but this time, in just Sixty Seconds For Your Upper Body. Sixty Seconds For Your Lower Body.

Here's how this EFFORTLESS EXER-CISER does this for you:

It looks, of course, like a huge clothes pin. It is ultimately simple—feady to go the instant you take it out of the box nothing more than a single steel spring with handles. Therefore, it is impossible to break-needs no skill, ablifty, strength to use at nll.

Is is, in fact, so gentle that it can be used by any normal man or woman un to ninety years of age in complete safety.

Here's all you do: Simply release the snap at the bottom of the EXERCISER, that holds the handles together. Immediately, the handles will start to spread apart in your hands. Now simply reach up and close the handles together, till your palms touch. Then let them open again. And then reach up and close them.

THAT'S ALL THERE IS TO IT! YOU are simply opening and closing the EXER-CISER in front of your body. Once again -the first time you perform this motion. you will think it is absurd. It is simply too fast . . . too gentle . . . 100 easy to do!

But then-as you do five of these motions . . . ten of these motions . . . twenty

A SPECIAL NOTE FOR WOMEN!

Squeeze away your hirs and tummy! Firm up your bustline-straighten your posture-take inches off the appearance of your hips, thighs, waistline, And put a glow in your complexion doing it that no connetic on earth can ever match.

Your tape mensure will tell you: though not a single masculine muscle appears anywhere on your body, you'll have de-veloped a HIDDEN MUSCLE-GIRDLE that you never take off-that controls your figure at all times, even when you're completely relaxed, Prove it yourself, untirely at our risk, TODAY, of these simple motions -- you will notice a transformation beginning to spread through your entire upper body. In the first thirty seconds alone, THIS is what you will realize-

A Full Inch Seems To Have Disappeared From Your Waistline in The First 30 Seconds Alone!

YOUR SHOULDERS AUTOMATI-CALLY MOVE BACK, Every time you open and close this EFFORTLESS EX-ERCISER, you are working against the tension of its steel spring. Although that tension is purposely designed to be so gentle you hardly feel it, you will notice that your shoulders react to it immediately -that they are automatically moved forward . . . automatically thrust back and strengthened.

Yes, at the close of every one of these gentle movements, you are automatically standing at attention-with your entire standing to discuss the standing of hody raised to its full height—standing of you are a soldier stand or a football player . . . or (i) you are u woman) as a bullerina stands.

And at exactly the same time—

2. YOUR CHEST AUTOMATICALLY EXPANDS FORWARD, YOUR WAIST,
LINE AUTOMATICALLY PULLS IN. Now look at yourself sidewars in a mirror. Notice that as your shoulders move back, your chest pushes out to compensate for them, and your stomach pulls in to support it. You are not thinking about your waist nutries at all-but they are moving in . . . tightening up . . . leaving only air where flab was just seconds before.

But now comes the real payoff:

3. YOUR HEART AUTOMATICALLY
BEGINS TO PUMP HARDER. YOUR LUNGS AUTOMATICALLY BREATHE DEEPER. This is your true goal. For you are going to do these simple, gentle, circular motions for exactly one minute every day for your upper body. Although they are effortless in the beginning, they take enough work in that one minute to MAKE YOUR HEART WAKE UP AND COME ALIVE AGAIN!

At the end of that first thirty seconds, you'll see the results you wanted (and your ductor has wanted) for years. Your lungs will be breathing deeply-good clean oxycharging them for the entire day. Your face will be flushed and glowing: you'll have a better "facial treatment" than $20 could buy you at a beauty parior. And, above all, YOUR HEART WILL BE SENDING BLOOD SURGING THROUGH EVERY ARTERY IN YOUR BODY! Feel your pulse. It's heating half again as fast as it was a minute before!

And this is exactly what that doctor wants to get from you! He wants to move that heart toto juli gear -- AT LEASI

ONCE A DAY! To flush polsons out of won Plond stream posters on or or STRETCH those arteries ... make them tougher, smoother, MORE ELASTIC ... AND PERHAPS EVEN BUILD AND THER THIRTY OR EVEN FORTY YEARS OF YOUTH AND HEALTH INTO YOUR BODY!

Far Better Than A Portable Rowing Machine-To Make Your Hips and Thirts Look Younger . . . Stronger . . . Longer!

Now you do the same thing for your hips, legs and dughs. You simply sit down on the door . . . attach the straps on the handles to your feet . . . and again make simple circular closing motions with the EXERCISER - this time with your feet,

Again, the first one or two motions are so easy that you simply can't believe they're doing you any good, But then you nutice the muscles of your abdomen automotically beginning to pull in and tighten. You feel the driving muscles of your legs tense and then relax and then tense again with every motion - putting new power and standa into those legs that will keep you sipping along all day and night!

You will also notice-in that first min-

Our Favorite Jokes

by Gregg Lewis and Gus Christy

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gregg Lewis and Gus Christy, known in show business as the Mad Greeks, have been lifelong friends. Their mothers arrived from Greece abound the same ship and settled in Chicago where the boys were raised. The boys started entertaining in grade school by playing the harmonica, and by the time they reached high school they regarded themselves as veteran comics.

After high school Gregg served in the Air Force while Gus entered the Army. Discharged, they teamed up again, started out playing benefits and small tank towns, gradually worked their way up the rungs of show busi-

Lewis and Christy in the past six years have played most of the leading nite spots throughout the country: the Chase Hotel in St. Louis, the Americana in Miami, the Town Casino in Buffalo, the entire Playboy Club circuit as well as appearing on Ed Sullivan's TV program and other variety shows. Herewith their favorite tunnies:

We have a friend who doesn't know too much about history. He thought the Bay of Pigs was a collection of his old girl friends.

In our opinion the best birth control device is ugliness.

We have another friend who came from a very large family. His folks had only enough money to educate two-so they went.

There was a sudden knock at the door, and the fellow turned to his girl friend and said, "Who's that?"

The girl replied, "That's my other boy friend.

The guy replied, "Quick, where is the back

The girl answered, "There isn't one." The guy said, "Where would you like one?"

We once played a country club that was so far out in the woods it was reviewed in Field and Stream.

A woman driver in Chicago parked her car in front of a supermarket. She forgot to put on her emergency brake, and her car slammed into a policeman's patrol car.

"Why didn't you put your emergency on?" the officer demanded angrify.

"Emergency?" she replied, "Since when is buying a pound of butter an emergency?"

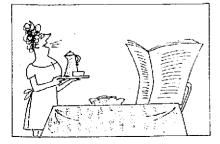

We once had a secretary who was beautiful but dumb. In fact she was so dumb that she thought the English Channel was the one on TV which showed British pictures.

When we were out in Hollywood a few weeks ago we heard about the actor who was despised by every member of the crew from the director on down. One afternoon the director said to the actor, "In this next scene you will jump from the cliff into the lake."

The actor looked at the cliff, 500 feet high, and at the lake which was so shallow it was practically empty.

"To hell with that," he objected. "The water in that lake is only three inches deep."

"Naturally," said the director, "We don't want you to drown."

What do YOU mean by BELIEVE"?

God. It is hard, in fact, not to

For instinct, and the wonders of the universe . . . almost force a man to say "I believe,"

But we have much more certain reasons for our faith. We have, in fact, positive knowledge concerning the nature of God ... the things we must believe about Him ... the way we must live to fulfill the purpose for which He created us. We have this sure knowledge on the word of God Himself.

God would, indeed, be an inscrutable mystery if we tried to understand Him through the workings of our limited human intelligence. But we can understand Him through the truths He has revealed concerning Himself and our duties toward Him.

The Apostles' Creed, for example, is not merely a pious prayer invented by men. It is a summary of divine truths revealed by God for our understanding and guidance. It is not something which we are free to believe only in part, or to interprer in support of a creed of our own invention.

As far as Catholics are concerned the Apostles' Creed sums up our arritude toward God and

It is easy to believe there is a our religion. We believe, as the Creed says, not only in God, the Father, but "in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord. Who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary ..." We believe that Christ died for our redemption...that He arose from the dead ... that "He shall come to judge the living and the dead," We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Holy Catholic Church, the Communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.

> We believe these things because God told us so. And because we believe them, our Faith ... and our hope for everlasting life with God ... are founded not merely upon a vague and general belief, but upon absolute certainty. As we see it, the words "I believe" in the Apostles' Creed* might just as well be "I know!"

If you want a clearer and better understanding of the revealed truths contained in the Apostles' Creed...and their importance to your own spiritual life...write today for our interesting pamphlet which we will send you free. And nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet No. PR-30.

Rustler's Round Steak

By Beth Merriman

PARADE FOOD EDITOR

If you've about exhausted your repertoire of barbecue recipes, you'll welcome this new cookout suggestion for Rustler's Round Steak. The secret ingredient, basil, is added to the marinade and scattered over the coals to impart an aromatic flavor. With the steak serve Macaroni Salad*, and round out the menu with mixed sweet pickles, sliced tomatoes, garlic bread, blueberry pie, coffee.

Rustler's Round Steak

1'package instant meat marinade

²/s cup tomato sauce

1 garlic clove, minced

1 teaspoon sweet basil, divided

2¹/₂ to 3 lbs. top or bottom round, or rump steak, cut 1-inch thick

In a shallow pan, thoroughly blend instant meat marinade, tomato sauce, garlic and ½ teaspoon sweet basil. Place meat in marinade. Pierce all surfaces thoroughly and deeply with a fork. Marinate 15 minutes, turning several times. Use remaining marinade for basting. Toss remaining sweet basil on coals. Place meat on barbecue grill about 1 or 2 inches above glowing coals. (Coals are ready when gray, shot with a ruddy glow.) Grill a total of 12 to 15 minutes for rare, basting and turning frequently. To serve, carve across grain of meat in thin slices. Makes 6 servings.

*Macaroni Salad

1 medium green pepper, diced

1 cup sliced celery

12 large stuffed olives, sliced

1 small Bermuda onion, cut into rings

7/4 cup snipped dill

1 tablespoon snipped parsley

3/4 cup mayonnaise

1/2 cup chili sauce

Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly. Serve on crisp salad greens. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

HERE ARE NEW IDEAS FOR HOME AND FAMILY B BY PETER DRYDEN

Bike radio-headlight: To be available late this month, this combination unit (above) could be a welcome companion for the cyclist in the family. It consists of 6-transistor AM radio which operates on one 9-volt battery—and a a headlight that operates on two standard D cells, throws a 30" circle of light, and has a reflective surface to add to safety. You can attach the 2-lb unit to handlebars with a simple self-locking bracket. $10.95. Westing-house, Dept.PP, 200 Park Ave., New York, N.Y.

Plating enamel: A quick way to refinish tarnished door knobs, switch plates, hinges and other hardware is provided by a brush-on copper-plating enamel. The enamel is also available in chrome. A 1-oz. bottle of either: $1. Gay, Dept. PP, Box 53, Cedar Grore, N. J.

Automatic egg cooker: Pop up to 8 eggs into this new appliance (above), set the thermostat control dial, and it will prepare the eggs as you want them—soft, hard or poached—and flash a light when they're ready. It's said to balance heat to the number of eggs, produce consistent results. $19.95. Salton, Inc., Dept. PP, 519 E. 72d St., New York, N.Y. 10021.

Something new in a chain saw: This one, said to be the world's smallest and lightest, weighs only 6½ lhs., measures 7" x 9½" x 7", yet, the manufacturer claims, can cut through an 8" log in 6 seconds. You can operate and store it almost anywhere, use it for building duck blinds, cutting holes for ice fishing, and around the house for sawing rough lumber, pruning vines and trees, clearing brush, cutting firewood. Look Great for School

BY VIRGINIA POPE PARADE FASHION EDITOR

If the little girls in your family need a reason to rush back to school this fall, take them clothes shopping. Second-graders and their older sisters have never had a more becoming collection of back-to-school fashions to choose from. Newsiest is the Nehru style, of course, but not to be overlooked are snug-waisted frocks, bonded knits, leather-like vinyl ponchos and jumpers with long-sleeved blouses. For after-school partying, there are frothy cottons with ruffles and eyelet embroidery.

Floating on a cushion of air, 168-ton hovercraft will ferry 30 cars and 254 people across the English Channel at 80 mph.

THE ARK THAT FLIES

by Harland Manchester

ast spring, in a hangar on the Isle of Wight in the English Channel, I saw workmen putting the finishing touches on an incredible vehicle. A paneake-like craft 130 feet long with a 78-foot beam, it looked like a cross between a Mississippi steamboat and a public garage. Loaded with 30 cars and 254 people, it will weigh 168 tons. Yet, start its motors and this ungainly ark will take off and fly through the air about ten feet above the surface of the water at 80 miles an hour.

Call it what you will-a ship, a bus or a plane—this is the newest and biggest hovercruft, one of four sister craft, the first of which will enter ferry service across the English Channel this summer. Four big airplane propellers drive this revolutionary amphibian forward. Suspended above the waves on a moving air cushion maintained by down-draft fans, and free of the buffeting drag which slows up surface ships, it makes the 30mile trip in about half an hour, as compared with 90 minutes by boat. Such a ferry can ride over land or water without wheels, landing gear, conventional dock or harbor. Hinged ramps fore and aft let automobiles embark and disembark at a seaside parking lot. Then the air cushion builds up and the craft slowly rises "like an elephant getting to its feet," as one engineer put it. It will climb a 10 percent grade from a standing start (a stiffer slope once running), and can cope with ten-foot waves. In case of emergency it will sink to the surface and float like a raft.

This versatile craft is only one of many types of ACVs (Air Cushion Vehicles) which have been built during the last ten years—in England, France, Germany, Soviet Russia, the United States, Japan and Canada. The ACV's recognized inventor is Britain's Christopher S. Cockerell, a Cambridge-trained engineer who in the 1950's, seeking some way to make boats go faster, hit upon the idea of having them float on a cushion of air.

How he did it

He rigged up various devices which showed some promise. Finally he took two inverted tin cans, one resting inside the other, and blew air through a hole in the top of the outer can. This formed a circular curtain of air which created and kept trapped an inner compressed air cushion. His model craft rose from the floor with surprisingly little power. Cockerell built improved models, which impressed Britain's National Research Development Corp. Eventually they offered him financial backing for his projection.

cct. The result was a 30-foot pioneer AGV which caused a worldwide sensation with its successful cross-Channel trial run in the summer of 1959.

Many improvements have been made since that first hovercraft. Most important: a flexible rubberized skirt, added around the outside of the flat bottom to help imprison the air. It brushes harm-Jessly on the water's surface and reduces the power needed to maintain pressure. In overland tests, however, the skirt sometimes snagged on upright objects so its hem was fitted with "fingers" which would sweep aside without catching. Inner skirts were also added to control the airflow in the efficient, weight-lifting ring shape, and later, heavy canvas keels and other dividers to keep pressurized air in several compartments.

Early ACVs could travel only over smooth surfaces. Today's high-riding skirted ships can deal with almost any surface, in any weather. Peter Lamb, chief test pilot of the British Hovercraft Corp., has flown over three-foot blocks of broken ice on a Finnish lake, for instance, without trouble. Many inhabited Finnish islands are completely cut off in spring when the ice is breaking up, and ACVs may be the answer in medical or other emergencies. In northern Canada, also, ships have been successfully tested over rivers, ice and snow.

Other types of air-cushion vehicles are now appearing. Two years ago, five young British engineers founded Hovermarine, Ltd., and designed a new craft flanked with rigid sidewalls instead of skirts. The sidewalls, which draw only a foot of water, support little of the vessel's weight, which is mostly held up by the air cushion. The advantage: they make the craft easier to control in crowded waters and allow the use of silent, submerged propellers, instead of the noisy airplane props.

Leave little wake

By the end of summer, two of these 65-passenger craft will be in regular service between Portsmouth and Ryde, on the Isle of Wight, completing in ten minutes a trip which takes an ordinary ferryboat half an hour. Another is on the way to Nassau for service linking Caribbean islands. Air-cushion craft are winning favor on inland waterways because they leave little wake to wash away the banks of rivers and canals, as compared with other vessels.

The railroad industry, too, is feeling the effect of the versatile air cushion. Last April, on a test track near Gometla-Ville, France, I had a ride aboard a wheel-less passenger train designed by a brilliant French engineer, Jean Bertin. Blowers in each car forced air downward onto a flat concrete track astride a central elevated rail, creating an air blanket a fraction of an inch thick which prevents contact between train and roadbed. Result: a smooth ride, no wear, and speeds up to 186 miles an hour. Bertin's "Aemtrain" has already traveled more than 13,000 miles on its special four-mile track, and carried 6000 passengers. Indeed, tests have been so successful that the French government has authorized first steps toward the construction of an air-cushion passenger line between Paris and Orléans.

The air-riding train is only one of Bertin's projects. Besides two 100-passenger air-cushion ferries ready to enter service in Mediterranean ports this month, he has designed an air-cushion truck. Ordinary wheels provide steering and propulsion, but most of its three-tron load is supported by "air pads" under the body. The amazing monster crawls easily over logs and rocks, crosses swamps without miring, paddles across rivers and can climb a steep bank. Bertin sees a future for it in underdeveloped countries which cannot afford surfaced highways.

Bertin's weight-lifting air pads also came in handy when a French manufacturer wanted to ship a 22-ton textile machine to Puerto Rico. The pads were attached, air hissed through a hose, lifted the machine and it was eased gently to the deck of a ship. On arrival it rode on air into the factory and was placed in position.

ish hovercraft venture is the "hoverbed," a device for supporting severely burned patients on a cushion of warm, sterile air, to prevent irritation and hasten healing. A skirt adapted from the hovercraft is hung around the patient's body to contain the air, which is pumped in from a compressor truck outside the hospital

Also on the drawing boards are plans for a crop-spraying hovercraft, and a kind of wheel-less wheelbarrow. Even hovercraft kiddiecars are being produced in several countries. Two young British engineers, Geoffrey Hatton and Richard Bass, are turning out tot-size air-cushton buggies at the rate of 100 a week. Each brightly-colored car is six feet long, weighs 80 pounds, and is propelled by a lawn-mower-type engine. It goes no faster than a walk, is rated safe for children, and sells for about $350.

For amusement parks

A stronger version has been produced for use in amusement parks. It costs $420, and can be coin operated. Hatton and Bass also build larger, faster cars which will carry one or two adults. These vehicles have simple controls and are easy to drive-after you master the knack of using "body English" to help turn

They have their sights on even bigger game: they are currently testing a prototype amphibious craft intended for sea and beach sports.

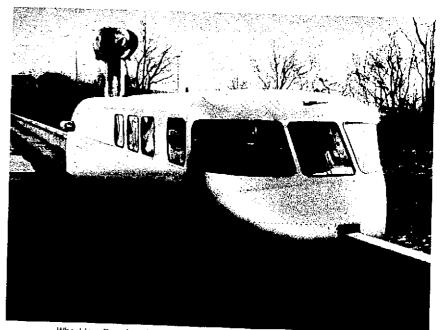

Soon after the first hovercraft slid down the launching ramp, the idea crossed the Atlantic. A division of Textron, Inc., Bell Aerosystems, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., under license from British Hovercraft, has committed a large factory to production of air-cushion vehicles of several sizes and types. Three British ACVs, purchased by Bell and converted to military use, have been outstandingly successful in the U.S. Navy operations over South Vietnam's Mekong Delta. Armor-plated and equipped with radar and machine guns, these 40-foot gunboats ride four feet above the surface, plowing through undergrowth and beating aside bushes six to ten feet high. They are fast and effective in reconnaissance, rescue and transport work. One pilot calls them "the only beasts except the water buffalo which can operate in such terrain." Bell has recently built three more gumboats for the Army, which are now in service in Vietnam. These have wide doors through which jeeps can be loaded, and flat decks for troops or

Bell plans other ACV uses: an aircushion landing craft which can carry troops far into the interior at 60 miles an hour; an air-skimmer coastal commuter service; even a 4000- to 5000-ton ocean transport about 300 feet long, which would cross the Atlantic in 35 hours-five times faster than ships that float. Last year the Department of Commerce and the Navy awarded $375,000 in design contracts to three companies for the development of such ships. And Bell now has a contract to work on a wheel-less, air-cushion landing gear for the C-119 Flying Boxcar cargo plane.

The air-cushion concept has gone far in nine years," Christopher Cockerell told me at the International Hovercraft Conference in Southampton, England, last spring. "But we have yet to explore all the possibilities. It is much too early for the principle to congeal in a few types."

Cockerell shouldn't worry. There are already about as many plans as there were automobiles in 1910. Even now it is apparent that Jean Bertin is hardly exaggerating when he says, "We can transport almost anything, anywhere with air-cushion suspension.'

BOOK-DIVIDENDS: A library-building plan every reading family should know about

THE EXPERIMENTAL MEMBERSHIP SURgested here will not only prove, by your own actual experience, how effectually membership in the Book-of-the-Month Club can keep you from missing, through oversight or overbusyness, books you fully intend to read: it will also demonstrate another important advantage enjoyed by members: Book-Dividends. Through this unique profit-sharing system Book-of-the-Month Club members can regularly receive valuable library volumes -at a small fraction of their retail pricessimply by buying books they would buy even if they were not members.

If you continue after this experimental membership, you will earn, for every Club Selection or Alternate you buy, a Book-Dividend Credit. Each Credit, upon payment of a nominal sum, often only $1.00 or $1.50somewhat more for unusually expensive volumes or sets-will entitle you to a Book-Dividend which you may choose from over a hundred fine library volumes whose retail prices now average $7. This is probably the most economical means ever devised for building a well-rounded personal library. Since its inauguration, nearly $438,000,000 worth of books (retail value) has been received by Book-of-the-Month Club members through this unique plan.
